FUSIONISTS ADMIT THEY HAVE LOST COUNTY TO REPUBLICANS BY A VERY LARGE PLURALITY

Plummer Will Have a Lead of About 27,000 Over Berry—Kirker Leads Ticket. Clark Minority Commissioner.

Almost complete returns from the election of Tuesday show that the Republicans won a splendid victory in the county. J. Lee Plummer, for state treasurer, will have a plurality of about 27,000, and the entire local ticket is elected by pluralities ranging from over 6,500 for William B. Kirker for prothonotary, to something less than 2,000 for John A. Fairman for recorder, and Franklin P. Booth for controller. James A. Clark, Democrat, is the minority county commissioner by a safe plurality over Alexander Dempster, Citizens.

Below is given a table of the Plummer and Berry vote in the county, with these districts to hear from: Third and Fourth wards of Braddock, one ward of Crafton, one ward of Millvale, two wards of Sheraden and these townships: First of Braddock, third of Chartiers, Seventh of Chartiers, Fawn, First and Second of Forward, First of Finley, Franklin, Marshall, Third and Seventh of Mifflin, First and Second of West Deer:

	Pgh.	Ally.	McK.	Boros.	Twps.
Berry	20,706	6,506	1,602	8,810	3,059
Plummer	30,986	10,995	3,142	14,588	7,121

Plummer over Berry, 26,049.

The following table shows the vote received by the candidates in the three cities.

Controller—
Franklin P. Booth, R.-L	23,697	9,237	1,553
Robert J. Cunningham, D.-C	26,943	8,073	2,585

Owing to the rush of people at the prothonotary's office to secure the returns yesterday, it was impossible to get complete returns of the country districts. Representatives of the country districts made these totals of the vote cast for prothonotary, recorder and controller in the three country legislative districts. In the Sixth district, with 23 precincts to hear from, the vote was: Kirker, 9,140; Mentel, 5,988; Fairman, 8,133; O'Neil, 6,483; Booth, 7,793; Cunningham, 6,169. In the Seventh district, with 12 districts missing, the vote was: Kirker, 5,222; Mentel, 3,035; Fairman, 5,099; O'Neil, 3,232; Booth, 4,528; Cunningham, 3,590. In the Eighth district, outside of McKeesport, with eight districts to hear from, the vote was: Kirker, 4,919; Mentel, 3,031; Fairman, 4,624; O'Neil, 3,087; Booth, 4,576; Cunningham, 3,033. O'Neil admits his defeat in the county by 1,800. Clark will have a plurality of upward of 2,000 over Dempster for commissioner.

The candidates elected Tuesday are all Republicans, with the exception of James A. Clark, the minority member of the board of county commissioners, who is a Democrat, and has been chosen for a fourth term. The winners are James S. Young, judge of common pleas court No. 2; William B. Kirker, prothonotary; Robert E. Stone, register; John A. Fairman, recorder; William Dodds, clerk of courts; George Z. Hosack, treasurer; Charles B. Price, I. K. Campbell and James A. Clark, commissioners; Franklin P. Booth, controller, and William H. Guy, poor director.

Through all the bitter contests beginning in 1902, the 28,000 Republican voters supporting the city organization have stood like a solid army. Tuesday there were no desertions and some recruits. In Pittsburgh the Republicans carried 12 of the 30 wards. Those won were the First, Eleventh, Fourteenth, Seventh, Eighteenth, Twenty-second, Twenty-sixth, Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, Thirty-first, Thirty-second and Thirty-seventh.

Just in passing it might be mentioned that John B. Larkin lives in the Eighth district of the Fourteenth ward. The division returned a majority for Plummer and the whole Republican county ticket. The Fourteenth ward was carried by the Republicans by majorities ranging from 175 to 200.

The Citizens received a staggering blow in the East End wards. They had been spending money like water for weeks and figured the purchasable vote could be counted on to give them a good lead. The decent people went to the polls and the machine was practically wiped out.

While the Bigelow machine orators endeavored to show the people were not interested in the kind of administration the citizens of Pittsburgh and Allegheny were receiving, and the issue foreign to the county contest, the votes show just the opposite. In Allegheny the honest voter refused to be led astray by the mass of rot concerning the Enterprise bank failure. While throughout the state the collapse of that bank made many votes for Berry such was not the case at home where the situation was understood. Plummer's plurality in Allegheny was over 4,000.

Alleghenians were sick of the Wyman machine. They wanted to strike a blow that would forever wipe it from the political map. The blow fell with telling effect. The Wyman machine is bursted and demoralized.

In Pittsburgh the machine counted on a majority of 7,800. The lead it did secure fell thousands below that mark, and much of it was undoubtedly procured by illegal means. Pittsburghers will in February complete the work begun Tuesday to secure good government. The

JEWISH MERCHANT BADLY INJURED BY FIREMAN

"This Is Orders from Wallace," Shouts Joseph Haley, According to Abromovitz.

Aaron B. Abromovitz, a Jewish merchant of 12 Logan street, who was one of the Republican workers in the Fourth district of the Seventh ward, was the victim of an onslaught on account of which he has made information before Alde man John A. Martin, charging Joseph Haley, a city fireman, with aggravated assault. He claims that Haley said he was attacking him by order of "Buck" Wallace.

Abromovitz says that Haley's attack was the result of a suit Abromovitz had entered on election day against Haley and Police Captain John Cullen, Jr., charging them with aggravated assault and battery, another Jew, Abraham Brohdy, being the victim in that case.

The first attack, according to Abromovitz, took place in the polling place of the Fourth district of the Seventh ward, during the attempt of Brohdy to vouch for the residence of a voter who lived with him. Haley was a watcher at the precinct and is alleged to have thrown Brohdy out, whereupon Capt. Cullen hit him with his handy billy and put him under arrest. Abromovitz claims he saw Cullen's act and promptly entered information before Alderman Martin.

BRAZIL AGAIN IN REVOLUTIONS' TURMOIL

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BUENOS AYRES, ARGENTINA, VIA GALVESTON, TEX., Nov. 8.—A revolution has just broke out in Rio De Janeiro against the Brazilian government. It is both military and naval. The entire garrison of the capital has rebelled, and the squadron in the harbor has sided with the revolutionists and threatens to bombard the city.

Hundreds of persons have been killed in encounters in the streets.

One dispatch says that the trouble began with a mutiny of the garrison of the fort or Santa Cruz, due to the ill-treatment of a sergeant by the officer in command. Col. Pedro Ino was arrested and Major Freire and an ensign were killed. Troops were sent there to quell the mutiny.

At the Brazilian legation there is no news of the outbreak, but Brazilian residents here say that a revolution would not surprise them, as the chiefs of the last revolutionary attempt were recently pardoned, the principal leader being Lauro Sodre, who was very active.

Fire has destroyed the promenade along the beach and many chalets at Mare del Plata, a highly fashionable summer resort on the Atlantic, have been damaged. The loss is estimated at 500,000 pesos. It is asserted that the fire was of incendiary origin.

WARSHIPS FOR SAN DOMINGO.

Revolution Threatened and This Government Takes Steps to Thwart the Plot.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(Special.)—To protect Americans during the incipient revolutionary movement at Macoris, Santo Domingo, the state department has requested the navy department to have a warship sent to that port. Rear Admiral Bradford, commanding the Carribean squadron at Guantenamo, has been ordered to send a war vessel.

The state department has received reports that this disturbance is fomented by New York interests which have at heart the defeat of the Dominican treaty.

VESSELS STRIKE MINES.

Fifteen Lives, Including Two Europeans, Are Lost in the Destruction of One Craft.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 8.—Officers of the steamer Pleiades, which arrived here today from the Orient, reported that several vessels have been destroyed by floating mines in the China sea. The Hsi-ho struck a mine near Wei-Hai-Wei. Fifteen persons were drowned. Messrs. Mauchan and Muir, engineers of Shanghai, were among the drowned.

Admiral Necogatoff is reported as saying that he did not intend to return to Russia at once, but would first visit France and the United States.

SUSPENDS THE LICENSE OF NEW YORK LIFE

JEFFERSON CITY, MO., Nov. 8.—W. D. Vandiver, state superintendent of insurance, tonight suspended the certificate of authority of the New York Life Insurance Company to do business in this state.

Mr. Taft to Arrive Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—A cablegram from Panama, received at the war department, states that Secretary Taft, who left Colon yesterday, will arrive at Norfolk, November 11, reaching Washington the 13th.

ADMINISTRATION BREAKS PROMISE TO WORKMEN

Citizens Leaders Renig on Pledge of $5,000 to Entertain Own Invited Guests.

"Mayor Hays and councils extended an invitation to the American Federation of Labor to hold its silver jubilee convention in this city, and now positively refuse to do anything toward entertaining the delegates. Mayor Hays, Controller Larkin and Director Bigelow assured me there would not be the slightest trouble in securing a city appropriation of $5,000 to entertain the visitors, and Controller Larkin personally assured Samuel Gompers that the necessary financial help would surely be forthcoming. When the Citizens gang heard that I was in favor of the election of William Dodds as clerk of courts on the Republican ticket they flatly refused to give the American Federation of Labor any recognition nor contribute a penny toward its entertainment, though they invited the organization to this city."

This statement was made yesterday afternoon by Uriah Bellingham, vice president of the United Mine Workers, who is treasurer of the entertainment committee of local labor organizations who are endeavoring to entertain the 600 delegates to the 25th annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, which convenes here next Monday. The Federation was organized in Pittsburgh and a great celebration is expected. The delegates will not only represent every state in the union, but Canada, England and other foreign countries as well.

No Arrangements for Entertainment.

Mr. Bellingham stated yesterday afternoon that Samuel Gompers had been making inquiries as to the form of entertainment that would be provided, and that he was compelled to write him yesterday that absolutely no arrangements have been made to entertain the visitors. It had been decided to hold a great banquet in one of the leading hotels, and speakers had already been invited to make addresses of welcome and to discuss important subjects bearing on capital and labor. It had been taken for granted that the city administration would live up to its promise.

Not only has the administration refused to carry out its agreement in contributing $5,000 towards entertainment, but is charging the local labor organizations $400 for the use of Old city hall during the convention, and $60 will be the bill for decorating the hall. Bellingham, as well as other labor leaders, were emphatic in their denouncement of the administration yesterday, and pointed to the fact that councils appropriated $10,000 towards the entertainment of the Filipino band that visited Pittsburgh, and gladly contributed $5,000 toward the entertainment of the rivers and harbors commission.

Instead of being civilly entertained, it is the belief of the local entertainment committee that the American Federation of Labor will receive the scantiest respect and entertainment in Pittsburgh that it has received since its organization 25 years ago.

Will Do the Best They Can.

Individual local organizations of the American Federation of Labor, such as the carpenters, plumbers and other unions and the Iron City Trades council are now making eleventh hour efforts to entertain the delegates by having each of the organizations set unconflicting nights in which to act as hosts, while several of the local organizations are trying to raise money to entertain the delegates as a whole some one night during their stay.

The local entertainment committee has been placed in a most embarrassing position on account of the treachery of the

CASTLE CALLED INTO COURT TO PROVE CHARGES

Robert McAfee Enters Suit for Slander Against Him.

Secretary Wants Speedy Trial and Will Show Statements Are Slanderous.

W. B. RODGERS FILES SUIT

Robert McAfee, secretary of the commonwealth, has entered a $25,000 slander suit against Homer L. Castle. The case will be fought to a finish and the Alleghenian will secure a vindication.

Castle was on the stump for Berry, the Prohibition-Democratic candidate for treasurer. During the campaign he made many charges against men in connection with the placing of state deposits in return for loans. In several of his speeches Castle made numerous charges affecting the integrity and honesty of Mr. McAfee as a public official and private citizen. Mr. McAfee gave notice through his attorney, William B. Rogers, that he would prosecute Castle after election.

Yesterday Mr. Rodgers filed the suit in common pleas court No. 2. Mr. McAfee is hopeful for a speedy trial of the case and will prove the falsity of every charge made against him by Castle. The statement filed by Mr. McAfee is as follows:

Statement of Case.

Robert McAfee, the plaintiff, files this statement of his cause of action against Homer L. Castle, the above named defendant, and thereupon the said plaintiff, by W. B. Rodgers, his attorney, complains that whereas he, the said plaintiff, is a good, true, honest and upright citizen of the commonwealth, and at the time of the grievances hereinafter alleged was an officer of this commonwealth, holding the position of secretary of the commonwealth. And prior to being appointed secretary of the commonwealth he held the office of banking commissioner of this commonwealth, which is an office established by law, and the said commissioner is the head of a department of the state government known as the "banking department," and he held said office of banking commissioner from April 12, 1903, until July 27, 1905, at which later date he resigned said office of banking commissioner to accept that of secretary of the commonwealth.

The said plaintiff further complains and says that in private life, as well as in the official position which he has held, and particularly as banking commissioner, he performed the duties of said office with fidelity and honesty, and did not use his official position for his personal advantage, nor for granting nor compelling, or seeking to procure for any person, body of persons or corporations, any advantage or benefit, by reason of said office.

Milton Speech.

Nevertheless, the said defendant, desiring to injure the said plaintiff in his good name and reputation, and to charge upon him a violation of his duty and of law, and improper and corrupt action in the discharge of his duties of the said office of banking commissioner, did speak and utter false, scandalous, malicious and defamatory words in the presence and hearing of divers persons, of, and concerning and referring to this plaintiff, namely:

First—In a public speech, made October 30, 1905, in the town of Milton, Northumberland county, this state, in the hearing and presence of a large number of persons, the said defendant used the words and substance as follows:

"Robert McAfee, now secretary of the commonwealth, has been helping Bull Andrews to hold his railroad stock in Pittsburgh banks, under penalty of the immediate withdrawal of the state time deposits."

Thereby charging and intending to charge the said plaintiff with improperly and corruptly controlling Pittsburgh banks for the private interests of the aforesaid Andrews, and threatening the said banks with the withdrawal of state time deposits, unless they acceded to such demands.

Second—The said defendant, in a public speech, delivered by him at New Castle, Lawrence county, Pa., in the presence and hearing of a large number of persons, on October 24, 1905, used the following false, scandalous, defamatory and malicious words of and concerning the plaintiff, in substance as follows:

New Castle and Washington.

"I said there was a bank in Allegheny—I'll make it broader, so Brother McAfee can get me coming or going. I will say there were a number of banks where McAfee practically indorsed and held the stock put in by Kennedy, Terrance and Andrews; held it there by the power of his own might and control and influence, with state deposits. I want these fellows to have a case."

The city charging that this plaintiff was in conspiracy with the said Kennedy, Terrance and Andrews to compel banks to carry their stocks and loans and that this plaintiff illegally, corruptly and improperly used his official position to accomplish said illegal and corrupt purposes.

Third—In a public speech delivered on October 26, 1905, by the defendant at Washington, Pa., in the presence and hearing of a large number of persons, the said defendant used the following false, scandalous, malicious and defamatory words, in substance as follows, of and concerning this plaintiff:

"In my speech at Greenville last night I forgot to mention my dear friend, 'Bob' McAfee. I thought they would be glad to let the matter rest, but I cannot please them. Let me suggest for their benefit, I would reiterate all I have said about my friend 'Bob.' He is one of the members of the commission that decides where the sinking fund is to be placed, and helped to sink it.

Another Milton Speech.

"They say Bob hasn't been there more than eight months. When we lost $400,000 in the Enterprise bank, Bob McAfee helped to lose it, unless he got part of it. Don't misunderstand me. I didn't say that he did."

Thereby meaning that this plaintiff was guilty of negligence in the performance of his duties, and that he, without right, illegally, improperly and corruptly obtained for his own use moneys belonging to the state of Pennsylvania.

Fourth—In the presence and hearing of one or more persons, at the town of Milton, Northumberland county, on October 30, 1905, the said defendant used the following false, scandalous, malicious and defamatory words, referring to the plaintiff, in substance as follows:

"You have only to remember that the testimony of officers of the bank is to the effect that Mr. Clark was discounting the paper of such politicians as Andrews, Terrance, Kennedy and others, without the knowledge of the bank directors, to comprehend that these men have entered into a criminal conspiracy for which they ought to answer at some bar of justice. You need only to be told that in the case of another bank of Allegheny, holding a loan of $85,000, on the strength of $100,000 deposits of state funds where the collateral was the air-line-to-nowhere stock, that when the officials of the bank, knowing that the securities were insufficient, asked to have the note drafted, after the bank examiner had turned it down, for the reason that it had no ascertainable value, that Mr. McAfee, now secretary of the commonwealth, practically forced the bank to keep this loan, on the pain of instant withdrawal of the entire deposit."

Claims $25,000 Damages.

Thereby meaning and intending to charge that this plaintiff conspired with certain parties to compel the bank therein referred to to keep a worthless loan in the said bank, upon the penalty of withdrawal of the state deposits, and thereby using his official position illegally, improperly and corruptly.

And the said plaintiff, in fact, says that each and all of the statements above referred to and made of and concerning him by the defendant, were false, and that by reason of said statement the said plaintiff has been greatly hurt and injured in his good name, fame and reputation and that he has been injured in the estimation of the people of this commonwealth, particularly with respect to the charges made against him in said statement, and affecting his official conduct. Wherefore, he, the plaintiff, claims damages in the sum of $25,000.

BERRY SAYS HE BELIEVES IN POLICY OF PUBLICITY

Declares It Will Be Part of His Business to Let People Know All About Affairs of the Treasury.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—"I believe in a policy of publicity. The state treasury is the people's treasury and they are entitled to know everything concerning it. It will be a part of my business to let the people know all about its affairs."

This was the declaration today of State Treasurer-Elect William H. Berry. Continuing he said:

"While my election is very flattering, I do not consider it for an instant in the light of a personal compliment. The basic factor in the result of yesterday is the virtue and independence of the state. When its people are fully informed, they are right. In the second place, to James M. Guffey and the Democratic organization there is due more credit than I can accord, because without their aid I could have done nothing. James M. Guffey made my campaign possible and enabled me to reach the people.

"Last, but not least, in its effect on the campaign was the wrecking of the Enterprise National bank. That catastrophe came at the psychological moment which brought home facts and records and made it possible for right-thinking men to demand an investigation."

LOOKING FOR GRACE PUTNAM.

New Society Hopes to Find a Member in Chicago—Twenty-Four Members.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—(Special.)—The Society of the Grace Putnams—formed exclusively of young women of that name and all members of Methodist church choirs—hereafter is to meet annually. Grace A. Putnam, of Moline, Ill., is now the guiding spirit of the band of that name. It is from Ohio, however, that the inquiry comes for Chicago Grace Putnams.

A year ago four Grace Putnams, not related to each other, met by chance in Lyons, N. Y. A few months later, when the society next met at Nashua, N. Y., the number of members had increased to 12. The next gathering will take place at Ashtabula, O. Israel Putnam of Revolutionary fame, is the patron saint of these Graces.

MERCHANT LOSES SUIT.

Insurance Company Wins in a Trial for Claims Resulting from a Fire.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—After a trial lasting seven days the suit of George W. Mehl, owner of a Harrisburg department store, against the London and Lancashire Insurance Company, before Judge Holland in the United States district court, was brought to a close today when the jury rendered a verdict against the claim of Mehl, who during the trial was accused by an attorney for the defendant of making a false inventory and of "deliberately setting fire to his store."

Seven other insurance companies are directly interested in the case because Mehl has made claims upon them for the amount of policies he held, aggregating $20,750. Nearly all the 58 witnesses were from Harrisburg.

ARMY OF THE CZAR IS FOR THE PEOPLE

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at St. Petersburg declares a military coup is forthcoming. He says officers of several well known regiments definitely signified their adherence to the constitutionalist movement and that the people's next ultimatum to the autocracy will find the bulk of the army at least passive.

BETTER NOW THAN ONE YEAR HENCE

ANDREWS EXPRESSES HIMSELF

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Press Building,
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.

It appears to be the opinion of the Republican leaders that a defeat yesterday was preferable to one a year hence, when a governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of internal affairs, 25 congressmen and members of the legislature are to be elected. They believe the independent voter, having registered his "kick" against something real, or imaginary, according to the point of view, will now wheel into line and resist further disintegration of the party in the state. It is conceded the next state convention will be a representative body, and that it will be subject only to majority dictation.

Col. W. R. Andrews, Republican state chairman, is the only state leader who expressed himself upon the defeat of Mr. Plummer, its cause and probable effect. Col. Andrews said:

"While the result was unexpected, it must be cheerfully accepted. I have always been an advocate of majority rule. The majority of the people have spoken, and their decision stands. It would not be proper for me to say the majority had made a mistake in electing Mr. Berry and defeating Mr. Plummer, but it is still my opinion the affairs of the state treasury would have been as wisely and properly administered by Mr. Plummer as Mr. Berry claims they will be under his supervision. Mr. Plummer is a man of the highest probity, whose private and public life are unassailable, and I deeply regret his defeat.

As Andrews Views It.

"In the general result, Pennsylvania is merely a sharer in the landslide which swept over New York, Ohio and other states Tuesday. At irregular intervals, the people of the states are possessed with the opinion the time has arrived for a revolt—that some one must be defeated. These disturbances are disappointments at the time of their occurrence, but they always clarify the atmosphere and produce a rational popular sentiment, which lasts until another outburst of similar character comes.

"The causes producing the result were more largely national than local. I recall that not long ago New York, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Kansas and other states were lost to the Republicans, but they all came back again.

"The Republican state ticket had five candidates. Only one was defeated. This in itself demonstrates the disaster was not so serious as our friends, the enemy, have attempted to portray.

"In politics, as well as in war, we have our Bull Runs, afterwards our Appomattox. If was a small-sized Bull Run which we met Tuesday, and I believe the next general election, a year hence, when a governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of internal affairs and 32 congressmen are elected, will prove to be another Republican Appomattox."

McNichol a Cheerful Loser.

Senator Penrose today remained at his hotel, declining to receive newspapermen. State Senator James P. McNichol is a cheerful loser. He was about the streets or in his office all day, and accessible visitors.

"What can I add to the returns?" inquired McNichol with a smile, when asked for an expression on the result. "Are they not entirely convincing? They were to me. The City party people had the votes, lots of them, enough to win, and that settled it. I am always willing to be quoted when I have anything of interest to say, but it seems to me the returns have eliminated any excuse for a statement on this subject."

Governor Pennypacker, who came over from Schwenksville to see his dentist, said:

"It's too late to talk about the election now. I am fully resigned."

When asked if he would have voted the straight Republican ticket, had he been a resident of Philadelphia, the governor said:

"I do not live in Philadelphia, but in Montgomery county, and I voted the straight Republican ticket there."

Durham Is Silent.

Israel W. Durham was seen as he was entering the Hotel Walton to call on Senator Penrose. He did not care to make any statement beyond the fact the result had been a surprise. When pressed for an expression on the organization's plans for the February election, he said it was too early to discuss the matter.

State Chairman Andrews, Durham, McNichol and several of their lieutenants leave tomorrow for San Lucia, Fla. Durham may remain south all winter. Chairman Andrews, who was seriously ill during the summer, is worn out by his campaign work, the strain of which he was not physically able to bear. He will be away two or three weeks. McNichol said he would be home in ten days.

This was a day of jubilation for the "reformers." Mayor Weaver this morning granted an extended audience to John Wanamaker, whose political agents and newspapers are entitled to much credit for the defeat of the Republican ticket. After Wanamaker came the committee of seventy, the committee of fourteen and the committee of nine, composed of business and professional men, who supported the administration in its fight.

Flags were carried by the visitors and they entered city hall singing and cheering, followed by hundreds attracted by the unusual demonstration. After circling the court-yard the crowd moved on the mayor. The successful City party candidates were in the procession. Mayor Weaver responded to a request for a speech, saying in part:

Gives Credit to Police.

"I am touched beyond expression by this demonstration of your loyalty. I do not think I should speak of fraud at the polls yesterday, but the police deserve all the credit I can give them. They are a noble body of men, and did their work splendidly. I believe it was the cleanest election the city of Philadelphia has ever known or has had for years."

Mr. Weaver also felicitated the commonwealth on the election of a Democrat as state treasurer.

A City party mass meeting will be held Friday night to celebrate its victory and a street parade is scheduled for some evening next week. Mayor Weaver makes public the following telegrams:

Hearty congratulations on your great victory. You have made every American your debtor.
ELIHU ROOT.

Gov. Folk's telegram read:

The message that Philadelphia sends tonight will have an influence for good for years to come. Congratulations.
JOSEPH W. FOLK.

Ex-Lieut.-Gov. L. A. Watres was here today. While Mr. Watres refused to give an interview at this time, it is safe to assume he will make a contest for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. Lieut.-Gov. William Brown of Lawrence county, is also regarded as a candidate, and there is little doubt his friends will push his canvass to a decision by the state convention.
CHESTER D. POTTER.

Louisville Has a Contest.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 8.—Managers of the Fusion party tonight announced that they had decided to contest in the courts the election of Democratic municipal officers and members of the legislature. It is alleged that in 14 precincts no election was held at all, owing to the disappearance of the election paraphernalia.

RUSSIA QUIETS DOWN AND GAZES ON A BLOODY FIELD

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 8.—Lord Rothschild of London and Jacob H. Schiff of New York have each cabled $50,000 to St. Petersburg for the relief of the Jews who suffered from the recent disturbances.

The League of Leagues has adopted another strong set of resolutions in favor of complete amnesty for "the martyrs who remain entombed in prisons or are living in exile at Archangel or in the depths of Siberia. While these heroes are not given their liberty freedom is a farce and the gallows still awaits new sacrifices."

Pobedonostseff, the retiring procurator general of the Holy synod, who is succeeded by Prince Alexis Obolensky, delivered his farewell address to the Holy synod today. There was something wonderfully impressive in the figure of the old man, defeated but with spirit unbroken. He said he had the satisfaction of knowing that throughout his long career he had been a faithful servant of the state.

The metropolitan of Moscow, Vladimir, has been summoned by the Holy synod to answer charges of inciting the Black Hundred to commit excesses.

The revolutionary wave continues to subside except in the Caucasus.

As details of what happened throughout European Russia during the upheaval arrive the story grows more revolting. In the Baltic provinces murder, riot and incendiarism prevailed.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Telegraph asserts that Count Witte has been compelled to abandon his efforts to form a cabinet composed entirely of Liberals and reformists, and to fall back on experienced officials, whose first duty will be to extinguish the revolutionary conflagration by cashiering all those officials who by connivance or otherwise are responsible for the recent outrages and massacres.

The correspondent says that Gen. Trepoff as minister of the interior, whose resignation Count Witte has repeatedly refused to accept owing to his ability in keeping the forces of disorder in check, is now likely to insist upon retiring.

In Poland even the clergy, Catholic and Protestant, participated in the manifestations in favor of the autonomy of an ancient kingdom. In Southwestern Russia barely a city or town escaped Jewish massacre.

At Homsk, Siberia, the whole population of 40,000 and the military stood by while 60 men, women and children were burned in a theater. The court house at Tomsk and the mayor's residence, where the students and revolutionists took refuge from the mob, were burned and those who tried to flee were killed in the streets.

In Moscow the social revolutionists and the Black Hundred and the Cossacks and police fought bloody battles. The descent of the butchers of Moscow, with their knives and axes, upon the students was one of the most horrible chapters but not as pitiful, however, as the attack of the Black Hundred on a procession of school children, carrying red flags. When the children sought to escape, a cordon of police barred the way and the youthful martyrs were beaten into insensibility and in some cases were actually torn to pieces.

In the Alexander garden at Moscow, Cossacks lay in ambush in the shrubbery and set upon their victims with whips. Many were beaten to death and others were barely able to crawl away.

The society of engineers has addressed an open letter to Count Witte demanding the immediate removal of all the officials responsible for the recent bloodshed and terror in the interior, especially in the Caucasus.

The Russ and other radical papers are keeping up the campaign for the removal of General Trepoff.

The resignations of Prince Hilkoff, minister of railroads, and Charles von Schwanebach, minister of agriculture, have been accepted. Both have been appointed members of the council of the empire.

Grand Duke Vladimir's resignation of the post of commander of the guard and of the military district of St. Petersburg which has been in the hands of Emperor Nicholas since the degradation of Grand Duke Cyril, his son, on account of his marriage with Grand Duchess Victoria, divorced wife of the grand duke of Hesse, is announced by the emperor today in a cool and formal manifesto, which refers briefly to Grand Duke Vladimir's appointment at the wish of Emperor Alexander III., and of his desire to resign on account of ill health. In closing, the manifesto contains the stereotyped expression of thanks for the grand duke's long services.

ODESSA, Nov. 8.—The city council has taken measures looking to the investigation of the recent massacres. The council declared its intention to prosecute those responsible for the massacres and appropriated $25,000 for that purpose.

MOSCOW, Nov. 8.—The city council today rejected a proposition to organize a city militia. Only ten votes were cast in favor of the proposition.

KHERSON, RUSSIA, Nov. 8.—Forty-seven political prisoners were liberated here today.

IRKSTUK, RUSSIA, Nov. 8.—The railroad men have returned to work and trains are now moving in all directions.

FUSIONISTS ADMIT THEY LOSE COUNTY

machine will now try to strengthen itself for the final struggle. It hopes it can again induce the Democrats to join in a fusion scheme to overthrow the desires of the decent people.

In the country districts the Republicans made a gallant fight. They found their strongest opponent in J. D. O'Neil, who was trying to re-elect himself recorder. He will lead the fusion candidates, but will fall far short of enough votes to win the prize. Robert J. Cunningham will finish next to O'Neil.

W. H. Stevenson, W. S. Guffey and George H. Stengel, who had charge of the allied anti-machine forces in the fight, are jubilant over the defeat of the Bigelow machine. They expect the final returns will show the Lincoln party contributed many votes.

Among the election stories afloat yesterday was one about the voting of two well-known men. After United States Senator P. C. Knox went to Washington he gave up his residence in the Twentieth ward. Subsequently he established it in the Fourteenth ward, making his home at the Hotel Schenley when in Pittsburgh. He was here Tuesday and went to the polls. There it was discovered that Senator Knox was not registered. The election officers knew him, but he was not on the list. W. H. Keech, who also lives at the Schenley, vouched for Mr. Knox's residence there, and his vote went into the box.

A similar experience befell Judge J. A. Evans. During the past summer Judge Evans took up his residence at the Hotel Lamont in the Twentieth ward. His name was overlooked by the register and when he went to the polls it was not listed. J. M. Arnold, proprietor of the Lamont, vouched for Judge Evans, and he cast his vote.

The scene in the prothonotary's office at the court house yesterday, when the returns from the election districts came in, was one that beggars description. The closeness of the fight brought out more than the usual crowd. Republicans, rejoicing that they had won, and fusionists, demanding confirmation of what was to many of them astounding news, packed the narrow aisles, fought and scrambled over papers and were a general nuisance to those who had business there.

Double returns are sent in from each district. One set is in a sealed envelope, which holds the papers for the official count. Outside of this envelope and unsealed is what is termed the "open return sheet." Its purpose is to give the information regarding the election to the public before the official count is made. It was over these open return sheets that the scramble occurred yesterday.

The prothonotary's office at best is inadequate in almost every respect for the work that is done in it. Cases and counters have been crowded in until there is little open floor left, and no large spaces at that. With these limitations it is impossible for the prothonotary to give the required space to handle the papers. The best arrangement that could be made was to build a barricade out of narrow tables, behind which the clerks who received the returns were entrenched. The sealed envelopes were carefully put away and the open return sheets placed on rope stringers and thrown on outside counters, where they became the prey of the information seekers.

The county committees of both parties were represented by many men, and a number of the candidates had special clerks looking after their respective votes. It was this that made the confusion and prevented a complete tally from being taken. Prothonotary Kirker, who had intended to have his own vote tabulated, grew disgusted and took his men off before 11 o'clock. Many of the sheets were torn and defaced, and if they are called for by the returning board will not look well. However, this does not often happen, although the sheets are always preserved for this purpose. The returns came in very well, but two districts in the boroughs and 12 in the townships being missing when the day closed. The returning board will organize at noon today and the count will be started. Judge John D. Shafer and Judge John M. Kennedy will preside over the court. The board will consist of A. C. Gumbert, Alfred Kerr, E. J. Fagan, John B. Yeiffe, John Tritchler, William J. Dillon, John E. Laughlin, George M. Barr, B. J. H. Carnegie, Jr., Harry Aleyhausen, A. D. Armstrong, W. H. Straw, James Park, D. W. Warden, George Brawner, E. W. Bapst and J. Chester Dyer.

Until the board meets the returns will be locked in the prothonotary's safe. They were placed there at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and are in charge of Capt. George F. Mercer, superintendent of the county building. Capt. Mercer, with one of the court house police, remained on guard at the safe last night, and they will perform like duty each night until the count is finished.

FOUR DIE AND EIGHT ARE HURT IN WRECK

Fast Freight and New York Flyer Collide on the Delaware & Lackawanna.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WILKES-BARRE, Nov. 8.—Four men were killed and eight persons seriously hurt in a head-on collision between a fast freight and the New York flyer on the Bloomsburg division of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad about noon today.

The dead:

CHARLES SNYDER, engineer of freight train.
A. B. STOOKEY, fireman.
M. J. GRAHAM, baggagemaster.
JOHN RINGSDORF, fireman.

The injured:—Mrs. L. Felix of Watsontown, Pa.; Mrs. K. C. Reed of Ross township, Luzerne county; E. D. Killingsbury, Scranton; J. C. Bombay of Wilkes-Barre, Christian Beavers of West Scranton, Frank Poole of Scranton and W. E. Compton of Milton, Pa.

Frank H. Poole, the passenger engineer who was reported killed, is still alive, although in a critical condition. One arm was torn off at the elbow and the scalp badly lacerated.

The wreck was due to the negligence or a misunderstanding of orders on the part of the engineer of the freight train. The freight was a special sent out of Kingston yards with orders to meet the passenger train at Hunlocks. Instead of stopping at the siding, the freight engineer ran past the depot, and before the conductor could attract his attention, the freight crashed into the passenger train on a curve.

Calls on the President.

administration because of political jealousy. Word had been sent out that the delegates would be banqueted; would be extended excursions on the Monongahela and Ohio rivers; would be given trolley excursions about the city; would take a trip over the Pittsburgh Terminal road, would spend one night at a theater and would enjoy other courtesies as the guests of the city of Pittsburgh. However, as Treasurer Bellingham has less than $800 from other sources, and depending upon the promise of the city administration until disappointed at the eleventh hour, all efforts will be concentrated in meeting the exorbitant rental charged by the administration for the use of Old City hall and to meet the bill for "decoration."

RENOUNCES FATHERLAND.

Mme. Schumann-Heink, Dispossessed of Her Children and Estate, Abandons Them to German Court.

ST. LOUIS, MO., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Dispossessed of her children by process of law, because she had remarried; part of an estate accumulated by 27 years of toil on the stage, diverted from her to the hands of an inimical administrator, and her feelings as a mother and as a woman outraged by the operation of a medieval code, Mme. Schumann-Heink has forever renounced the fatherland as her place of residence.

Only after weeks of determined, but futile effort in the probate court of Hamburg, did the famous German actress abandon her attempt to continue her rights in her girls' children and in the estate which she had accumulated by years of toilsome effort. Then, after vainly tiring to evolve some plan by which she might flee with her children to her adopted country, she and her husband, William Rapp, Jr., returned to the United States last August, leaving the court and the administrator to do as they wished with her property.

May Ask Andrews to Resign.

FRANKLIN, PA., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Advices from Santa Fe, N. M., say a meeting will be held at that place Saturday, called by H. O. Burstum, Republican territorial chairman, the purpose being to ask W. H. Andrews to resign as territorial delegate.

FIREMAN INJURES JEWISH MERCHANT

some friends with me," said Abromovitz yesterday. "He asked me if it was I that entered the suit against him and I said it was, and that I would not beat a rat the way Brohdy was beaten. The he said:

"'You Jew ——: I had orders from Buck Wallace to kill you, but I kept away. Now, the first time I get a chance I'm going to kill you.'

"That was last night. This afternoon at 4 o'clock I was walking past McMurray's drug store at Congress and Wylie with Richard Ward, the district minority inspector, and George Reed, a friend of mine, when Haley drove by with another man in a buggy. He jumped out, ran at me, yelled at me again, 'You Jew ——: This is orders from Buck Wallace,' and struck me in the temple, knocking me down and then kicked me first in the side and then on the forehead. When I regained consciousness I was in the drug store, but my wound was too serious for treatment there, and my friends took me to Dr. J. Mishkin of 1007 Wylie, who put four stitches into the cut on my forehead. Then I entered suit against Haley. I have plenty of witnesses who can testify to the whole thing."

Police Not Rough Enough, Says Wallace.

Abromovitz bore many marks of the affair when he went to the alderman's office. His face was covered with blood that had poured from the cut on his head and his clothing was also red. The hearing will probably take place today.

"Buck" Wallace and other employes of the safety building were in a doleful state of mind yesterday as a result of the defeat administered to them by the Republican party. Wallace seemed more affected than the other employes of the various bureaus, because he considered that much dependence was placed on him to pile up a large majority in the city. Wallace and the rough tactics of his policemen failed at the polls, and now Wallace has nothing but censure for his helpers.

"The police were too tame," said Wallace. "They ought to have roughed it more as they were told to do. That's the only way to win elections. Wait until February. I will give them a hot fight. The Republicans won the county, but they will never win the city."

Many Election Cases.

Alderman Martin will be busy hearing cases of fraud and intimidation committed by heelers of the city administration. Among those who are charged with infraction of the election laws, in addition to Police Capt. John Cullen and Fireman Joseph Haley, are Police Lieut. Charles Grimes and Policeman Lawrence Snyder. Grimes and Snyder are charged with intimidating voters. At least a dozen other workers of the Citizens party are charged with intimidation, assault and battery and aiding in the casting of illegal ballots. J. Mawhinney, a clerk in Delinquent Tax Collector Fulton's office, is charged with assault and battery on John J. Hohenstot.

The arrest of Grimes and Snyder was made in connection with an alleged effort to prevent Thomas Eaton, a Republican voter, from casting his ballot. Eaton was arrested by Detective William Riley, it being alleged that he did not live at 17 Shingiss street, as he said. After Eaton was taken, Grimes and Snyder, it is charged, committed the offense. Eaton's case was continued by Magistrate Kirby until Friday.

County Detective Is Discharged.

The case of John O'Neil, charged by Inspector Robinson with attempting to vote illegally, was continued until Friday. O'Neil being released on bail. George Murrin's case was also continued. He is the county detective who tried to prevent two policemen from intimidating a voter. He is charged by Police Inspector Robinson with interfering with an officer. Robinson also charged Frank Burrell, a negro, with trying to vote on a forged tax receipt in the Second district of the Seventh ward. Magistrate Kirby held him for court.

Magistrate Kirby was plainly disgusted with the mess made by Policeman Edward Frawley on election day. County Detective McMillen was arrested by Frawley at the polls of the First district of the Seventh ward. Two men fought and Frawley and Policeman Baker separated them, and led them some distance apart, then releasing them. McMillen told Frawley the smaller of the two men had struck the other first, and then Frawley arrested the county detective. When Kirby asked Frawley why he had arrested McMillen the policeman said: "Because he interfered with my business." McMillen was stationed there to prevent illegal voting, and after he was arrested many illegal ballots are said to have been cast. Kirby looked at Frawley with disgust, then discharged McMillen. Assistant District Attorney W. D. Grimes appeared for McMillen at the hearing.

Allege Illegal Voting.

The Republican organization is determined to prosecute the offenders against the election laws. Open buying of votes in the First district of the Second ward was so outrageous, and witnesses so plentiful, that it is not doubted several offenders can be brought to book.

A Republican overseer kept account of the illegal votes cast and the courts will be asked to throw out the district. It is said that the fact that the Republican ticket won and that, therefore, the throwing out of the district will not add to the victory, will not affect the determination to bring prosecutions.

Tax receipts were on hand in bulk and the Republicans are reliably informed that men who did not live in the district were marched up to the polls to vote, having first received a tax receipt made out in some name on the registry list and a ballot. After they had voted they were taken aside and received the money they were to get for their votes.

IMPORTERS FURNISH WINE AND PAY ALL THE EXPENSES

Peculiar Case in Which Beverage Was Seized for Analysis and Yet Duty Must Be Paid.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Through a decision today the United States general appraisers settled a case involving the right of the government to assess duty upon sample goods taken for analysis and actually destroyed in the analysis. General Appraiser Hay writes the decision. He says:

"Acting under the provisions of the law, 12 bottles of still wine were delivered to the secretary of agriculture for examination therein provided for, and consumed or destroyed in the process of such examination. The collector (of San Francisco) duly assessed duty upon the 12 bottles consumed as upon the remainder of the importation. Against this action the importers protest, contending that they should not be required to pay duty upon the wine which they did not receive, but which was consumed in the inspection and analysis made under the direction of the secretary of agriculture.

"It would seem unfair that the importer should not only furnish samples of the merchandise for such examination as the law requires, but should pay duty upon the samples; yet in our judgment congress alone has power to relieve him of his burden, unless the secretary of agriculture may do it out of the appropriation provided for the enforcement of the law. The merchandise used and destroyed by the government is dutiable under the law."

OFFERS $1,000 FOR SLAYERS.

Daughter of Mrs. Margaret Todd Is Convinced Her Aged Mother Was Decoyed and Murdered.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Mrs. Frank Tousey today offered a reward of $1,000 "for evidence leading to the apprehension and conviction of the person or persons guilty of the murder of Mrs. Margaretta Todd, in Philadelphia, on the night of October 27."

Mrs. Tousey is the dead woman's only daughter, now hastening home from Europe. Sinclair Tousey, her brother-in-law, offered the reward in her name. Two arrests in the case will be made tomorrow.

Methodist Episcopal Missionary Society Runs $45,000 Ahead of its Receipts a Year Ago.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The general missionary committee of the Methodist Episcopal church, having for its function the making of appropriations for all the domestic and foreign missions of the denomination, met in annual session in Brooklyn today. Eighteen of the 22 members of the board of bishops were in attendance.

The feature of the day was the report of Dr. Homer Eaton, treasurer, which showed the society had received during the year ending October 21 the sum of $1,582,215, an increase over the receipts of the previous year of $45,578. Of the expenditures of the year $948,794 went to foreign missions and $577,023 went to home missions.

APPROVE BIG CAR PURCHASE.

Pennsylvanian and Panhandle Directors Arrange for New Equipment for Lines West of Pittsburgh.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—The directors of the Pennsylvania Company and the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railway Company today approved the purchase of 5,000 freight cars and 50 locomotives. Arrangements were made to pay for the cars by the issuing of car trust certificates for part. The remainder will be paid out of the freight car pool.

Of the locomotives 25 are for each of the systems west of Pittsburgh. Some time ago when the Pennsylvania Railroad Company placed its order for 10,000 cars it included the cars now ordered by the directors of the lines west of Pittsburgh.

BAKER'S NORWEGIAN

MOST DESOLATE PLACE IN TOWN

Bigelow, Hays and Larkin Mourn at the City Hall Over Their Crushing Defeat.

MANY AMBITIONS ARE SPOILED

Pittsburgh city hall was a lodge of sorrow yesterday—the most desolate spot in the city. The chief mourners were Director Bigelow, Controller Larkin and Mayor Hays. In another class were bureau chiefs, clerks, etc., who felt the crushing defeat of the Citizens machine on Tuesday as keenly as their superiors. With the exception of the three chief officials and a few subordinates, city hall was depopulated. The defeat kept many of them at home, and the few that were on duty had no heart for work. From the top to the bottom floor the faces in all the offices wore the same look, long-drawn and very much dejected.

Director Bigelow was in his office a short time in the morning, but in the afternoon could not be found about the city hall. He affected a cheerful appearance, but it was plainly evident it was a great effort.

"Well, we will have to go into the city fight next. It was votes that beat us," he said.

Mayor Hays and Controller Larkin were unable to hide their feelings as well as Director Bigelow. Like drowning men grasping at straws, they were still claiming the election of the Citizens ticket yesterday morning, but in the afternoon admitted they were beaten, but were far from being reconciled to their loss.

The controller was in a decidedly bad humor and refused to discuss the election or to express an opinion on the result. He would not even deign to talk about the success of W. H. Berry, the Democratic candidate for state treasurer, whom the controller assisted in keeping off the Citizens party ticket.

"What's the use of holding a post mortem?" said Mayor Hays, gruffly, when asked what he thought of the result. The mayor is preparing to move soon to his farm.

The atmosphere of melancholy pervaded the entire building. Nearly all of the bureau chiefs were missing, and the few clerks in the offices stood about, trying to console each other with such expressions as these:

"Well, it was not a city election, anyway. It was only a county election. We still have the city. I carried my district, anyway. We helped to elect Berry. It was not our fault."

Occasionally a Citizen was found who took the defeat good-naturedly, but some resented any reference to the election. City Clerk Minnemeyer was sensitive on the subject of the election in the Fourth district of the Twentieth ward, where he resides.

Mr. Minnemeyer had been telling his friends how the people in his district had donated the use of their carriages to him at previous elections to bring voters to the polls. The returns show that the few who did go to the polls on Tuesday must have gone afoot. The district gave a majority for every candidate on the Republican ticket except for county recorder, O'Neil carrying the district by only two votes.

The election has dampened the ambitions of many Citizens councilmen to be re-elected. President R. B. Ward of common council, was at the city hall yesterday and was asked if he would be a candidate for re-election.

"I am not saying anything," was his response.

Other Citizens councilmen had the same reply, although prior to the county election, they were actively engaged in plans for another campaign next February. With the prestige of a big victory in the county for the Republicans, they admit their chances of winning in the city fight next February are exceedingly doubtful.

ELDERLY MAN COMMITS SUICIDE WHEN JILTED

After a Vain Attempt to Win a Bride, Californian Kills Himself in a Hoboken Hotel.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—After following a woman across the continent in a vain attempt to persuade her to marry him, only to see her board a steamer for Europe, Walter Herlisch, an elderly man, supposed to be from Lindsay, Cal., committed suicide tonight in a hotel in Hoboken.

When Mrs. A. Tilloch, a comely young German widow, arrived in Hoboken from Bremen on October 19 she told the people of the hotel where she stopped she was on her way to Lindsay, Cal., to marry a man to whom she was engaged. On Sunday she returned and said she was on her way back to her home in Germany. The same day Herlich also arrived at the hotel. Yesterday the widow sailed for Bremen and tonight Herlich was found dead, having taken poison.

He left a note saying that he had nothing to live for and inclosing $60 to reimburse the hotel proprietor for the trouble he had given him and to pay his funeral expenses.

LARGE ORDER FOR STEEL RAILS PLACED IN SPAIN

Can Be Imported into This Country Cheaper Than They Can Be Purchased Here.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Cable advices were received here today to the effect that a contract had been placed in Spain calling for the shipment of 21,000 tons of steel rails for use in the construction of a California railway.

The rails will be manufactured at the Alles Hernes De Viscaya mills, which are the largest of their description in the Iberian peninsula. The contract price for the rails, to be delivered on the Pacific coast, including $4 a ton import duty, is around $27 a ton. The prevailing price for domestic rails at the mills is $28.

This rail contract is the first one which has ever been placed in Spain by an American railroad. There have, however, been some remote instances of British, German and Belgian rails coming here on rush orders, when plants in the states were too busy to offer good deliveries.

SIR GEORGE WILLIAMS WILL REST IN ST. PAUL'S

Authorities of Famous Old Organization Announce That Honor Will Be Conferred on Him.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The body of Sir George Williams, founder of the Young Men's Christian association and president of the London headquarters for 20 years, who died November 6, will be buried in St. Paul's cathedral November 14.

The memorial requesting burial in St. Paul's included the names of persons prominent in all walks of life and was enforced by resolutions from the council of North America, representing 400,000 members of the association, and also by resolutions from councils in many other countries.

The authorities of St. Paul's in consenting to burial within the precincts of the cathedral said that their decision was influenced by many good reasons, among them being that Sir George was the founder of a world-wide movement which made no distinction between the disciples of the church of England and the non-conformist fraternities and which had so spread that it now embraced no less than 7,578 associations with a membership of nearly 4,000,000 souls, embracing 45 nationalities.

Former Minister Reported Dead.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 8.—Wu Ting Fang, formerly Chinese minister to the United States, is reported to have become totally deaf as a result of the explosion of a bomb thrown by a fanatic when the Chinese commissioners were leaving Pekin to visit foreign countries.

WYMAN'S POWER BADLY CRIPPLED

Republicans Carry 11 Out of 15 Wards and Nearly Capture Mayor's Own Ward.

M'ILVAIN IS A CANDIDATE

There were no smiles in Allegheny city hall yesterday, except on the countenances of Controller Brown and his clerks, who have never had any political affiliation with the Wyman machine. The defeat given the Citizens ticket was so complete and overwhelming that it leaves no doubt of the attitude of the people regarding Wymanism.

Of the 15 wards in the city the Republicans carried 11 with good majorities. The First went to the Citizens, as was expected, and the big Second was so close that it cannot be called a victory for the administration. Less than 100 majority in a ward where there are almost double that number of city employes living presents no rosy outlook for Wyman in his home ward. The Twelfth ward gave the Citizens ticket 137 plurality and the Fifteenth returned a small lead for the same ticket.

Mayor Wyman was at city hall for a few minutes yesterday morning but refused to talk. He and Delinquent Tax Collector Harry M. Davidson conferred in the mayor's office and both looked plum when they came out.

Director Scandrett is sick in bed. This was the word that was sent to city hall. Evidently his strenuous but vain efforts to carry his district and the Third ward for the ticket was too much for him.

The only official who could be found yesterday was Director McIlvain. He sat about by himself all day reading newspapers and occasionally talking in low tones to some one from the First ward. He did not seem able to account for the first defeat suffered by the Wyman party in three years. McIlvain was out yesterday with a reiteration of his intention to be a candidate for mayor next February.

"I am a passive candidate," says the director.

Director Henry Hunneshagen, who seems to be Wyman's choice for the mayoralty fight, could not be found yesterday. Hunneshagen lives in the Seventh ward and is a neighbor of Conrad G. Mentel, the Citizens candidate for the office of prothonotary. With both these political lights working to their utmost, the Seventh sent in a big majority for the Republican ticket, and Mentel carried his district by only six votes. The result in the Seventh establishes Hunneshagen's strength as a mayoralty possibility, and it does not look good to Wyman.

The sore spot with Wyman is the manner in which the payroll turned on him. Allegheny has a payroll of 1,300, yet the Republicans carried the city by a plurality much greater than this number. The Robinson brothers in the Fourth ward are in a rage at the flagrant way in which the police are firemen acted at the polls and among their friends. It is apparent to all the Citizens leaders that it was the payroll that scuttled the Wyman ship. Reprisals are certain to follow.

In Republican headquarters scores of workers gathered last night to talk matters over. Judge Elliott Rodgers was there and was congratulating every one for the victory achieved. When asked what effect the Tuesday election would have on the mayoralty fight, he said:

"Oh, the spring fight will be much easier than this last one. But we want to rest after our efforts and we don't want to hear mayoralty talk for six weeks yet."

POLICE BRING THEM BACK.

One Prisoner Comes from Kansas and the Other from Cleveland—Junk Dealers' Trouble.

Detective Louis Leff arrived in this city last night from Kansas City with Ruben Funkelstein, who is wanted here on a charge of false pretense. Funkelstein was arrested in Kansas City last week. It is alleged on June 23 he went to Forest & Wolf, 229 Third avenue, junk dealers, and told them he had junk for sale. He had dealt with them before and said the junk was worth $400. He was given a check for the amount and the firm was to get the junk the next day. Funkelstein had the check cashed and when the dealers went for the junk they did not find it, so they say.

Detective Crooks arrived from Cleveland last night with H. J. Van Riper, who is wanted here for entering a building with intent to commit a felony and larceny. Information was made against him by A. H. Rogers, an agent for J. J. Girard of Cleveland. Rogers was getting out a directory and Van Riper was engaged in the same business. It is alleged that Rogers had the greatest success and Van Riper went to his office when Rogers was away and took his records, books and other data pertaining to his business.

FIND EVIDENCES OF MURDER.

Body of a Man With Skull Crushed Is Discovered in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—Dying in a pool of blood the body of a man was found today in a room on the second floor of a house in the southern part of the city. The skull was crushed and the body gave other evidence to warrant the police in believing the man had been murdered. The authorities decline to make known the identity of the man beyond saying he is supposed to have been an Italian tailor of New York.

Two men and two women, all Italians, who occupied the room in which the body was found, disappeared yesterday and the police are making a search for them. Near the body was found an empty bag such as are used by foreigners in which to keep money. The authorities believe the unknown man was lured to the place and then assaulted and robbed.

WESLEY S. GUFFEY GLAD OF RESULT

DONE WITH BIGELOW OUTFIT

The man most pleased with the defeat of the Democratic-Citizens party, the "Bigelow mongrel outfit" as he calls it, is W. S. Guffey, a rock-ribbed Democrat himself. Mr. Guffey caught a bad cold while stumping against the just defeated aggregation and he is feeling physically bad, consequently he was not in the best condition last night to talk as picturesquely as he might, were he in perfect health.

"Well, it is all over," said Mr. Guffey, sitting in an easy chair at his home. "The fight is won, and the Democracy ought to congratulate itself. Democrats are defeated, you say? Oh, those fellows who got up the so-called Democratic end of that ticket were not Democrats, or if they were once, they forfeited the right to that honored name by allowing Ed. Bigelow to put Plummer on the Citizens ticket.

"I am glad the Republican county ticket was elected. I have always fought the Republican organization, but I must say that when it was in power we had better streets and better municipal morals than we have ever had since Bigelow was put in power by the aid of Democrats.

Who Gets the Money?

"The leaders of the Republican organization might have got $300,000 annually by allowing gambling and speakeasies to run wide open, but they never stooped so low as to stand for that sort of thing. Now, every thing is wide open. Who is getting the money?

"I have been in the reform movement for many years, and strange to say the more reform we have the rottener it gets. I know the element now in power is not real reform, nevertheless it rode into office on the reform wave. Of course, I am in favor of reform, but I have yet to see in Pittsburgh the reform that is real.

"Now I don't think by defeating the Citizens party we have made the mayoralty a sure thing for the Republican organization next February, but I do think the people have shown such power and such determination to have good government that the Republican organization will be compelled to put up a good candidate for mayor, and if it doesn't do that thing, then the people will put up a candidate of their own and elect him. Does that mean that I favor another fusion ticket? Not by a great sight. I believe the Democrats ought to put up a straight ticket, nominate a good man, as the Republicans must, and fight it out on that line even if they get beaten. Of course, if other organizations see fit to indorse the Democratic candidate, well and good but I don't want the Democrats to play second fiddle to anybody anymore.

Next Mayor to Be a Man.

"This defeat of Ed. Bigelow and his crowd means that the next mayor of Pittsburgh is going to be a man, a man who won't take orders from any boss. Nobody can go into the next mayor's office, hand him an ordinance just passed by councils and pointing to the bottom of the document say: 'Bill, you sign here.'

"I am feeling good over the election. I feel like the Confederate ex-soldier, who, shortly after the war, seeing a Union veteran down at Atlanta, without arms and legs, begging, dropped a $20 gold piece into the outstretched hat and explained his liberality by saying it was worth the money, for that was the first Yankee soldier he had ever seen trimmed up to suit him. I feel like that Confederate, though I don't approve his sentiments.

"I wonder how those fellows feel themselves. If they had indorsed Berry instead of Plummer for state treasurer their ticket would have gone through with a hurrah. Oh, yes, I know that Plummer got a majority in the county, but that was because the Citizens party indorsed him. If they had put up Berry, every Democrat would have taken off his coat and worked for them; the Lincoln party would not have polled so many votes for the Republican county ticket; every man dissatisfied with Republican rule over the state treasury would have voted for the Citizens-Democratic candidates and they would have been elected. Oh, it's a grand mess they made of it, those Citizens-Democrats."

MAYORALTY FIGHT CLOSE.

Republican Candidate Carries Youngstown by Forty-one Votes in Over Eight Thousand.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Aside from the fact that Herrick carried the county by 1,216 as against 1,776 two years ago, the most interesting fight at the election here was the mayoralty. Last night Republicans claimed Frank L. Baldwin, Republican, elected over W. T. Gibson, Democrat, by 93 votes.

There was a bomb exploded in the Republican camp this morning when Baldwin's majority was cut down to 41. After the returns had been gone over again the Republican committee demanded that the books be deposited in a vault until the official count Thursday. The full returns show: Herrick, 7,048; Pattison, 5,827. The result of the mayoralty election was: Baldwin (Rep.) 4,686, Gibson (Dem.) 4,645.

To Improve City Farm.

The committee on charities of Allegheny councils last night ordered printed for councils an ordinance providing for a number of improvements at the city poor farm at Claremont. Several outbuildings that were destroyed recently by fire will be rebuilt.

Traveling Man Dies Suddenly.

WILKES-BARRE, Nov. 8.—Henry M. Lee of Syracuse, N. Y., a traveling salesman, died suddenly today of heart disease at the St. Cloud hotel, Berwick, Pa. He was 69 years of age.

HAMILTON'S

into your home would mean far more than mere amusement to your family and friends.

Just suppose that you could have Harold Bauer or Emil Paur or Padrewski or some other of the greatest musicians come to your piano every night in the year, or just as often as you wished. Wouldn't their music be a source not only of pleasure but of education?

Wouldn't you like to throw around your boys and girls continually the influence of the best in music and in painting and in literature?

Well, as far as music—the most divine of the arts—is concerned—the problem is solved for you.

If you have an

at your piano you can summon at your will the great musical thoughts, the beautiful dream harmonies, the great tone pictures of all the masters of all the world. And the effort required involves little more than a wish.

The Angelus surpasses every other known piano-player, either human or mechanical. Its repertoire is unlimited. It never tires, is never out of sorts, always ready to answer to your will, to meet with full sympathy your every mood.

The Angelus has the

and the melody devices. No other piano player possesses them. And therefore no other piano player can give the same musical results. The prices are $275 to $350, depending on the style of case.

Booklets which tell about the Angelus in detail are free if you ask for them.

Silks Today for Very Important Reductions.

OUR silk buyer, who is now in the East, ran across several lots of fine new silks the other day which the manufacturer was willing to part with at a very substantial concession from the usual price. He, the manufacturer, wanted them out of the way, so that he could get to work on the following season's product, as the manufacturer's season is always at least six months ahead of the retailer's season.

The silks are here this morning at these popular prices.

A Black Crepe de Chine Opportunity—

We have some 75c yards of extra weight Crepe de Chine, which sells regularly for $1.75 a yard, and which we are going to offer today at 50c a yard under that price. This is a reduction worth considering by anyone contemplating the purchase of a crepe de chine gown. Our special price is, a yard..$1.25

Now the crepe gown must, of necessity, be lined with silk, and we are going to offer you a choice of two grades for these underprices—

Regular 50c quality Black Taffeta for, a yard.....45c

Lace, Crepe and Spangled Robes for Half Price.

From a Fifth avenue, New York, importer, who is known all over the United States as an authority on correct dress, we bought a collection of Lace, Crepe and Spangled Robes.

We bought them so that we can sell them for half price, but with the condition that we refrain from mentioning the name of the importer in question. His reputation is so high that twice each year fashionable dressmakers from all over the country make a pilgrimage to New York solely to see his exhibits.

We count ourselves, indeed, fortunate in securing a collection of such high-class goods which will be on exhibition and sale tomorrow in our new Robe Section, rear of Aisle No. 6.

$50.00 Robes will be sold for $25.00.

$70.00 Robes will be sold for $35.00.

$100.00 Robes will be sold for $50.00.

Novelties for the Baby, Chief Among Them the Baby Bunting Blanket.

An ingenious Pittsburg mother invented this blanket, patented it and put into our hands its exclusive sale.

It is a one-piece arrangement, made out of a blanket, folds around the little one and fastens here and there with snappers. The feet are well covered, and it is utterly impossible for the child to kick off its wrappings and thus take cold.

It's a mighty nice thing to put on baby when he goes for an outing.

Novelties in hand-painted sets for baskets or hampers, consisting of comb, brush, powder and soap boxes, complete at $2.50.

Brush and Comb Sets, $1.50.

Eiderdown Bath Robes for children up to 3 years of age, $1.75 to $4.50.

Novelties in Bonnets from Paris, trimmed with flowers, feathers, fur, etc., $6.50 to $45.00.

Novelties in French Shoes for babies—the shoes of pique, silk, satin, etc., 75c to $5.00. Shown in white, in pink and blue daintily trimmed.

Children's Flannelette Undergarments.

Flannelette is widely used for making children's nightgowns and undergarments, and surely garments of this soft, fleecy material deserve everything good that can be said of them.

There is nothing to be gained by making up such garments at home, for our prices are less than it would cost you to make them. In our Children's Underwear Section, second floor, these garments for popular prices:

Flannelette Night Drawers, with feet, pink or blue stripes, sizes 2 to 10 years, all sizes.....50c a pair

Flannelette Gowns for children, double yoke back and front, turn-over collar and ruffle of same on sleeves, sizes 3 to 12 years, all sizes.....50c

White Flannelette Night Gowns for children, double yoke back and front, turn-over collar, trimmed with neat embroidery, sleeves trimmed with ruffle of same—yoke and sleeves finished with beading—sizes 3 to 14 years—all sizes.....75c

Flannelette Under Shirts for children 3 to 14 years—pink and blue stripes—trimmed with hemstitched ruffle of same material.....50c

Thursday, November 9, 1905.

William R. Hearst has begun a legal contest of the New York election for mayor and will carry it at once before the supreme court. He alleges gross frauds in the election and intimidation of voters. It is more than probable there is good basis for his charges. Tammany politics are notoriously corrupt and Tammany was fighting hard on Tuesday.

Robert McAfee, secretary of the commonwealth, is to be commended for the course he has taken to meet reckless charges against his personal and official integrity. In the calmness after the political strife he will prosecute his case. The heat of a campaign excuses some things, but does not open the door of privilege to false statements of malignant import.

President Castro's invitation to the American republics to hold their coming conference at Caracas seemed to meet with favor in Washington yesterday. Castro's style of diplomacy has not pleased either his neighbors or the United States, but the meeting of the delegates at Caracas would show that no hard feelings are cherished, and perhaps Castro might learn a few things on the running of a republic from those who attend.

Chinese mischief-makers are busy again, counting, apparently, on the indifference of the authorities for their immunity in fomenting anti-American feeling. A meeting of agitators has been arranged at Canton despite the protest of the United States consul, the viceroy declining to interfere. When the investigation of the massacre of missionaires at Lienchow has been concluded, the United States may have something of importance to say to the Chinese government.

While the Republican candidate for mayor was not elected in New York, the Democratic victory was by no means complete. The Republicans won a signal victory in the board of aldermen, the former Tammany majority of 27 being changed to a Republican plurality of 14 over Tammany and a majority of 7 over the Tammany and Municipal Ownership forces combined. The Republican organization is intact in the city, while Tuesday's election strengthens the party in the state legislature.

The death of a midshipman at the Annapolis naval academy as the result of a fight is to be followed by the trial by court-martial of several young men implicated in the affair. The case does not at all resemble that of the West Point youth, Booz, who died as the result of hazing a few years ago, although some editors are commenting on the Annapolis incident as evidence of the prevalence of the hazing custom at government schools. The Annapolis boy was knocked out in a fight with one other and not set upon by a number. The kind of contest in which he engaged, however, seems to be a regularly recognized institution at Annapolis, and the advisability of abolishing it may appeal to the authorities who are to conduct the coming investigation.

Alarming reports come from China through Japanese sources, which indicate the movement for constitutional government in the Celestial empire may be too slow to keep pace with the revolutionary agitation. These advices, published in Japanese papers, aver a revolutionary propaganda has taken firm hold on the Chinese societies and is spreading with as much rapidity as the "Boxer" movement of a few years ago. The emperor is reported to be confined by the empress dowager in connection with the recent bomb outrage on the train of the constitutional embassy. Some of these rumors may be without foundation, but it may be assumed to be true the revolutionary spirit has invaded the old empire, aroused by the war in Manchuria and later events in Russia.

In his annual report yesterday inspector General Burton of the army made a novel suggestion. Since statistics show more than 25 per cent of desertions occur during the first three months of a soldier's service, Gen. Burton recommends that during this period of time soldiers serve under a regular contract, without formal enlistment, the government to retain all pay above $5 a month. At the end of the three months the soldier decides whether, after this brief taste of army life, he wishes to enlist for the regular length of time. If he decides to return to civilian life, the government keeps the back pay as a forfeit. If he enlists it is paid to him. The plan would not only save money to the government, but insure a better grade of men, possessing the "sticking" quality, for the army.

The Mayoralty Next.

The Gazette has frequently emphasized the fact that the election of Tuesday, so far as local candidates and issues were concerned, was mainly important as being the preliminary contest for the control of our two great cities. In the city of Allegheny the majority against Wymanism was so pronounced as to be decisive of the result in February, provided the Republicans of that city place in nomination for mayor a man pledged to reform the gross abuses which now characterize the government of that city, and whose personality is such as to guarantee the full performance of his promises. It really looks as if Allegheny was fairly on the road to reemption.

In Pittsburgh the outlook is not so clear. While the majorities for the Bigelow-Hays candidates have been greatly reduced, and are the lowest that have been obtained since the Citizens party came into power, the unpleasant fact still remains that no matter by what means accomplished, the returns from the city show some majority in their favor. The unscrupulous men who now have the city by the throat will stop at nothing to perpetuate their power. In this last election their efforts were scattered over the whole county. In February they will be concentrated in the city. It therefore behooves ALL GOOD MEN TO STAND TOGETHER for honest government, without regard to party. The bad men are united for purposes of private gain. Why should not the good combine for the public welfare?

To accomplish this, a man must be selected for mayor whose very name will be a synonym for integrity, business capacity, and an enlightened public spirit. He must be his own man and his own master. He should take advice from all, but orders from none. If he has any politics, he should be in accord with the vast majority of our people, who are Republicans; but his Republicanism should be a mere incident, and ought not to be a controlling force in his administration, which must be devoted to the public business, and not to politics.

The right-thinking, independent citizens should select such a man for this high office. The Republican city organization, taking profit from the lessons of the past, should indorse his candidacy, and an earnest, effective campaign should at once be inaugurated for his election.

Since the promoters of the Citizens party abandoned their promises of reform, The Gazette has consistently and persistently advocated reform and good government through the medium of the Republican party. As the organ of that party it has assumed from time to time to offer advice to the Republican organization of Pittsburgh. That advice has, on some notable occasions, been disregarded, and not always for the party's good. The Gazette now ventures to advise the party once more to this effect: No mere politician can be elected mayor of Pittsburgh. Unite with the Orphans' and Municipal league. Allow the independents to select one of their own number as a candidate for mayor, and indorse whomsoever they may name. In this way, and in this way alone, can a death blow be certainly given to the present reign of vice, corruption and graft, and the government of our city be purged of its manifold impurities.

Fear More Anarchy.

There is a report through German channels that Jews in Southern Russia are preparing to retaliate for the outrages perpetrated against their race. Apprehension is entertained this may cause prolongation of the reign of anarchy.

It would certainly not be surprising if the Jews are arming themselves. They are a warlike people when aroused. It must be doubted, however, they have any intent to begin a war of retaliation. More likely they are arming for defense. The Jew is essentially an orderly citizen, on the side of law and justice. If Count Witte can stop the disorders and prevent attacks on the Jewish people, he will find them among his warmest and readiest supporters.

Far more danger of continued turbulence abides in the radical socialists on the one hand and the brutal reactionaries on the other. The recent rioting in Southern Russia has been incited by the latter. They fear equal rights and exact justice who have been accustomed to favoritism and imposing on others.

Who Are the Slaves?

A good deal of comment has been evoked by Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish and her caustic statement concerning masculine servility to fashion's commands. "Talk about slaves of fashion," exclaims Mrs. Fish, "we women are not in it with the men. For years they've clung to the derby hat because it is the style, and if there's an uglier, more uncomfortable or more unhealthful hat than a derby, I don't know what it is. There's not one man in a thousand to whom such a hat is becoming."

The criticism of the derby hat is eminently just. It is a hideous affair, second only in this respect to the chimney pot of our London cousins. It is not adapted to the masculine type of beauty. No man wears a derby with conscious pride. It is impossible to conceive of any of the heroes of history, decked out in derbies. Julius Caesar, Alexander the Great, Wellington or Napoleon would have looked like a clothing dummy in a derby. But the humble hat has a distinctive virtue, entirely apart from its appearance, to insure masculine favor: its quality of endurance, its ability to wear long, and this is the real secret of its popularity. As every married man well knows, hats form one of the most expensive items in the average woman's wardrobe. One of the beribboned, beflowered creations, built by the school of architecture which believes in piling Ossa on Pelion, not only costs five times as much as the simple derby, but is evanescent in quality, "here today and gone tomorrow." So long as femininity affects these purse-draining head-pieces, man has no money left with which to purchase hats with birds and feathers on them for his own adornment, even if they were becoming. The humble, inexpensive derby which wears for years, if necessary, enables man to pay the milliner. Both partners in the matrimonial firm cannot afford to wear Paris "creations." That is why the derby will never go out of fashion. We cannot afford to let it go.

Unpleasant Predicament.

After extending an invitation to the Federation of Labor to hold its silver jubilee convention in this city and promising $5,000 for the entertainment fund, the Citizens party city officials have declined to produce the money. Apparently the nomination of William Dodds on the Republican county ticket and the support given him by the workingmen is the cause of repudiating the understanding.

It is an unfortunate situation. The federation cannot change the place of meeting, as the convention is to open next week, and no arrangements have been made for entertainment of delegates and their friends.

There is a wide opening here for some one to offer a contribution that will provide, at least, for a decent reception to the delegates. Pittsburgh has earned an enviable reputation for hospitality, and this should not be sacrificed merely because a few persons in positions of honor have imbibed a petty grudge. The federation should be shown the great workshop of the world.

Unnecessary Noises.

The Society for the Suppression of Unnecessary Noises, which certainly overlooked a great opportunity in the activity of Democratic orators in the recent campaign, has officially declared the steam whistle "a menace to public health," and has started a vigorous agitation for the abatement of the nuisance. A pamphlet written by Prof. E. S. Morse of Salem, Mass., sets forth the numerous counts in the indictment. There is only one place where the steam whistle is proper, says Prof. Morse, and that is on the locomotive, and it should be used only at grade crossings. Its use by factories, it is alleged, is no longer necessary, since watches and clocks are now owned by all employes and the only purpose served by the factory whistle is to indicate the time of beginning work. The same charge, of being out of date, has been brought against church bells. It is asserted for the same reason, the general distribution of timepieces, bells are not required to call the people to service. Cities of church bells, however, overlook the musical nature of their tones, which many people do not find in the blasts of the steam whistles. As quickeners of the conscience, church bells have an important mission to perform in the case of the man who is trying to sleep until it is too late to go to church. On the whole we consider the music of the chimes a necessary noise. And what should we do without the bells on wedding occasions?

Possibly the most logical use for the steam whistle would be not to call men to work, but to call them home at night. It has been suggested if one could be mounted on every home and each husband be given a signal, when he was detained unusually late by business downtown, he could be reminded there was somebody waiting for him at home. However, there are many practical objections in the way of this plan, among others the fearful din that would shake the city at midnight.

Just because he is trying to be like Robin Hood and infuse a little romance into hundrum modern life, Raisuli is to be chased by a French military expedition. Raisuli's only chance is to go on the stage like the James boys did.

A Chicago university professor says Victor Hugo was no novelist. Chicago is one university whose professors are not afraid to speak right out in meeting, even though they are generally wrong.

The Chinese have the reputation of being a saving people. They are certainly going at it the right way, just now, to lay up a batch of trouble for themselves.

It is not known whether the Society for the Supression of Unnecessary Noises will take official cognizance of the fact that "a noisy noise annoys an oyster."

The czar's soldiers, it is rumored, have been ordered to join in the movement to put the Poles underground.

The Leader's post-election explanations are no more convincing than its pre-election prophecies.

The Democratic-Citizens crowd will have some difficulty in properly observing Thanksgiving.

Nobody knows just what M. Witte's salary is, but there is no doubt as to his earning it.

Sympathizing with the under dog was more prudent than betting on him.

In New York there is that same old smile on the face of the tiger.

The Democratic-Citizens outfit is not worth the cost of repairs.

To the Russians: Don't shoot Witte. He is doing his best.

New York has apparently escaped the yellow peril.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS ON WAYS OF WORLD

Election Nights Are Not as Lurid as They Used to Be.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Contrary to all expectations election night was almost as quiet as any other November night.

It wasn't always so, as those of you who have been voting for a score of years can testify, for many of you marched with capes and leggins and uniform hats, bearing aloft smoking torches, and burning red fire until the streets were a red glare wherever you went. And you shouted and veiled as you marched, and made the welkin ring with your cheers as bulletins appeared in front of newspaper offices.

Tuesday night was different.

Bulletins there were galore, but rarely a cheer except now and then when the name of a candidate was flashed up.

Nor were the crowds around the bulletin boards like the old crowds. They didn't surge and jam, and hurrah, nor did they sing songs, toot horns and jeer the other fellows.

The marching club was nowhere in evidence, nor were banners with coons, roosters, and many strange devices.

In those days marching clubs were among the main feature of campaigns, each of the contending parties trying to outdo all others in the size and equipment of its clubs. This became a very expensive business, too expensive, probably for the amount of good done.

Anyway the marching club seems to have departed, marching away for good and all, as it were. What is to take its place? So far the place is vacant.

There doesn't appear to be nearly as much fuss and hurrah about political campaigns as in times past, nor as much fighting at the polls, nor as much bitterness between partisans.

Does this mean a better state of affairs, or does it indicate a lack of interest on the part of voters, or want of enthusiasm among the people?

Enthusiasm, you know, attracts crowds and carries them along as a tide carries drift.

An enthusiast doesn't bother himself much about facts or figures, nor does his followers stop to think what they are yelling for. This gives zest, color, and noise to a political campaign.

Careless, unthinking, and more or less ignorant people are more emotional than those who are more intelligent, thoughtful and conscientious.

From this it may be inferred that our people are not as emotional as they used to be, therefore not so easily carried away by enthusiasm.

Many of you may recall the time when Garfield was nominated for president and Gen. Grant was defeated. It required several days to settle the matter, and every night was a terror in the downtown districts.

Grant had a strong following, and every man was a stayer, as the record of the famous 306 in that convention clearly shows. And his friends here were no less resolute. The third term cry had no terrors for them, and they marched nightly and hustled as valiantly as though his nomination depended upon their efforts.

And when the election came off the result was in doubt for several days. Here was another chance for the bedlamites, and they made good use of it. From dark until midnight the streets were in an uproar.

It was at this time that a newsboy who had yelled himself hoarse, brought out a tin horn to take the place of his voice. A man gave him a quarter for it. With the money he bought five and sold them at the same figure. Tinners were called out of their beds to make horns, and orders were telegraphed east and west for them, so that before the returns were all in there were thousands of horns and thousands of rooters out every night.

And now that you come to think of it, may it not be that political issues do not appeal to the masses as keenly as in former times?

Among the live issues then were sound money and protection. Of all things these would appeal to the masses, for there had been hard times of the hardest sort, and workingmen, tradesmen and professional men had felt them most keenly, so that when these were made issues every man, woman and child became interested.

Latter day issues have appealed more to politicians than to the masses. This does not mean, however, that they are less important than former issues, for affairs of state are always important.

The masses see what is immediately before them, while the statesman and the wide-awake politician see what is likely to be, and they set about preparing for it. That these should differ as to the means of preventing catastrophy, and of bringing prosperity, is most natural; hence opposing political parties.

In times of general prosperity the masses lose interest in politics, which makes it difficult for politicians to define issues upon which to found winning campaigns.

Fortunately for the country, however, there are usually enough local issues to interest property owners and those who are interested in the prosperity and welfare of the section in which they live.

Taxes appeal more or less directly to all and very little to some, so that whatever is likely to effect taxation is most certain to arouse the average voter.

And then we have ever with us the agitator for reform, and he is likely to have a following, particularly in off years. These followings are apt to grow, for agitators take advantage of dull political seasons, for then he can get the attention of the people.

In the course of time the followings of these reform agitators become so formidable that they have to be taken into account by politicians when defining issues and planning campaigns.

WHY BILLIE WASN'T BAPTIZED.

'Twas way up on the Etowah erlong the fust o' fall;
Thar'd been the biggest' meetin'; an' the newmade members all
Med lined up in the river ter be baptized—
—nigh an' far—
The roll was called, an' then 'twuz foun' that Billie, he warn't thar.
They wondered, too, thet Billie, the brightest in the class,
Should fail to be on han' that day. Well, how it came to pass
Wus this way: When the preacher had baptized the sixteen more
He went down in the holler, an' knocked at Billie's door
An' ther, down on a pallet, thar Billie's ma had died;
An' Billie wuz a kneelin', an' a-holdin' uv her hand,
His little fists all thin an' white, his face all pale an' wan;
The preacher fetched him kinder soft, but Billie never stirred,
He whispered "Billie!" sorter low—he answered narry word.
He leant right down by Billie thar, an' drawed back kinder 'fraid,
For by his quiet mammy's side he foun' the boy was dead.
Well, Billie'd wore hisself plumb out a-workin' thar fer her—
The only one in all the worl' thet ever seemed to keer
For him. An' that wuz how nit come erbout, that wuz the way
That Billie warn't in line an' why he warn't baptised that day.
But t'other side the river when the angels calls the roll
An' the pitch marches down the street that's paved with shinin' gol',
They won't nobody raise no kick, an' nar one be surprised,
Nor hunt up in the records whether Billie'd been baptized.

NEW YORK BELIEVES HEARST IS ELECTED

Even Defeated Republican Candidate Thinks Dishonest Count Was Made.

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—There is only one subject of conversation in New York today, and that is the election. That subject can be sub-divided in many ways, but the chief point at issue is: was McClellan honestly elected? The answer echoes all over the city—he was not; and Hearst, like the man from Missouri, demands he be shown. Such a condition has not confronted New York for many years, if ever before. McClellan's plurality on the face of the returns, is so small it is barely possible the official count may show Hearst won, and the result, even if McClellan really were honestly elected by such a small plurality, is more of a personal victory for him than if he had secured a majority over all the candidates running.

Above all other things, one sees a rebuke for Tammany hall and Murphy. Thousands of votes were registered against the Tammany ticket which could have been polled by McClellan, had he been running on an independent ticket with Jerome. It was Tammany—not McClellan—the voters were shooting at when they left the party fold and joined the Municipal Ownership ticket for the moment. And there were thousands of people who voted for Hearst who have no faith in municipal ownership. They simply accepted him as a weapon with which to slap Tammany.

Ivins Thinks Hearst Elected.

Ivins, the Republican nominee for mayor, announced today he believed, with an honest count, Mr. Hearst is elected mayor. He is not favorable to the propaganda Hearst represents, but he does believe the people registered their votes against the rule of Tammany, and their votes should be counted. Ivins himself has made a wonderful race, under the circumstances, and that fact, together with his long record of battles for the square deal for the voter of Gotham, entitles him to a non-partisan hearing at this moment. In his belief the election was a steal he is backed by several of the Republican papers which supported him. And there is no paper in the city—at least none worth mentioning—but is inclined to believe a recount would show some startling developments.

Still Betting on the "The Curb."

The best evidence there is going to be something doing in the way of a recount of the votes, is the fact that several large wagers were laid today that Hearst would be sworn in as mayor. The odds on McClellan today are no greater than they were yesterday, that is, his supporters refuse to give better than 2 to 1 that he will take his seat. One wager of $5,000 to $10,000 was laid today, and there were many smaller wagers at about the same odds. It is a curious situation that causes betting after the votes have been counted and the pluralities announced, but this is a peculiar year.

Jerome the Real David.

But it was Jerome who really threw the stone that took the sand out of the Fourteenth street Goliath. With no party behind him, no large sums to pay campaign workers and watchers at the polls, he comes out of the affair with the biggest majority of any of the prominent candidates. His election puts Tammany in a very large hole, and he will undoubtedly assist Hearst, if he is shown there was fraud that can be proven in court. It would be the delight of Jerome's life to show to the world that Tammany has not been toting fair.

What Might Have Been.

Every candidate for mayor can today say "I told you so," on one point. Each of these gentlemen was anxious to have Mr. Jerome as running mate. McClellan, backed by "Big" and "Little Tim" Sullivan, tried hard to get Jerome's name on the Tammany ticket, but Murphy was strong enough—and foolish enough—to prevent it. Then Hearst tried to get the Municipal Ownership indorsement for Jerome, but failed. Later Ivins demanded that Jerome's name be placed on the Republican ticket, and he would have won his point had not the courts ruled him out. His failure cost about 13,000 votes to Jerome, as that many were cast for Flammer, who was not really a candidate, but whose name was kept on the ticket by order of the courts. Had Jerome's name appeared on the Municipal Ownership ticket, Hearst would have been elected beyond doubt; and Jerome might even have pulled the Republican ticket through.

Many Victories Lost Sight Of.

In the excitement over the heads of the tickets here, people seem to have lost sight of the fact that Tammany has lost control of the board of aldermen and is 10 votes behind last year in the state legislature. Tammany still holds the board of appraisers by a small majority, but may also lose that in the expected recount. The biggest loss to Tammany is the board of aldermen, as that body will redistrict the city, and being against the Fourteenth street crowd, it is hardly likely to give Tammany any the best of it.

Pleasant for the Onlooker.

For the casual onlooker, who does not take his politics too seriously, this campaign has been one of the finest spectacles in American history. It has been of the whirlwind variety, and even up to almost daylight this morning great crowds were in the streets waiting for a definite report on the result. The uncertainty during the early hours added zest to the situation also. And then in the wind-up. It was a genuine pleasure to see Jerome forging ahead, and to see the sick look that appeared on the face of the tiger.

USE OF VANADIUM IN METALLURGY

Increases the Tensile Strength and Elasticity of Steel—Valuable Suggestions.

United States Consul Halstead of Birmingham makes an interesting report to the state department of the meeting of the British Iron and Steel institute at Sheffield. He writes that Monsieur Guillet of Paris was scheduled to read papers, one on steel for motor car construction in France, and the other on the use of vanadium in metallurgy. He was prevented from attending by domestic bereavement and his paper was read by the secretary. In Mr. Guillet's paper, "Steel used for motor car construction in France," he wrote in part: "No one could question the fact that the industry which, during the last few years, had had most influence on the metallurgy of the special steels was that of motor car construction. The special steels actually in use in France for the construction of motor cars could be classified as: (1) Steels with low percentages of carbon and nickel (pearlite steels), used for parts requiring cementing and quenching, such as shafts and gears which engage directly; (2) steels with medium percentages of carbon and low percentages of nickel, used after quenching and reheating, for a large number of parts, such as shafts, gearing and pinions; (3) steels low in carbon and with high percentages of nickel, used for valves; (4) chromium steels, with high carbon and low chromium percentages, used for bearings; (5) silicon steels; (6) nickel-chromium steels, and (7) a new steel known as NY, the composition of which has not been published."

Increased Tensile Strength.

"Steel makers interested in M. Guillet's papers on vanadium can easily get copies of the principal reports of the institute. He held that vanadium improves the mechanical properties of metallurgical products; that on normal steels it produces a distinct increase in tensile strength and elastic limit, and has no influence, or an insignificant one only, on the elongation and contraction and the resistance to shock, acting almost with as great effect as carbon, yet not increasing the brittleness. This indicates that the influence on vanadium in metallurgy is of considerable importance, and he considerd it the element which, together with carbon acts with the greatest intensity in the way of improving alloys of iron, and said that with a greater demand there would be a decrease in its price. In the discussion which followed one speaker thought M. Guillet spent too much time on alloys with a high percentage of vanadium, 'as the best results were produced with 1 per cent or less,' and another speaker thought the author could not be aware how far advanced already was the use of vanadium steel in motor construction in this country."

Steel in Motor Cars.

"A gentleman with practical motor car building experience, and in several countries a great experience in the manufacture of steel articles, who called on me said there was no great need for increase of resistance to shock in steel used for the larger type of motor cars. The present steel was serving very well. It is, however, very important for the smaller cars with lighter parts. He said he was able to obtain very satisfactory British steel, that he did not think that the French were able to get better steel than he was using, and that a German motor firm, owing to important connections with the steel trade, had been able earlier than the rest of motor manufacturers to get the assistance of the best German steel makers in the selection of the right steel for each part and its kind of work in motor cars. This expert assistance of steel makers had been very valuable in bringing this car to the front; but now that the motor car industry was one in which the development of sales would profit any steel company, the same German steel companies and other steel companies, including British, having awakened to the possibilities of the market are offering the kinds of steel to motor car builders they need, and making clear regarding each kind its best use."

The Jews in Russia.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Sir:—I read an account of an address delivered in this city by a certain Dr. Jittowski, whose statements are absolutely untrue. Knowing The Gazette to be a fair and impartial paper and always ready to help a cause that is right, I ask that in justice to the Russian Jew not to destine the following few lines to the basket.

The statement made by Dr. Jittowski that the Russian Jew is noxious to the Russian peasant and is to blame for the present massacres in Southern Russia prove that he is ignorant of the Russian-Jewish situation and has a good deal more nerve than facts to come and try and impose upon the American public in the way he does. The Russian Jew in this country today has proven himself to be a good and useful citizen, and is desirable perhaps more than any other class of emigrants who come to the shores of this free land. In the first place, any person who is familiar with the Jewish question in Russia knows that the peasants more than any other class want the Jew, and has proven that he desires to have the Jews by petitioning the Russian government to allow Jews to settle among them. Petitions of this nature were of frequent occurrence in some of the places where the Jews now are being murdered by the hundreds. In the second place the Jew in Russia is indispensible to the peasant. He acts as his agent; should his crop fail he turns to the Jew for help, for he knows full well that the "Pomeschik," who was his master while he was in slavery, is only looking for the chance to get him in his clutches. Then goodby to his few acres of land. While with the Jew it is different. He is not permitted to own land in a village or farm, therefore, if he helps him financially he has no security and may not get the money; or if he is a shopkeeper and sells goods on "tick" to the peasant, with the expectation of the crop in the following year being good, and if the peasant is honest, he repays the Jew. If not, he is safe, because the Jew has no recourse. On the face of this the peasant hates the Jew, not because the Jew takes advantage of him, but it is the old story of repaying with evil for good. Besides this fact our worthy doctor has stated that out of 130,000,000 people 20,000,000 are peasants. There are three classes in Russia: "Dworiane," noblemen, "Meschane," merchants and "Chrestiane" peasants, of which there are about half of the number the doctor gave. The peasants are an ignorant class, easily influenced by agitators. They are extremely religious and are easily provoked against the Jews when an anti-semitic priest urges them on. I have lived half of my life in Russia and the above facts are given from personal observation and contact with the Russian people. Thanking you in advance for the space you will give in your estimable paper I am, very respectfully yours.

CHARLES FISHKIN,
2113 Webster avenue.

Mistook Liberty for License.

It is not surprising to hear of the outbreaks and rioting in Russia. Rarely indeed has a great revolution been accomplished without bloodshed. The release of the pressure under which the people have long suffered was certain to be marked by some such demonstrations as those with which the daily news reports are now teeming. The reaction was to be feared. The fact that freedom has been granted has penetrated the minds of people to whom it was long denied, and it was to be expected that they, in the first intoxication of the discovery, would break bound in some way.—Denver Republican.

Kicking a Dead Donkey.

Tom Watson fills his magazine with gibes at the Democratic party for vagabondage but it is dull business to kick dead donkeys. The old Democratic party is passed away and nothing creditable has yet taken its place though it begins to look as if it would ask to make it unanimous for Roosevelt in 1908. —Buffalo News.

STORIES FOUND IN THE LOBBIES

Interesting Happenings Concerning the People Who Are Traveling.

The Pittsburgh hotels presented an animated appearance again last night. For a few days prior to the election and on Tuesday there was rather slack business at all of them, but the registers last night showed a distinct revival of the business enjoyed for the past couple of months until electioneering became the habit of the traveling man. For instance, on the Henry register were eight pages of names, which, by the way, is one of the largest days for any hotel in the city. The lobbies of all of the hotels were crowded and on every hand could be heard discussion of various phases of the election here and elsewhere.

The railroad stations also had a more exciting appearance than for the past few days, a large number of traveling men having come from their homes after the election. The New York, Philadelphia, Washington and St. Louis and Chicago trains left from the stations well filled with regular travel.

Another Ambassador in Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh will begin to hold her head pretty high if the foreign diplomats to the United States keep visiting her confines. The Chinese and Japanese ministers to this country made visits to Pittsburgh in the past week and this morning Senor Joaquin de Casasus, ambassador to the United States from Mexico, will be in the city. Senor de Casasus is returning to Washington from St. Louis, where he was the guest of honor at a banquet of the Latin-American club last Tuesday evening. He was only recently appointed by the Mexican government to represent that republic's interests in this country. He is traveling in a private Pullman car on the Pennsylvania. He will be in the city only a short time.

"Ben" Stevenson Drops Into Town.

Benjamin C. Stevenson, assistant freight agent of the Clover Leaf route, dropped into the city last night, and registered at the Henry. He will spend today here in conference with the traffic men of the railroads and industrial corporations, and will leave for New York tonight. Mr. Stevenson says that the situation in the middle west is almost as bad as regards car supply as in the Pittsburgh district. There is a heavy business everywhere, with promise for an increase in the next month or two.

Soldiers Leave Arsenal.

A party of 50 soldiers of the United States service, who have been stationed at the Allegheny arsenal in Lawrenceville, left on a special train over the Ft. Wayne early this morning for Fort Sheridan, Ill., where they will be stationed for some time. Their places here will be filled by a new company. Another lot of soldiers, occupying two special cars, were the members of Company I, 21st infantry, U. S. A., who were en route from Washington to Fort Sheridan.

More Hero Prize Awards Coming.

George A. Campsey, special agent of the Carnegie hero fund commission, left last night for New York, where he will be engaged for about three months on work connected with the awarding of prizes to heroes.

A Word About the Travelers.

Louis Emery, Jr., C. P. Collins and S. F. Wastell, oil men of Bradford, were in the city on business yesterday. They stopped at Newell's.

B. H. Heinrichs of the Westinghouse interests went to New York on his usual monthly business trip last night.

Judge Harry White of Indiana came into Pittsburgh from the east yesterday morning, spent the day here and left for his home last night.

Patrick Dolan, president of district No. 5 of the United Mine Workers, went to New York.

E. Wood of London, Eng., is registered at the Duquesne.

Prof. George J. Luckey Honored.

Professor George J. Luckey, former superintendent of the Pittsburgh public schools, will represent the city of Frederick in the Maryland legislature. Professor Luckey has resided in Barbara Fritchie's town during the last six years, and took with him all his old-time Republican enthusiasm. Thomas D. Kelley of the central board of education received the news of Professor Luckey's success last night. Professor Luckey is said to have made a good run, considering that he made his canvass in a strong Democratic community.

PATTISON TO BE OHIO'S GOVERNOR

He Carries the State by Forty Thousand and Both Houses Are Democratic.

FORAKER TELLS THE CAUSE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 8.—That John M. Pattison, Democrat, of Cincinnati, has been elected governor of Ohio for three years, by a plurality running above 40,000, over Gov. Myron T. Herrick of Cleveland, Republican, is settled tonight, as also is the Democratic working majority in both houses of the state legislature, but there is still some uncertainty as to the rest of the state ticket.

Earlier returns were apparently from sections favorable to Gov. Herrick, for he held a lead over the remainder of the Republican ticket until today, when fuller returns from country regions cut into Herrick's vote severely, and, by the middle of this afternoon, Herrick seemed to be 30,000 votes behind the rest of the Republican ticket. If that difference stands, the victory for offices other than governor will depend on the size of Pattison's plurality, with the chances in favor of the choice of the entire Democratic roster.

Chairman Garber, of the Democratic committee, tonight figured pluralities for Pattison that aggregated close to 55,000. If these figures hold true the entire Democratic ticket is elected. The Republicans have given out no later estimates than that of Chairman Dick, conceding the election of Pattison by 25,000 plurality.

Republican estimates tonight give the Democrats from two to five majority in the next senate, and from 10 to 15 in the house. The Democratic claim is a majority of five in the senate and of 27 in the house.

The widespread scratching of tickets has caused such delay in the counting that 30 hours after the close of the polls there was still uncertainty.

Governor Herrick has not yet made any statement explaining that until he had seen fuller returns than had yet been received, it would be impossible for him to analyze the figures and learn what were the actual causes of the defeat of the Republican candidates. For the same reason, Senator Dick, chairman of the Republican committee, has not given his view of the Republican defeat.

State officers and legislators chosen yesterday will serve three years instead of two, as heretofore, the constitutional amendment for biennial elections providing that the terms of officers elected at this time shall expire January 1, 1909, at which time the state officers and legislators chosen in November, 1908, will assume office. The legislature chosen in 1908 will choose a United States senator in succession to Senator Foraker. For some time there was confusion on this point, and it was widely but incorrectly asserted that the legislature just chosen would name Foraker's successor.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 8.—Following the defeat of the Republican party in this city and state, United States Senator J. B. Foraker tonight, authorized the following statement:

"The defeats we have sustained in the city and the state have no relation to national politics, but are due solely to local and other causes. Whether right or not, the belief obtains that the great mass of voters have not had any proper representation in nominating conventions and that a man with an ambition to engage in the public service had no opportunity unless he were fortunate enough to be put on a prearranged slate. It was natural to expect that sooner or later this would be resented. In large part that is what the defeats of yesterday meant. It will be easy to cure this trouble. The way is to return to the old-fashioned practice of having real conventions, at which all who aspire to nominations will have an equal chance. There were other causes that contributed to our defeat that will occur to every one familiar with the situation, but I don't care to discuss them, for they will pass away with this election."

George B. Cox, formerly Republican leader of Cincinnati, tonight, refused to discuss the cause of the defeat of the Republicans in Hamilton county, and in Ohio. Mr. Cox said the announcement last night of his retirement from active politics spoke for itself, and was final.

WOULD-BE SOLDIERS SHOULD BE PLACED ON PROBATION

Inspector General Burton Suggests Three Months' Trials to Obviate Desertions from Army.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Gen. G. H. Burton, inspector general, makes a number of important recommendations in his annual report upon the conditions of the army. He criticises severely the absenteeism of captains from their commands and says that out of 398 companies and troops from whom information was obtained, 185 captains were absent, which, Gen. Burton says, injures the discipline of the army. Gen. Burton, like all other officers of his rank, discusses the desertions in the army. He says:

"The best judgment of the army is that if the exchange were to furnish the soldier with light beer, under the supervision of the commanding officer, it would result in greater contentment and in minimizing the crime of desertion.

"Statistics show that more than 25 per cent of all desertions occur in the first three months of the soldier's service. It is suggested that the first three months of service be simply under a contract covering that period of time, the government to reserve all pay above $5 a month under contract. If the applicant feels that his experience in the service warrants him in enlisting he could then be sworn in and receive the back pay due him. If he elected to sever his relations with the government he should forfeit the back pay thus reserved."

Gen. Burton recommends an increase of the coast artillery from the field artillery. In the future instructions of the infantry he says, "we should not forget the important results obtained from night attacks and bayonet charges during the war in Manchuria." He also recommends that a chief of infantry and cavalry be established in the war department with the rank of brigadier general, as has been done with the artillery.

CHINA'S EMPEROR CONFINED AND REVOLUTION THREATENS

Empress Dowager Holds Him in Close Retreat for Recent Bomb Outrage.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 8.—Telegrams from Pekin to Japanese papers say movements to overthrow the present Chinese dynasty are developing with incredible rapidity. October 16 a portion of Pekin was closed.

Foreigners were allowed to pass the guarded gates but natives were closely scrutinized. Great activity of revolutionaries is reported from several sections. A Shanghai paper says a panic exists at Tientsin among native servants, many of whom are leaving foreign employ owing to the trouble that is expected.

Advices from Pekin published by Japanese vernacular papers received by the Empress of China state that when the empress dowager of China returned hastily from her summer palace because of the bomb outrage at Pekin, she summoned the emperor and asked what he knew of the outrage, whereupon the emperor showed much confusion. At a signal from the empress a party of guards appeared and led the emperor to a hall where he has since been confined, no one having access to him and food being thrust in through a window. The Hochi Shimbun says the emperor occasionally raises shrieks like those of a lunatic.

RESULT IN OHIO A BIG SURPRISE

Democrats in the Buckeye State Have Landslide—Retirement of Cox.

HERRICK LOSES OWN CITY

Special Telegram From
L. W. STRAYER, Staff Correspondent.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 8.—The Ohio election resulted in the greatest Democratic landslide that state has known in many years, if there has ever been a bigger defeat for the Republicans. While it was admitted by everybody familiar with the situation in that state that there were many uncertain quantities, yet the best estimates in advance of the election gave the state to Herrick and the entire Republican ticket by a safe majority. Senator Charles Dick, state chairman, estimated Herrick's plurality at 84,000, based upon the most conservative poll of the county chairmen. This is the twelfth year that Senator Dick has been state chairman, and each year he has given to the public an ante-election prediction.

This is the first time he has gone wrong in his estimate. Heretofore he has been under the actual plurality, but this year it appears that all estimates were lost in the landslide that overtook the Republicans. Last year Senator Dick estimated the Republican plurality at 88,000. Roosevelt carried the state by 250,000. There was a landslide then, but it was on the Republican side. Two years ago Senator Dick predicted that the Republican ticket would be elected by 80,000. Herrick carried the state by 113,000.

Johnson's Prediction Correct.

On the other hand, Mayor Tom Johnson of Cleveland, for the first time in many years, realized on his state prediction. He told The Gazette a few days ago that Herrick had no show whatever to win. He said that he would be re-elected mayor by the largest plurality he ever had, and that Pattison, the Democratic candidate for governor, would even run ahead of him in Cuyahoga county.

In all these predictions the returns seem to confirm the opinions of Mayor Johnson. W. H. Boyd, who ran against Johnson for mayor, made a good showing in the joint debates with his opponent and many believed he had a chance to win. But he evidently had none. Herrick not only lost his own city, but his own county.

However, the greatest surprise of the Ohio result lies in the returns from Cincinnati. There it was believed that the organization with George B. Cox at its head, would be able to stem the tide against Herrick, and Mr. Cox told The Gazette two weeks ago that the Republicans of Hamilton county would give Herrick as large a majority as it did two years ago when the figures were about 30,000. Mr. Cox had 2,500 workers in the county and kept a card index on every voter. With this organization it was thought his prediction would be realized, but it, too, went under in the deluge. A Democratic mayor is elected in Cincinnati, the Democrats carried their county ticket and Pattison received a big plurality in the county.

Cox Says He Is Done.

But the most sensational feature of that Waterloo was the public announcement of Mr. Cox that he has now retired from active politics. For 25 years he has been a leader in that city and county with great influence throughout the state. Now he says he is done.

The Republican defeat in Ohio will be attributed to various causes. Many will charge it or credit it to Secretary of War Taft, according to the viewpoint from which they see it. Secretary Taft's speech at Akron on October 21 was the sensation of the Ohio campaign. He handled Cox and the Cincinnati organization without gloves and alluded to the situation in Hamilton county as a "despotism." While this talk made some votes for Pattison, it alone could scarcely account for the result in the state.

The revolution was no doubt due to the agitation of the local option question by which Gov. Herrick was pictured to the people of the state as the friend of the liquor interests as opposed to the temperance element. This issue was brought into the campaign by the Anti-Saloon league, which was dissatisfied with the residential local option law passed by the last legislature, and almost every church organization in the state was induced to pass resolutions condemning Herrick.

Christian Voters Arrayed.

In this manner thousands of Christian voters were arrayed against the Republican ticket, and this, together with the cry of "bossism" raised by the Democrats, will be found to be the real cause of the Democratic landslide.

The election of Pattison does not mean that Ohio may hereafter be classed as a doubtful state. On national issues or an any issue except a purely local one, it will roll up as large a majority as of old. But Ohio was ripe for revolution. The demagogues were active and the people gave them their ears. And for two years a Democratic administration will be in charge.

TWELVE STATES WILL HAVE REPRESENTATIVES

Convention of the Pennsylvania State Independent Telephone Association Opens Here Today.

Twelve states will be represented when the second annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Independent Telephone association opens this morning at the Monongahela house. From Pennsylvania will come over 200 of the officers of the independent companies in every part of the state, the Pittsburgh & Allegheny company being the local host on the occasion. Among the states represented will be New York, Illinois, Ohio, Maryland, West Virginia, Michigan, Missouri, Connecticut, New Jersey and Kentucky.

The advance guard of the convention arrived yesterday, headed by Secretary H. E. Bradley of Philadelphia. All the parlor floor of the Monongahela was busy yesterday, the manufacturers of telephone apparatus taking advantage of the opportunity to display their wares. One of the special features will be the operation of the automatic telephone, which has been described as "waitless, girlless and useless."

At 10 o'clock this morning the executive committee will meet to arrange some business matters. The members of the committee are the Hon. B. F. Meyers, Harrisburg; C. E. Wilson, Philadelphia; J. G. Splane, Pittsburgh; William B. Trask, Erie; G. B. Rudy, York; E. D. Schade, Johnstown; the Hon. C. W. Kline, Hazleton, and Judge R. E. Umbel, Uniontown. The first session of the convention will open at 2 p. m., with an address by Assistant City Solicitor John A. Blair welcoming the convention to Pittsburgh. The response will be delivered by an officer of the association.

HEARST'S CONTEST BEGINS AT ONCE

Money Will Not Be Spared in Engaging Most Eminent Counsel in the Country.

JEROME LENDS ASSISTANCE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—A campaign to defeat Tammany hall in the supreme court and to declare William R. Hearst the rightfully-elected mayor of New York, in place of George B. McClellan, was inaugurated at a crowded meeting of Municipal Ownership league leaders today. At its close Mr. Hearst said:

"We are going to fight today, tomorrow, next month, and next year to make it possible for a man to cast an honest vote, and to prevent in the future conditions being as disgraceful as they were yesterday, especially in Sullivan's and Murphy's districts, and we will invoke every legal means to have every ballot honestly counted. We are receiving voluntary offers of money from business men to aid us in this appeal."

Mr. Hearst's lieutenants then announced that, with evidence 30,000 Hearst men were defrauded of their right to vote yesterday and that 1,000 election inspectors were guilty of illegal acts, the contest would be carried immediately over the heads of the board of county canvassers into the supreme court. They said the object of this plan was to secure a speedy and final answer, and that money was not to be spared in engaging special counsel in all parts of the United States to make this plan succeed.

The leaders said that in less than 24 hours after the polls closed, the Municipal Ownership league had secured over 1,000 affidavits charging illegal acts against about 1,000 election inspectors. These affidavits state that the inspectors in question were Tammany men. Mr. Hearst himself said that within a year "a chain of these men" would be sent to Sing Sing.

It was also stated that in East Side assembly districts, including the Eighteenth, Charles F. Murphy's home district, affidavits have been secured to show that at least 20,000 votes were illegally cast yesterday on the names of voters who went to the polls to vote for Mr. Hearst and the Municipal Ownership league ticket, but who, when they arrived, found their names voted upon already. In his demand for a recount, Mr. Hearst is supported by District Attorney William T. Jerome. Mr. Jerome said today:

"I shall immediately institute an investigation of the frauds perpetrated by Tammany at the polls yesterday. If the facts warrant, I shall begin an immediate prosecution against those guilty of crime."

District Attorney Jerome today gave orders to his assistants that the returns from the Eighteenth and Sixth assembly districts be guarded carefully. Congressman Timothy D. Sullivan is leader of the Sixth district. Mr. Jerome said:

"Take the returns from the Eighteenth and Sixth assembly districts and lock them up. Guard them carefully. They may cut a big figure in this count. I propose to see that there is a fair count in this mayoralty contest, no matter whom it hurts."

In the commercial district, practically all bets made on McClellan will be held up pending developments. Conservative estimates make the amount wagered on McClellan at not less than $200,000, while probably half that much was bet on Jerome.

After a secret session of the executive committee of Tammany hall held this afternoon, the following statement was issued:

The executive committee of the Democratic organization protests against the outrageous published threat of the defeated candidate of the Municipal Ownership league, to overthrow the will of the people as expressed by the vote cast on election day, and directs its law committee to exert its best efforts and take such steps and institute such proceedings as will safeguard the election of George B. McClellan as mayor of New York.

Some of the leaders, after the meeting, expressed the opinion the returns showed censure of Mr. Murphy's leadership and that he should as a result step down and out and make room for a man against whom nothing could be charged. They thought that it was time for George B. McClellan to assume the leadership himself.

Men's Club Will Meet.

The Men's club of the First Unitarian church, Morewood and Ellsworth avenues, will hold its first meeting of the season this evening at 8 o'clock. The women of the church will be the guests of the club on this occasion. George Seibel will read a paper on "The Wine Bills of Omar Khayyam."

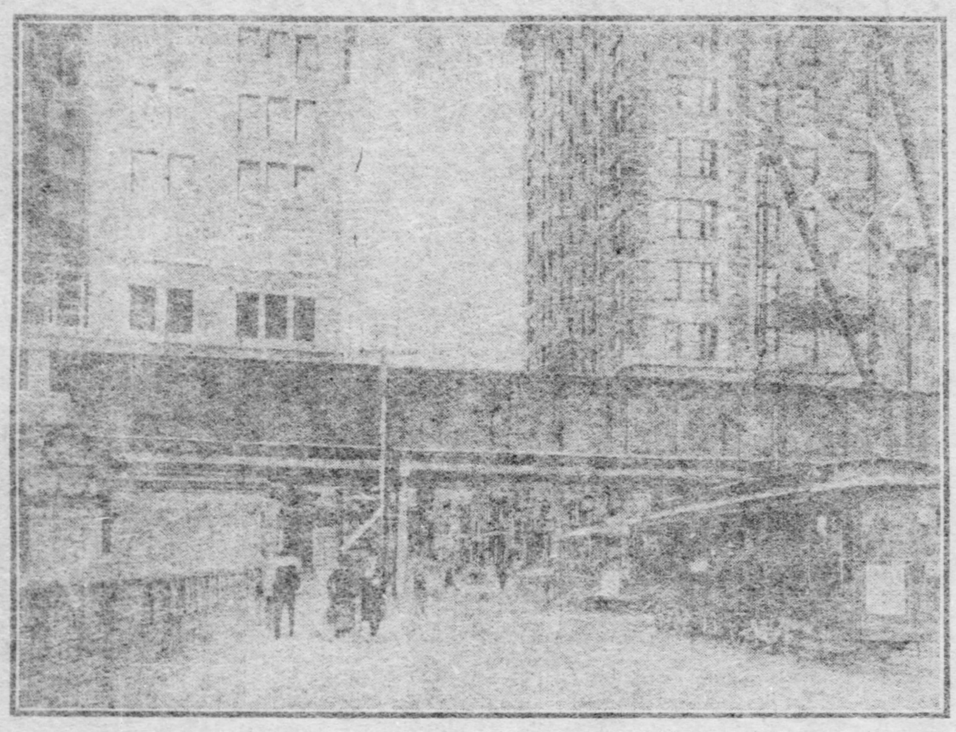
STEEL GIRDERS FOR DUQUESNE WAY EVEVATED LINE



The immense steel girders for the Pennsylvania's Duquesne way elevated line were placed across Sixth street yesterday. This closed up the last gap in the roadway between the Ft. Wayne elevated tracks near Penn avenue and Eleventh street and the new Duquesne freight station site at the Point. There were two of the immense girders, each of which weighs 75 tons. Seventy-five tons does not sound so big, but when one considers that this is 150,000 pounds, or about the weight of an audience of 1,000 persons of average weight, the immensity of the big steel girders is more evident. They are 112 feet long and 12 feet in height, and are made of very heavy steel plate. It required two weeks to convey the girders from the yards near Eleventh street to Sixth street. Four strong derricks were required to handle each of them. They were made by the Pennsylvania Steel Company at the Pottstown mills. As this completes the last link of the elevated roadway, the trackage will be laid at once and material for the new freight station will be hauled directly to the station site. The first engine and cars will probably be run over the new elevated line in about a week.

BANK DEPOSITORS TO HOLD MEETING TONIGHT

Those Who Had Money in Enterprise Will Have Chance to Act in Their Own Interests.

Only work of a routine character is engaging the attention of Receiver Cunningham and Examiner Moxey at the Enterprise National bank in Allegheny. Both conferred yesterday morning with United States District Attorney John W. Dunkle. Examiner Moxey said there was nothing to make public. "You know Mr. Dunkle is my superior officer and I am subject to his summons any time," said Mr. Moxey. "We cannot properly say anything just now. The work at the bank is going along as rapidly as possible."

The executive committee of ten of the depositors of the Enterprise National met last night to make final preparations for the meeting of all the depositors tonight in the Sixth ward school, Washington avenue and Chartiers street. The report of the committee drafted at the last two meetings will be presented for ratification. The paper embodies the recommendation that Attorneys S. S. Ménard and John Marron be retained to carry out any legal proceedings that may be necessary to protect the interests of the depositors.

Suggestions will be made concerning the advisability of taking immediate steps toward criminal and civil suits, and plans will be laid for an equitable financial arrangement to defray the expenses incident to the legal proceedings. The committee has invited Receiver John B. Cunningham to attend the meeting so that he may get in touch with the depositors and become familiar with what they are seeking to accomplish.

In referring to the statement made by State Treasurer-elect William H. Berry that he would lift the lid in the treasury department and make an expose of conditions at the Enterprise bank, Attorney General Hampton L. Carson said last night at Philadelphia: "We will wait for Berry to go into office but will begin the investigation into the Enterprise bank failure immediately. The board of revenue commissioners will convene tomorrow in Harrisburg and from then on everything possible and within the jurisdiction of the state will be done to sift this matter of the use of the state funds to the bottom."

LEGLESS NEWSBOY DOES WELL.

Little "Jimmy" Flaherty Will Be Placed in the Pennsylvania Telegraph College.

The money collected for "Jimmy" Flaherty, the legless newsboy, at the Pickering pumpkin show at Old City hall, was counted this morning at the Diamond National bank by clerks, and was discovered to amount to $417 45. The glass safe that stood on "Jimmy's" lunch stand at the hall contained $414 20, and $3 25 had been left at the bank for "Jimmy" since the show.

When the money was counted and put on deposit for the lad, who travels about the street on a tiny platform on wheels with his hands for motive power, the trustees of the fund decided to take the boy from the streets. Dr. Jane Blanchard, the Rev. Miles Sweeney and the Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young are the trustees. They agreed to send "Jimmy" to school for an education in the fundamental branches of learning, and then to the Pennsylvania Telegraph college. The college has agreed to accept "Jimmy" as a student without tuition, and the trustees think this will be an excellent profession for the boy to pursue.

At first the money received was to have been used to establish "Jimmy" in a tobacco or newsstand business, but the trustees think telegraphy will be best for him. The trustees are planning a rummage sale for "Jimmy's" benefit about holiday week in December, and Dr. Blanchard is soliciting donations for the sale. The trustees also agreed to devote all of "Jimmy's" fund to his education and advancement, and none of it will be expended for his living expenses.

OLD SOLDIERS REJOICE.

They Will Appoint a Committee to Aid in Erecting the Memorial Hall.

Grand Army men rejoiced yesterday over the triumphant declaration of the people in favor of the erection of a memorial hall to the old soldiers. Maj. A. P. Burchfield, chairman of the soldiers' memorial hall committee of the Allegheny County Grand Army association, said a meeting would be held on Saturday in the hall of Post No. 3 and a committee of citizens would probably be selected to choose a site and consider the proposed building.

The county commissioners will have charge of the project, but the Grand Army men expect to appoint an advisory committee to assist the commissioners.

The Death Roll.

WILLIAM D. O'NEIL.

William D. O'Neil, who died on Tuesday at his home on Neville Island, was 41 years old. He was born in Elizabeth and was once the principal owner of the O'Neil Coal Company. The company's holdings were sold to the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, of which corporation Mr. O'Neil became secretary. He is survived by two sons.

Mrs. Matilda K. H. Green.

Mrs. Matilda Kiefer Hummel Green, aged 61, died yesterday at her home in Locust street, Bellevue. She was born in Allegheny, where she lived until eight years ago. She was twice married, first to William Hummel, of Allegheny, in 1867. To Charles Green, also of Allegheny. She was a member of the Bellevue Methodist Protestant church. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. C. L. Straub of Bellevue, and the following brothers: Fred W. Kiefer, Bellevue; Martin A. Kiefer, sheriff of Fayette county; State Senator Henry A. Kiefer, Idaho; Adam J. Kiefer, Allegheny, and George Kiefer, Cleveland. She leaves these children: Albert E. Hummel, Henry H. Hummel, Miss Emma E. and Miss Bertha L. Hummel, and Miss Pearl L. Green.

Frederick Bainbridge Hoff.

Frederick Bainbridge Hoff, president of the Pittsburgh Steel Manufacturing Company and treasurer of the Pittsburgh Steel Supply Company, with offices in the Frick building, died Tuesday evening at his home in Cumberland, Md. Mr. Hoff was identified with his brother, J. Morgan Hoff, in the steel manufacturing business in this city for several years. Previous to his engaging in the steel business he was connected with the engineering department of the Pennsylvania Company. The interment will be private from the family residence at Philadelphia today.

Mrs. Frank B. Pierce.

Mrs. Minnie Andrews Pierce, wife of Frank B. Pierce, president of the First National bank of Sharpsville, and the Sharpsville Furnace Company, died yesterday after a four-weeks illness. Mrs. Pierce was born in Erie November 15, 1868, and was the only daughter of Amasa C. Andrews, a pioneer iron and coal man. She is survived by her husband and two sons, Frank, Jr. and Thomas.

JORDAN'S WALK LEADS TO GHASTLY FIND

Discovers the Skeleton of Man Who Evidently Died at Least Two Years Ago.

The skeleton of a man was found in Hays borough, Baldwin township, on Sunday. The coroner is anxious to find out whether the victim committed suicide or was murdered. Aloysius Jordan was walking over the hills and found a man's skull. Further investigation revealed the bones of the body under a heavy grapevine. Deputy Coroner John Black learned the body had been found on the Swining farm.

From the appearance of the bones it is supposed the man's death occurred at least two years ago. About the skeleton were parts of the man's garments. His suit had been of dark green cloth, and in the bushes was found a black soft hat, better preserved than his other garments.

In one of the pockets was 96 cents were found, one of the coins being of a 1901 issue. There was nothing about the tattered garments to indicate where the clothing had been made or bought. Deputy Coroner Black believes the man had committed suicide. There is a short tree just over the spot where the body was found and Black believes the body hanged there until it fell off. The bones and clothing were brought to the morgue.

Mary Bacsara, aged 4, of Hughes alley, Allegheny, died yesterday afternoon at the St. John's General hospital from burns received at her home one hour before while playing about the kitchen. Neighbors were attracted by the child's screams and extinguished the flames. It is not known how her clothing ignited.

FAIRMONT, W. VA., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—His thick skull saved the life of Tom Blue, a negro laborer of Morgantown, who fell 90 feet from a building yesterday afternoon, and struck on his head on the brick pavement. Although dazed for a few minutes he later recovered.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND DON'T KNOW IT

To Prove what Swamp-Root, the Great Kidney Remedy, will do for YOU, Every Reader of The Pittsburgh Gazette May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Free by Mail.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease, therefore, when through neglect or other causes, kidney trouble is permitted to continue, fatal results are sure to follow.

Your other organs may need attention—but your kidneys most, because they do most and need attention first.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root will set your whole system right, and the best proof of this is a trial.

58 Cottage St., Melrose, Mass.

Dear Sir—

"Ever since I was in the army I had more or less kidney trouble, and within the past year it became so severe and complicated that I suffered everything and was much alarmed—my strength and power was fast leaving me. I saw an advertisement of Swamp-Root. And wrote asking for advice. I began the use of the medicine and noted a decided improvement after taking Swamp-Root only a short time.

"I continued its use and am thankful to say that I am entirely cured and strong. In order to be very sure about this I had a doctor examine some of my water today and he pronounced it all right and in splendid condition.

"I know that your Swamp-Root is purely vegetable and does not contain any harmful drugs. Thanking you for my complete recovery and recommending Swamp-Root to all sufferers I am very truly yours,

"J. C. RICHARDSON."

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything, but it promptly cures kidney, liver and bladder troubles, the symptoms of which are—obliged to pass your water frequently night and day, smarting or irritation in passing, brickdust or sediment in the urine, headache, backache, lame back, dizziness, poor digestion, sleeplessness, nervousness, heart disturbance due to bad kidney trouble, skin eruptions from bad blood, neuralgia, rheumatism, diabetes, bloating, irritability, wornout feeling, lack of ambition, loss of flesh, sallow complexion or Bright's disease.

If your water, when allowed to remain undisturbed in a glass or bottle for 24 hours, forms a sediment or settling or has a cloudy appearance, it is evidence that your kidneys and bladder need immediate attention.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is for sale at drug stores the world over in bottles of two sizes and two prices—fifty cents and one dollar. Remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

EDITORIAL NOTE—In order to prove the wonderful merits of Swamp-Root you may have a sample bottle and a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. The book contains many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured. The value and success of Swamp-Root are so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample bottle. In sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to say you read this generous offer in The Pittsburgh Daily Gazette. The genuineness of this offer is guaranteed.

BERRY CARRIES PLUMMER'S HOME

Defeated Candidate Returns to Work in Law Office, Wishing Winner Success.

WHAT COUNTY RETURNS SHOW

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

HOLLIDAYSBURG, PA., Nov. 8.—W. H. Berry carries Blair county, the home of his opponent, J. Lee Plummer, by a majority of 220. This is a Republican loss of 5,220 from the last state treasury fight.

Plummer takes a cheerful view of his defeat. He will continue to practice as a lawyer in this town. He said: "I am just as strong in my devotion to Republican principles and have not the slightest intention of putting on sack cloth and ashes and retiring to a hermit's cave because the sovereign people desired somebody else in the treasurer's office. Mr. Berry was the choice of the people and I wish him success in office."

The total vote cast for John Stewart for supreme court was 10,854. Charles E. Rice, James A. Beaver and George B. Orlady are given each about 2,200 plurality for judges of the superior court.

BEAVER, PA., Nov. 8.—The complete unofficial figures in Beaver county give Berry a majority of 943 over Plummer, the vote being Berry 9,376, Plummer 8,482. S. S. Holt, fusion candidate for judge, has a majority of 939 over J. Rankin Martin, Republican. The fusion ticket carried everything, the largest majority being 2,732 for James Anderton for register and recorder, who defeated J. S. Mitchell for re-election. The vote cast in the judgeship contest was 18,206, the largest in the history of the county. Besides those named the following were elected: Treasurer, J. G. Hillman; sheriff, J. S. Groscost; clerk of courts, G. M. Pierce; coroner, Dr. J. S. Wade; auditors, H. H. Swaney, S. M. White and F. Thompson; county commissioners, John Black, J. P. Corcoran and W. J. Patterson.

GREENSBURG, PA., Nov. 8.—Unofficial returns from all but two of the election districts of Westmoreland county indicate that the Republican party has won. The candidates for county offices have been elected by majorities ranging from 4,000 to 5,500, and J. Lee Plummer will run ahead of Berry by a majority of about 3,500. David W. Shupe won over R. W. Herbert by minority party commissioner by 600 votes. R. N. Guy and Herman Hammel are the minority poor directors.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 8.—Complete returns of yesterday's election show the following result for Lawrence county: State treasurer, Plummer 2,619, Berry 4,196; superior court judge, Rice 3,698, Beaver 3,496, Orlady 3,626, Head 1,411, Castle 1,567; clerk of courts, Andrews (Rep.) 3,020, Brand (Dem.) 1,129, Hainer (Pro.) 2,184; county treasurer, Baldwin (Rep.) 3,330, Fike (Dem.) 1,551, Bingham (Lin.) 1,848; county commissioners, McMillan (Rep.) 4,584, Pitts (Rep.) 3,488, McConaghy (Dem.) 2,184, Neal (Pro.) 1,555, McClelland (Ind.) 928.

BUTLER, Nov. 8.—Butler county gives William H. Berry, Democrat, a plurality of 557 over J. Lee Plummer, Republican, while between Alexander M. Campbell and William M. Kennedy, respectively the Republican and Democratic candidates for sheriff, there are but 27 votes, and the official count will be necessary to finally determine the winner. William A. Lowry has a majority of 932 over James H. McCollough for prothonotary. The vote as unofficially tabulated is as follows:

State treasurer, Berry (Dem.) 4,431, Plummer (Rep.) 3,574; sheriff, Campbell (Rep.) 4,217, Kennedy (Dem.) 4,190; prothonotary, William A. Lowry (Dem.) 4,485, James M. McCollough (Rep.) 3,502; county treasurer, Thomas Alexander (Rep.) 4,775, Charles C. Johnston (Dem.) 3,685; register and recorder, Porter Wilson (Rep.) 4,702, William B. Currie (Dem.) 2,980; county commissioner, William Sieber (Rep.) 4,578, Nathaniel S. Grossman (Rep.) 4,410, George P. Easley (Dem.) 3,115, William H. Graehe (Dem.) 2,953. The first three named were elected.

WAYNESBURG, PA., Nov. 8.—Complete election returns in Greene county, one precinct estimated, on state ticket, give Plummer 2,698, Berry 3,953, Stewart 3,105, Rice 3,277, Beaver 3,180, Orlady 2,151, Head 3,794; for common pleas judge, Downey (Rep.) 2,906, Ingram (Dem.) 4,355. The county ticket elected is: Treasurer, J. B. Cordon, Democrat; register and recorder, J. F. Tilton, Democrat; prothonotary, J. M. Scott, Democrat; clerk of courts, C. K. Sprage, Democrat; district attorney, H. C. Stagger, Democrat; director of poor, John King, Democrat; county commissioners, M. L. Pethel, Republican; J. L. Evans and J. G. Hunt, Democrats; auditors, H. R. Shultz, Republican, G. B. Orndorff and W. A. Thistlethwaite.

FRANKLIN, PA., Nov. 8.—Complete but unofficial returns from Venango county show that Berry has a majority of 1,104, which is more than the Democrats and Prohibitionists had predicted. He swept everything before him, carrying 47 out of the 57 precincts. Franklin gave him a majority of 105 and Oil City 201. The remainder of the Republican state ticket received a majority of about 900. The Republicans also elected their county ticket. Judge Criswell received a majority over Gleim of 338. The Prohibitionists succeeded in getting the minority member of the board of commissioners, H. A. Graham of Sandy Creek township, being chosen.

CRAWFORD COUNTY—Complete returns show that Plummer carried the county and the entire Republican county ticket was elected by about 3,500.

Jefferson County—Unofficial returns give Berry 3,511, Plummer 3,461. The balance of the state ticket is Republican by 1,400. John W. Reed, Republican, for common pleas court, wins out over S. H. Whitney, Democrat, and Prohibition, by 1,174. The entire county ticket is Republican.

CHAMBERSBURG, PA., Nov. 8.—Berry carries Franklin county by 1,028 majority and W. Rush Gillan, Democrat, for judge, wins by 824 over D. Watson Rowe. The Republican county ticket outside of the judge is elected by majorities ranging from 400 to 1,200.

Elk County—Complete returns give Plummer 1,318, Berry 4,124. The Democratic county ticket is elected with big majorities. Hyde, for associate judge, had 3,506 majority.

York County—complete—Treasurer, Plummer, R., 9,437; Berry, D., 14,594. Superior court, Rice, 11,722; Beaver, 10,521, Orlady, 13,230; Head, 11,924. Entire Democratic county ticket, including Nevvin M. Wanner for judge, is elected.

Clarion County—Complete returns give Berry a majority of 1,407. The entire Democratic county ticket was elected.

Centre County—Berry had 966 majority, the vote being, Plummer 3,610 and Berry 4,667.

Erie County—Revised returns give the county to Berry by 268 plurality.

Somerset County—Plummer's plurality in Somerset county is 652.

Lancaster County—The unofficial vote for state treasurer in Lancaster county is, Plummer 14,088, Berry 9,564. The Republican county ticket is elected by pluralities of from 9,000 to 10,000.

TO PURGE PAYROLL TO MAKE CITIZENS MACHINE STRONGER

Many City Employes Will Be Dismissed Who Failed to Deliver Votes on Tuesday—Preparing for Big February Fight.

The city payroll is to be purged. This has been decided upon by the city administration as the result of the crushing defeat sustained by the Citizens ticket at the county election on Tuesday. Every man on the city payroll, no matter in which department of office he is employed, who did not carry his election district and who may be suspected of not having done his whole duty, is in danger of losing his job.

Beginning next week the entire payroll of the city will be closely scrutinized by the leaders and compared with the vote cast on Tuesday in every ward and election district of the city. This will be done particularly in the wards where the Citizens expected their greatest strength and were woefully disappointed.

"We must prepare for the city election now," said Director Bigelow yesterday.

Following this announcement word went through the city hall and the public safety building that a radical housecleaning and purging of the payroll was to follow.

"Our majority in the city has been reduced beyond all expectations and we must strengthen our organization considerably if we expect to entertain the least hope of carrying the mayoralty election in February," said one bureau chief. "We have a great deal of dead timber on the payroll. There are men on who hold some of the best jobs and can hardly get a vote besides their own. They will have to go and their places given to those who can bring in the votes next February. It will be a desperate struggle and we must take extreme measures to win. It may be a hardship to discharge some but many got their places by favoritism and can not expect to retain them merely by favoritism at a time when the future of the party is at stake.

"There will be many changes in the payroll during the next two months and men in every department will find themselves out of a job. Their places will be offered to men who can do us the most good and who will help us elect a mayor and a majority of the councilmen.

"There will be some interesting developments in Director Bigelow's department, where are said to be scores of men employed who have absolutely no political influence. The same is true of the police and fire departments. There are men in the police and fire service who are suspected of not having been as interested in the success of the Citizens ticket as the managers expected them to be.

"The chief difficulty will be in finding the right men to take the places, knowing that the present administration goes out next April, but they must take their chances of the party winning in February to hold their jobs. We will try to get them, however, and from now on the payroll will be strengthened for the big fight in February."

NEARLY 100 MERCHANTS NAMED AS DEFENDANTS

Trading Stamp Company Charges They Are Illegally Using Commodity to Further Their Own Ends.

Nearly 100 merchants, whose places of business are in Pittsburgh, Homestead, Braddock, McKees Rocks, Millvale, Knoxville and Esplen are named as defendants in a bill of equity in which the Sperry & Hutchinson Company is the complainant. The hearing on the bill will be held Saturday. The complainant issues trading stamps to many subscribers in this county and the allegations is made that the defendants are issuing the same without having entered into any arrangement with the complainants. In its bill the complainant says:

That the defendants are engaged in buying or otherwise procuring from the customers of the complainant's subscribers and others, the Sperry & Hutchinson Green Trading Stamps which have been issued by the company to its subscribers to be used in advertisement of their business, and which have been so used by said subscribers, their purpose as an advertising medium having been fulfilled, and that defendants, having procured such stamps soaked from books and otherwise, are engaged in re-issuing them to their customers in connection with and as an inducement to the sale of their merchandise and as a premium or discount thereon; and that defendants are advertising in connection with the advertisements of their place of business in newspapers and by signs placed on their stores and otherwise that they give said company's stamps to their customers as premiums or discounts and that they traffic in said stamps and give said stamps in great numbers to their customers than the complainant's subscribers are permitted or find it profitable to do, thus attracting trade and customers to themselves by means of complainant's trading stamps.

Many of those named as defendants are among the members of the Anti-Trading Stamp association organized in Allegheny recently. It is stated that a book of trading stamps goes with cash sales amounting to $99, and it has been alleged the value of the prizes which go with the stamps is in no way commensurate with the amount of the cash sale. At the hearing Saturday the defendants will be represented by John Marron, while John Hall Jones of New York city and Charles A. Peth of Pittsburgh will represent the complainant. The company is chartered under the laws of New Jersey. It is doing business in this city as the Pittsburgh & Allegheny Trading Stamp Company, with offices at Fourth street and Duquesne way and a store at 620 Penn avenue.

CATS DEVOUR ROAST GOOSE. GUESTS GO HOME HUNGRY

Dinner Is Not Served to Bride Because Hostess Is Struck With a Stove Lifter.

Frank Malescoc and his bride, who came in from Braddock yesterday on a honeymoon jaunt, went back home dinnerless. They came in anticipation of roast goose and apple sauce, with giblet gravy, the dish which had been promised the bridal pair by Mrs. Michael Klopkos of Alexis street. It happened, however, that Mr. Klopkos was reluctant to entertain the bride and bridegroom, and, it is alleged, gained his argument by knocking his wife down with a stove lid lifter.

This happened while Mrs. Klopkos was bending over the range basting the goose. Neighbors heard the trouble and called the police. Klopkos and his wife were driven off to the Oakland police station, just as their guests appeared in sight.

Malescoc and his bride were left in a strange predicament. They thought it might embarrass their host and hostess if they would go to the police station, and they hesitated about starting back to Braddock. For a time they stood by a window in the Klopkos house and gazed sadly at the good dinner they had missed. On the table they saw the apple sauce, the rye bread, the garlic pickles and the mugs of hot coffee. Of course the door was locked and they could not sample the viands. Then they saw the Klopkos cat walk up serenely out of the cellar and devour the nice brown goose and the giblets.

Mrs. Klopkos' scalp was severely lacerated, and a physician was called to dress her wounds.

Ugly Negroes Are Locked Up.

The Allegheny police last night arrested six negroes in the West Penn station in Federal street and locked them up in Central station. It is said all were drunk and were causing a disturbance in the station. They were refused admittance to the gates leading to the Freeport train and declared they would have revenge. When half a dozen policemen appeared they put up no fight and went without resistance to the lockup. All said they lived in Freeport.

Boys Face Serious Charge.

Joseph and William Meyers, Frank Sullivan, Frank Bradshaw and George Martin, all of Hazelwood, were arrested yesterday afternoon by special officer Thomas Lloyd, charged with being suspicious persons. It is alleged that the boys, who are all under 21, broke into a harness shop in Hazlewood early in the morning but were frightened away before they could secure any goods.

LONG TIME BETWEEN BANQUETS IN MISSOURI

Guest of Honor Is Senator-Elect Warner, First Republican Elected Since Carl Schurz' Time in 1869.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 8.—United States Senator-elect Warner, the first Republican to be elected to the senate from Missouri since Carl Schurz, in 1869, was guest of honor at a farewell banquet here tonight. Senator Warner spoke to the toast, "National Issues," and said in part:

"The demand of the hour in official life is intellectual honesty, a demand for officials to act right as well as to think right. The man of all men in official life, who leads the column of intellectual honesty, is the President of the United States. No other president since Lincoln has trusted the people as Roosevelt trusts them; and no other president have the people trusted as they trust Roosevelt.

"The President's efforts to secure legislation clothing the Interstate commerce commission with power to insure a square deal between common carriers and shippers, have my unqualified support."

FATAL PRIZE FIGHT WILL BE THOROUGHLY GONE INTO

Annapolis Authorities and Naval Officers Will Investigate Death of Midshipman Branch.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Secretary Bonaparte stated today that the recent occurrences at the Annapolis naval academy resulting in the death of Midshipman Branch would be thoroughly investigated, but that at present no further orders would be issued.

Admiral Sands, the superintendent of the naval academy, today telegraphed Secretary Bonaparte that Lieuts. Fith and Noyes, of the cadet battalion, had been reduced to the ranks for participation in the unfortunate affair by which young Branch lost his life. The regulations provide for the investigation by a court of inquiry which it is stated at the department will undoubtedly recommend the trial by court-martial not only of the survivor of the prize fight, but of the timekeeper and the referee, both cadet officers, and perhaps of the cadet officers who permitted the men to withdraw from the supper like last Sunday evening to engage in the fatal encounter.

It was stated at the department today that while the naval authorities have ample machinery for any action necessary, they will not throw any obstacle in the way of an investigation which the local authorities might desire to make.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—In the testimony of John R. Hegeman, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, before the insurance investigating committee upon the resumption of the insurance investigation today, it was brought out that industrial insurance was considerably more expensive than other forms of life insurance. Mr. Hegeman, after classing industrial insurance as retail and the ordinary life as wholesale, illustrated the fact by an example in which for a stated age it was shown that for $1,000 policy of ordinary life the Metropolitan charged $18.55 annually, while for $984, the nearest amount for the stated age under the industrial plan, $31.20 was charged.

Mr. Hegeman was on the stand the greater part of the afternoon, and his testimony was along the line of the amount of the company's increase in business. He said in 1887 the company had a surplus of $568,29?, and at the end of 1904 it was $14,825,?43. At the end of 1887 the outstanding insurance was $162,-681,677, of which $147,758,287 was industrial. At the end of 1904 the outstanding insurance was $1,470,424,251, of which $1,127,885,-229 was industrial. The premium paid in 1887 amounted to $8,618,767 and in 1904 $50,898,924.

At the morning session Emory McClintock, actuary of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, who has been examined in part at previous sessions, was called and continued his testimony. He was asked by Attorney Hughes:

"In 1903 the amount realized by the company was $5,563,801 and the amount of dividends paid was $735,047; in 1904 the amount realized was $6,624,677 and the amount of dividends paid $838,504. Why, when the amount realized was over a million more, was the amount set aside for annual dividends nearly $300,000 less?"

Mr. McClintock said the reduction of interest must be taken into account. He also said that as the estimate for the year's earnings was made in November, and the dividends to be paid were calculated on estimate it was impossible to get accurate results.

Mr. McClintock said the ratio of expense to the total income of the Mutual Life Insurance Company was 20 per cent for the year 1904. This, he said, is also true of the New York Life Insurance Company and the Equitable Life Assurance society. In smaller companies the ratio was much lower, in some instances as low as 12 or 14 per cent.

The ratio of expense to the amount paid to policy-holders of the Mutual was shown to be 49 per cent. In the New York Life it is the same, while in the Equitable it is but 42 per cent. In some smaller companies it is as low as 29 per cent.

It is announced today that Stuyvesant Fish, president of the Illinois Central railroad, has consented to serve on a committee of three trustees of the Mutual Life Insurance Company to investigate that company. The other members of the committee are William Truesdale and John W. Auchincloss.

SEAT SALE FOR MME. CALVE CONCERT OPENS MONDAY

Mme. Calve, the famous operatic star, who will appear in concert in Carnegie Music hall on November 20, is said to have added largely to her already established fame as an operatic soloist during her present tour and her work in creations of Italian and early French schools is said to be unsurpassed. The sale of seats for the coming local concert opens on Monday morning next at Meller's music house, Fifth avenue.

BIG GATHERING OF GUARDSMEN

Prominent Army Officers Will Attend Pittsburgh's First Military Banquet.

STATE ARMORY BOARD MEETS

The first large military banquet in Pittsburgh's history will be held at the Hotel Schenley on the evening of November 24, at the close of the annual meeting of the National Guard Association of Pennsylvania, which is to be held here on that date. Gov. Pennypacker, prominent officers of the United States army and a number of distinguished officers of the state militia will attend, and will have prominent places on the toast list. The military men will appear in dress uniforms and the arrangements provide for a notable celebration.

Col. Albert J. Logan, president of the association, and Col. John P. Penney of the division staff, will go to Washington tomorrow with invitations to several of Uncle Sam's most prominent fighters, and their acceptances are practically assured. The presence of representatives of the regular army, the governor and the division and brigade commanders of the Pennsylvania guard will lend national importance to the gathering.

Two hundred guests are expected. These will include the regular delegates to the convention and their guests, together with the majority of the officers of the local national guard organizations. The toasts will give the orators an opportunity for the expression of new ideas for the improvement of the state's military force as well as patriotic utterances.

A large attendance of delegates is anticipated at the meeting. The proportion of representation of delegates provides for eight members of the general staff, six members of the division staff, four members each of the brigade staffs and six for each regiment. All officers in the guard are eligible for membership, but only the delegates are allowed the privilege of voting.

The program, as far as arranged, provides for a routine business session to be held in the Schenley at 9:30 o'clock in the morning. During the afternoon much of the time will be given over to the reading of papers on military subjects. The inauguration of the new officers will take place at this session. Maj.-Gen. Charles Miller, commander of the division; N. G. P.; Adjt.-Gen. Thomas J. Stewart, Brig.-Gens. John A. Wiley, J. P. S. Gobin and John W. Schall, have declared they will attend, and will have a prominent part in the banquet.

On his way to Washington Col. Logan will attend a meeting of the state armory board today. Gov. Pennypacker will preside and the board's organization will be completed. It is probable that the appropriation of $250,000, given by the last legislature for armories, will be given to the country companies of the regiments of the Second brigade. This would place the rural organizations on a firm footing and would place the city regiments in line to expect a much larger appropriation at the next session of the legislature. The members of the board beside the governor are: Gen. Stewart, Gen. Willis J. Hulings of the Sixteenth regiment, Col. W. G. Price of the Third, Col. Logan, Col. C. G. Daugherty of the Ninth and Col. L. A. Watres.

ENTERTAIN THE DELTA KAPPA DELEGATES

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Delegates from 41 chapters of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity, whose 60th annual convention begins tomorrow at the Waldorf-Astoria, were entertained tonight at a smoker in the house of Gamma Beta chapter of Columbia university. Business sessions will be held tomorrow and in the evening the visitors will be entertained at a theater party and supper. On Friday they will view the United American and British fleets and the convention will close by a banquet in the evening.

KOREAN EMPEROR WILL NOT STAND FOR THE NEW TREATY

Says He Will Commit Suicide if the Proposed Anglo-Japanese Arrangement Goes Through.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 8.—Advices from Korea by the steamer Empress of China today tell of the threat of the Korean emperor to commit suicide by swallowing opium because of his anger at Great Britain's attitude toward Korea. The emperor addressed a letter through the Korean foreign minister to the British minister at Seoul complaining of the absence of any reference to the independence of Korea in the Anglo-Japanese treaty.

The Korean emperor said he would not sanction any agreement which would establish a Japanese protectorate over Korea and later he informed one of the Korean princesses he would kill himself by swallowing opium rather than bear the threatened loss of Korean prestige.

T. S. Min, a wealthy Korean, arrived bound for Washington to seek American assistance for Korea.

PRINCE LOUIS IN NEW YORK TODAY

THE WHITE FLEET ANCHORS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]
NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Eighteen American and British warships from their anchorage in the North river will fire in unison at noon tomorrow a national salute of 21 guns in honor of King Edward's birthday. Each ship will be in full dress, a rainbow of flags streaching from stem to stern. Rear Admiral Prince Louis of Battenberg, with his squadron of six armored cruisers, is expected to arrive from Annapolis early tomorrow morning, coming to anchor probably about 8 o'clock.

Awaiting his arrival eight battleships and four cruisers of the North Atlantic fleet lie at anchor in the North river, stretching in single column in mid-stream from Seventy-ninth to One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street. The column is headed down stream, with the flagship Maine off Seventy-ninth street, and the Missouri, Kentucky and Kearsarge, of the first division, Alabama, flagship of the second division; Illinois, Iowa and Massachusetts, armored cruisers, West Virginia, flagship of the fourth division; Maryland, Colorado and Pennsylvania stretching in single column up stream at a distance of about 400 yards apart.

These 12 mighty ships, under the supreme command of Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, constitute the most formidable American fleet ever assembled off Manhattan island.

Entrance Was Impressive.

The entrance of the great white fleet into the river this afternoon was an impressive spectacle. With the Maine in the lead, they steamed up stream, and anchored in succession.

The Maine dropped anchor a few minutes after 2 o'clock. Four hundred yards above her the Missouri followed suit, a few minutes later and so on until the Pennsylvania, steaming the whole length of the column, came to a stop off One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street.

There will be no official salutes from the American fleet when the British squadron arrive tomorrow. All this ceremony was gone through with when Prince Louis' ships arrived off Annapolis a week ago today.

Rear Admiral Evans, commander-in-chief of the North Atlantic fleet; Rear Admiral Davis, commanding the second division of battleships, and Rear Admiral Brownson, commanding the armored cruiser division, will repair aboard the British flagship Drake soon after she arrives later to felicitate the British admiral prince upon the occasion of the king's birthday.

No fixed program has been announced for Prince Louis' first day in New York. He probably will make an official call, however, upon the commandant of the New York navy yard, and will probably receive welcoming visits from Mayor McClellan and Sir Percy Sanderson, the British consul general.

Will Attend a Dinner.

In the evening the prince will be the guest of the St. George society at their annual dinner. Sir Mortimer Durand, the British ambassador having sent his regrets, Prince Louis will be the ranking guest.

Every day of the prince's six-day visit in New York is filled with elaborate entertainments. General Grant will be his host at a luncheon on November 10, and a reception at Rear Admiral Coghlan's will follow. In the evening the naval academy alumni association will entertain the prince and his commanding officers at dinner.

An excursion to West Point is scheduled for November 11, and that evening Col. Robert M. Thompson, president of the Naval Academy Alumni association will entertain Admiral Prince Louis at dinner. The prince will spend Sunday, November 12, as he wishes, and in the evening will dine with Mayor McClellan. On the following day he will be the guest of the New York chamber of commerce at a luncheon and in the evening will attend the dinner at Coney Island, which th American bluejackets are to give to their British cousins.

The prince will give a grand ball on board the flagship Drake on November 14. On November 15 and on the last evening of his visit he will be given a dinner by the Pilgrim society of New York. The next day his squadron sails for Gibraltar.

The junior officers of the British and American squadron have made engagements for a round of entertainments that will make their six days' visit in New York a memorable gala week.

BIG FORTUNE DISAPPEARS.

American Woman, Resident in St. Petersburg, Is Murdered and Her Money Gone.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(Special.)—An Evening World special from St. Petersburg says: Louisa Webster, an American woman residing in St. Petersburg, was murdered in her home yesterday in broad daylight.

There is nothing to indicate who the murderers were, but the motive was robbery. She had in the house at the time cash amounting to 500,000 roubles, equivalent to $250,000, and this money has all disappeared.

TWO MINERS ARE ELECTED TO SIMILAR POSITIONS

A large American flag was flung to the breeze from the headquarters of the United Mine Workers, Diamond street, yesterday morning, as a declaration of the enthusiasm and appreciation of the miners and laboring men over the election of William Dodds as clerk of the courts of Allegheny county, and David Williams as clerk of the courts of Washington county. Both are miners and both were elected to the same positions on the Republican tickets of the two staunchest Republican counties in the election of Tuesday.

Extend Pastoral Call.

At a congregational meeting of the Providence Presbyterian church, Allegheny, last evening, a call was extended to the Rev. Augustus T. Schleich of the Ashland Presbyterian church of the Lehigh presbytery. The Rev. Dr. David S. Schaff of the Western Theological seminary moderated the call. The Rev. Mr. Schleich is a graduate of Princeton Theological seminary and will succeed the Rev. W. A. Klinter, who resigned to accept a call to the new church in Ambridge.

BOARD OF GOVERNORS OF ST. PETER'S LYCEUM

These are the energetic officials who conduct the affairs of the new Allegheny organization of 175 young men from the congregation of St. Peter's Roman Catholic church and other congregations of the North Side. In its membership are also a number of non-Catholics. From left to right the members of the board of governors are as follows: Lower row—Dr. C. V. McKelvey, the Rev. J. B. McCloskey, Joseph H. Sauers, Joseph A. Fisher. Upper row—Thomas A. Mowry, Oliver F. Warhus, Robert Johnston, S. H. Rafferty.

HUNDREDS OF VISITORS AT LIBRARY OPENING

St. Peter's Lyceum, Allegheny, Has New Feature—Large Membership of Young Men.

The new library of the St. Peter's lyceum of Allegheny was opened last night in the St. Peter's parochial school building, West and North Diamond streets. Several hundred visitors attended the opening. The interior of the building and the lyceum rooms were decorated with flowers, plants and the national colors.

The new library is located in a commodious room on the lower floor, which has been converted into a handsomely furnished and comfortable apartment, well equipped for library reading and the meetings of members of the organization. The lyceum is of recent organization, but has a membership of 175 young men of the North Side, who hold monthly meetings and occasional receptions, at which they entertain their friends.

A room on the lower floor has also been fitted up with billiard and pool tables and a third room is used as a gymnasium which is one of the principal attractions. The officers of St. Peter's lyceum are: President, Daniel J. Kelley; vice president, David Daly; secretary, Albert Neeson; treasurer, the Rev. J. B. McCloskey.

The Rev. Father McCloskey, an assistant pastor of St. Peter's is in supervision over the lyceum and is making it an attractive institution. The board of governors are Father McCloskey, S. H. Rafferty, Oliver F. Warhus, Robert Johnson, Joseph A. Fisher, Dr. C. V. McKelvey, Joseph H. Sauers, Albert Neeson and Thomas A. Mowry.

MILLS RUN ON SUNDAYS.

Unprecedented Rush of Orders Burdens Homestead Steel Works and Furnaces Run Continuously.

The Homestead steel works are overburdened with orders. The rush is especially severe on the plate mills and on the open-hearth furnaces, the latter being so far behind the requirements and capacity of the rolling departments that arrangements have been made to work all the furnaces Saturday nights and Sundays for some time. The rush is due to the enormous demand for steel plates for steel car construction. The steel car business is under tremendous pressure. Orders are on the books for thousands of cars and the plant has all the work that can be done in a year without booking another order.

Orders have been transferred to the South Chicago mills in order to get deliveries through on time. This is notwithstanding that the Homestead plate mills broke all previous records during the last month by shipping 47,000 tons and the 48-inch mill made a world's record by rolling 17,000 tons alone.

AMERICA LOSES ONE OF HER BEST PAINTERS

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—William Trost Richards, one of the best known painters of marine views, died here this morning, aged 72 years. Mr. Richards was born in Philadelphia. One of the best known of his works is "On the Coast of New Jersey," which occupies a prominent place in the Corcoran art gallery at Washington. There are 47 of his landscape and marine views in watercolors in the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York.

Strike Spreads in Austria.

VIENNA, Nov. 8.—The strike on the state railroads is spreading and threatens to become general. About 10,000 employes are already affected, and the engineers on all the lines in Bohemia have decided to join in the strike. Several factories have been compelled to restrict or suspend their production, owing to the lack of coal.

Johnson's Mysterious Jump.

John Johnson, who lives at 905 Carson street, South Side, jumped out of the second-story window of his home yesterday, fracturing his right leg at the knee. Johnson was taken to the South Side hospital, where his injury was dressed. No reason can be given for his act.

Faloon Is Held for Court.

G. W. Faloon was committed to jail for trial at court on a charge of entering a building with intent to commit a felony by Justice Jones of Homestead yesterday. Faloon was captured in the cellar of the home of A. K. Mitchell, 247 Third avenue, Homestead, by Mitchell Tuesday night.

CASTRO SENDS INVITATION.

Will Be Pleased to Entertain the Conference of American Republics at Caracas.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the governing board of the bureau of American republics at the state department today, Senor N. Veloz-Goiticoa, the Venezuelan charge d'affaires, made the statement on behalf of the Venezuelan government that if Caracas is chosen for the conference of American states his government would be pleased to accept the designation and would omit no effort toward the great success of the conference.

Secretary Root stated that this communication was received with much pleasure and would be considered at the regular monthly meeting of the board on December 5.

NEWS OF THE NEARBY TOWNS AND COUNTRY

GRAND JURY INDICTS TWO CITY COUNCILMEN

AKRON, O., Nov. 8.—Indictments were returned by the grand jury today against Jeremiah Amundson and J. Pearley Hale, members of the Akron council, on charges of soliciting bribes. Amundson is held for soliciting $1,400 from a pottery company beside a street. Hale is charged with soliciting $800 from a local newspaper for the passage of a building code of unusual length, which, according to law, was to be printed in the paper. Both men are under $10,000 bond, awaiting the action of the criminal jury.

Indignation Over Vaccination Law.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Indignation has been caused among residents of Mahoning township, this county, over the attempt of the school authorities to enforce the compulsory vaccination law. Their attempt has been met by the refusal of the parents of the students to comply with the law, and as a result nearly one-half of the scholars were excluded from school.

Long Term in Public Office.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—William Douds, present deputy sheriff of Lawrence county, has just completed 25 years' service in public office. In 1883 he was elected sheriff, and in this capacity and as deputy sheriff he has served continuously since then. Last Wednesday Mr. Douds celebrated his 73d birthday.

Opposition for Bell Telephone.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—An independent telephone company has been organized to install a complete system of telephones in New Wilmington, this county. The company is being organized in opposition to the Bell system. The required capital will be furnished by local capitalists.

Changes in Auditor's Department.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 8.—J. N. Langham of Indiana, chief clerk in the auditor general's department, has been made corporation deputy, succeeding the late John A. Glenn, and N. E. Hause of Wayne has been made chief clerk.

WOMAN ADMINISTERED THE MARRIAGE VOWS

BEAVER, PA., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Miss Carrie Sturgeon, daughter of Clerk of Courts John H. Sturgeon, who is a deputy in her father's office, today performed a marriage ceremony. This is probably the first time a woman ever administered the marriage vows in Beaver county. The contracting parties were A. H. French and Miss Minnie Fowler of Rochester. The wedding took place in the clerk's office.

PROMINENT MERCHANT DIES.

John S. Harah, of Uniontown, Passes Away After an Active Business Career.

UNIONTOWN, PA., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—John S. Harah, aged 79, one of the oldest merchants of this city, died early this morning at his home here. He was born near McKeesport and in 1827 his father, Samuel Harah, came here and started the Harah mercantile firm, which is still in business. For over 40 years J. S. Harah had carried on the business at 19 West Main street. For 56 years Mr. Harah had been a member of Fort Necessity lodge, Odd Fellows, and for over 30 years was its treasurer.

He had served on the borough council and the school board, and in politics was a Republican. He was twice married and is survived by his second wife and the following children: Mrs. Eliza B. Frost, George S. Harah, Mrs. Annette H. Pearce, Charles B. and John S. Harah, Jr., of Uniontown, and Mrs. Isaac Jackson, Sewickley.

HUSBAND AVENGES INSULT BY SHOOTING

STEUBENVILLE, O., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Because his wife was insulted by a boarder, Edward Jacey fired a load of shot into the breast of Wade Savage at Plum Run. Savage was drunk when he insulted Mrs. Lacey in Lacey's absence. He learned Lacey intended shooting him so he bought a revolver and cartridges. Others learning his intentions took the weapon from him. Later, when Savage was walking near Lacey's home, the latter fired on Savage, who fell fatally wounded. He is dying at the hospital. Lacey gave himself up and was lodged in jail.

CHARGE GRAFT AMONG THE COMMISSIONERS

AKRON, O., Nov. 8.—In a special report by the grand jury today, the county commissioners of Summit county are charged with letting contracts for bridges without advertising properly and without asking the county engineer for an estimate, as required by the statutes. The jury finds that bridge contracts for the past three years in this county have cost the taxpayers 40 to 60 per cent in excess of actual cost.

End of "White Slave" Trade.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Henry Pasquerella and Tony Victorello were sentenced to the Mansfield reformatory this afternoon by Judge Rodgers, and an end was made to the "white slave" trade in this city. They were charged with assault on Anna Smith, an alleged white slave, whom they are alleged to have kept in bondage. The men pleaded guilty.

GETS PRESIDENT'S CONSENT TO NAME HER SON FOR HIM

Allegheny Mother Receives Letter from White House. Theodore Roosevelt Gallowitz Will Be Christened Sunday in St. Paul's Church.

President Roosevelt has granted permission to an Allegheny mother to use his name to christen her seventh son. This privilege has been conferred upon Mrs. R. Gallowitz of Frederick street, Eleventh ward, Allegheny, whose infant boy, born two weeks ago, will be christened Theodore Roosevelt Gallowitz next Sunday morning at St. Paul's Lutheran church, Chartiers and Adams street, by the pastor, the Rev. A. R. Kundell.

Mr. and Mrs. Gallowitz are members of the church. They are Austrians but every one of their seven children, all boys, were born in Allegheny. The oldest is 9. They are all healthy and bright. The father has for years been employed as a carpenter at the Pt. Wayne railroad shops in Allegheny. Mrs. Gallowitz, who is proud of her large family of boys, is a prepossessing woman of 36. Both she and her husband are admirers of the President, and Mrs. Gallowitz requested her pastor, the Rev. Mr. Kundell, to write to President Roosevelt and ask his consent to name her child for him.

Mr. Kundell wrote the letter last Saturday and was much gratified to receive a reply from the executive of the nation yesterday. The reply was dated on Monday, and must have been written as soon as the pastor's letter was received. The minister, in writing, said that Mrs. Gallowitz was encouraged to make the request because of the knowledge that the President is an advocate of large families. The president's reply was as follows:

White House, November 8, 1905.

My Dear Sir: Your letter of recent date has been received. The president thanks you for writing. He has no objection to the use of his name for Mrs. Gallowitz's son, and appreciates the compliment implied by your request. May I ask you to be good enough to convey to Mrs. Gallowitz the president's hearty congratulations and his best wishes for the little boy.

Very truly yours,

WM. LOEB,
Secretary to the President.

Diocesan league—St. Anthony vs. St. Joseph; St. Henry vs. St. Charles.

The best match of the season in the Allegheny County league was played last night on the St. Joseph alleys between the champion Brunswicks and the Unger team of the Pittsburgh section. A large crowd was present. The Ungers were there with the goods and sent the champions down to bitter defeat for all three games. Capt. Wilson went out with the intention of chastising these chesty Ungers, but no doubt today he feels the chastisement. Every member of the Unger team rolled consistent games, and that is why they show three successive 900 scores. Scores of 200 are almost too numerous to mention, only one of the team failing to reach that coveted mark. The star of the contest was Gaus, having two 200 scores and the fine average of 200 2-3. Nickel and Meyer were also with fine averages. For the Brunswicks Kramer was the boss bowler, having high score of 214, and the fine average of 196 2-3. Frye also rolled his best match of the season. In the Monongahela valley section at Homestead last night the Homesteads took the Wilmerding team into camp for two out of three games. Homestead hit the high-water mark at 860, but fell down woefully in the second game. Charles Pherson was the boss bowler, having high score and best average. For the Wilmerdings Smith was there with the goods, having high score and best average—184 1-3. Scores:

The Sharpsburg County league team took two out of three games from the Royals in Allegheny County league on the Book alleys, Sharpsburg, last night. Moreland of the Sharpsburg team rolled high score of 184, and high average of 169 1-2. The last game was very close, with the Royals leading to the last frame. They had an excellent chance to win, but fell down at critical stages. Scores:

The Unity team will consist of Silber, Smith, Griffith, Fosnight and Coons. They will leave Union station at 5 p. m.

The Great Eastern and Glenwood teams will tonight play off the postponed match of Tuesday on the Great Eastern alleys.

A special meeting of the Barbers' league has been called for tonight on the Wylie avenue alleys. All members are to attend as business of importance will come up.

The Lang team would like to know why the Jeffries' team did not show up for a game last night. Please answer through The Gazette. The Langs are ready to roll any bowling team in Allegheny county, the Gerstbreines preferred.

Feigel a day or two ago equalled the duckpin record of the Southern alleys of 141. He averaged 124 for three games, the scores being 103, 128 and 141.

Capt. Kaska of the Hazelwood team is willing to postpone today's match with Carrick until tomorrow. All players take notice.

CRACK LOCAL GOLFERS ENTER AT ATLANTIC CITY

The entry list for the annual fall tournament of the Country club of Atlantic City, November 16, 17 and 18, is filling very rapidly. The Parkes from Pittsburgh, so well known as tournament competitors, have all entered, and the metropolitan district is already represented by a dozen of its leading players. Philadelphia, as usual, will be well represented, and the tournament, opening as it does the fall and winter golf, followed closely by Lakewood and the southern tournaments, practically marks the initial of golf for 1906 and 1906. The team contest, consisting of matches of teams of four from different clubs, will be particularly interesting, and it is expected a dozen clubs will compete for this trophy.

SENIORS BEAT JUNIORS BY SCORE OF 10 TO 8

The Western University of Pennsylvania Inter-Class Basketball league was opened yesterday afternoon in the university gymnasium by a clash between the teams representing the senior and junior classes. Individual work characterized the play, as neither team showed the slightest regard for team work. Among the bright features of the game was the work of McCormick at guard. Capt. Bole of the Juniors pitted Mac against Marsh, the varsity forward, and that he performed well is easily shown from the fact that Marsh was unable to get a single field goal. During the first five minutes of play neither side scored. At this point Creelman, the wee one, was slightly injured, and upon resuming play Gill secured the honor of scoring the first point of the season by dropping an easy goal from field, and the Senior cohorts smiled with delight. But those smiles changed to frowns shortly afterward, when Rose scored a goal from foul, followed in rapid succession by a field goal by Creelman and a foul goal by Bole. Near the end of the half Marsh, after several attempts, also secured a goal from foul. The half thus ended with the Juniors having a lead of one point.

During the intermission Marsh, the Senior captain, persuaded Jack Biggert, the star guard of last year's '06 team, to come to the rescue of his classmates. At the beginning of play Jack replaced Mulhein, who had played well during the first half. Jack soon made his presence known and by means of his dribbling he assisted Whyte in throwing two field goals. Then Marsh scored a point from the foul line.

With the score 8 to 4 against them, the Junior rooters implored their team to tie the score. Then the Juniors started to "rough it" and Terbush managed to shoot a goal from the field. On resuming play both teams continued their rough work. During the confusion Referee McCandless called a foul on Bender, but the play was so fast that neither team heard the whistle. In the continued playing Marsh dropped the ball in the basket by a great shot from the center of the floor, but the referee refused to allow the goal, and the Junior rooters gave Marsh the laugh. Bole did not succeed in the attempt to score from the foul line. Bender then secured the ball and, dribbling it the length of the floor, passed to Gill, who secured his second field goal. Having but one minute to play, the Seniors resorted to defensive tactics, but, nevertheless, Terbush tallied another field goal shortly before the bell rang. Line up:

Creelman	F	Marsh
Terbush	C	Gill
McCormick	G	Bender
Rose	G	Mulhein (Biggert)

WUPS PREPARING FOR W. AND J.

Several Cripples Expected to Be in Condition for Saturday's Big Conflict.

MASS MEETING FOR TODAY

The W. U. P.'s are practicing quietly and carefully at Exposition park for Saturday's game with W. & J. Yesterday afternoon almost the entire squad reported and the coaches kept two teams running for an hour in a brisk drill. The regular varsity lineup which has been practically unchanged in the last two weeks, worked together again and a large repertoire of plays was run off with precision. Every care is being taken of the invalids just at present. Schmidt was out today and took part in practice and Edgar and Yielding were put through a short signal drill. The coach felt much encouraged by the improved condition of Frank Griggs, who it was thought could not possibly play on Saturday. Griggs, however, appeared on the field and engineered the varsity for a few minutes. In case of Griggs' inability to go in the W. and J. game, the duties of quarterback will doubtless devolve upon Boisseau. Hank made an excellent showing in the F. and M. game, the varsity working better under his direction than in any game yet played this season.

The team is now in the best condition this season and the only thing which bodes evil for Saturday is the unfitness of Perry, one of the stars of all. The accident which forced him to retire from Tuesday's game proved far more serious than was at first imagined and the plucky end has been confined to his room since. However, with the physicians working constantly with him, it is expected that he will be in for part of the game at least on Saturday. Schmidt's rapid recovery is very gratifying to the coach. Another accident which was little noticed in Monday's game was the terrible wrench which Q. Banbury received just at the close of the first half. Banbury, however, was out yesterday well protected by extra pads.

Moorse gave both Griggs and Boisseau a chance yesterday and the results proved that he has two dependable quarterbacks for the big game, with Ritchie and Swenson a reliable reserve. The overwhelming victory over Franklin and Marshall has somewhat restored confidence among W. U. P. followers. Although no assertions can be obtained from the camp in regard to the W. and J. contest, yet their is an air of quiet confidence among the players.

All W. U. P. students will turn out for the mass meeting in Kenyon hall, Allegheny, this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The new student band, which has held several rehearsals, will perhaps be given their first trial in public. It is said that today's meeting will be the largest student meeting ever held in the history of the W. U. P. The different departments have been practicing the new yells and songs for the last two weeks and they will be rehearsed by several hundred voices this afternoon. The meeting will be addressed by the chancellor and several student orators, as well as by an alumni representative. The students are worked up to the highest pitch of excitement already and are crazy to cut loose en masse in the form of a big noise bleachers was begun yesterday morning and will be completed by this evening. The new seats will be given a coat of paint on Friday and will be ready for use by Saturday. The sale of seats for the game is utterly unprecedented in Pittsburgh. Most of the grandstand has been already disposed of and good seats are already selling at a premium.

DEATHKNELL OF THE GRIDIRON IS SOUNDED

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Coach Reid, of Harvard, in an open letter tonight, sounds the deathknell of American college football. Coach Reid finds the game too brutal and appeals to the alumni of the Crimson university to change it. The letter is addressed to John D. Merrill, secretary Harvard Graduates' Athletic association, and is as follows:

"After several years of experience with intercollegiate football, after careful consideration of the criticisms which have been made of the game, and after the many honest and fruitless efforts to change it so that these criticisms could be avoided, I have become convinced the game as it is played today has fundamental faults which cannot be removed by any mere technical revision of the rules.

"Although I am willing to admit the necessary roughness of the game may be objectionable to some people, that appears to me to be much less serious than the fact there is a distinct advantage to be gained from brutality and the evasion of the rules—offenses which in many instances the officials cannot detect because they are at sea when the players and the ball also are hidden from the eyes of the umpire.

"In addition, it seems to me that the influence of the game and of the conditions which now accompany the contests of the season of the players, the students, the graduates and the public generally is not, on the whole, an influence for good. For these reasons I have come to believe that the game ought to be radically changed or else abandoned.

"I therefore respectfully request your association, which represents the alumni of the university, immediately to appoint a committee whose duty it shall be to make a careful investigation of the subject, and either to report such thoroughgoing alterations in the game as will remove the unfair advantage now obtained from violation of the rules, will put a higher premium on skill, make mere weight and strength of less value, and will produce a more scientific and interesting sport, or if such a transformation of the present cannot be brought about, to suggest some new style or kind of game to take its place at Harvard."

AMONG THE KICKERS.

Bellevue Stars would like to arrange games with all 25 to 25-pound teams. Address Charles Blackmore, Harrison avenue, Bellevue.

The Leetsdale High school would like to arrange games with all 60 and 65-pound teams. Shadyside Second, Ben Avon High and Monaca High preferred. Address Dale Wadsworth, Leetsdale, Pa.

The Pequots, a 75-pound team, is without a game for November 18 on their grounds. Address W. E. Gillespie, 510 Union station, city. Pequots have enclosed grounds, give best of treatment and liberal terms.

The Pequot Second eleven would like to book games with all 65-pound teams for the month. Are without a game for Saturday. Address W. C. Skiles, 326 Craig street, Allegheny, or call up 763 Court.

Sprindale High school challenges all 30 to 35-pound teams. It has never let its opponent reach the 35-yard line. Would like to hear from some good amateur team for Saturday. Address J. C. Myers, Box 142 Springdale, Pa.

The Idlewild Indians of Homewood still have November 25 and Thanksgiving afternoon open for 60 and 65-pound teams. They would like to know if the game with Bouquet is good for Saturday. Address James McKee, 5408 Penn avenue, East End.

The Brushton Mohawks are without a game for Saturday and would like to hear from some good lightweight team, La Belle, Hamilton and Brown preferred. Call up Brushton pharmacy, 'phone 3034 Wilkins and ask for Gibson, or address H. W. Wilson, 7611 Tioga street, city.

Hillside A. C. will play the Linwood A. C. on Saturday at old P. A. C. park. Would like to hear from Manager Wallace of the Sterlings, regarding their game. Address T. B. Rodgers, corner Park avenue and Shetland avenue, East End. P. & A. 'phone 831-X, Bell 2126-J Highland.

Labelle has signed D. Scott, formerly of the Twin City team. Eberhart will be taken from left end and played in the backfield for the rest of the season. Labelle would like to hear from all teams in the 90-pound class, such as Melvin A. C., Brushton Mohawks, Coraopolis Indians, and Franklin A. C. preferred. For games address W. Baird, Malloy's drug store, 1311 Rebecca street, Allegheny.

The Schenley A. C. plays the strong Bowman City team, Saturday at Kennedy park. The following Schenley A. C. players are requested to report for practice this evening without fail: J. Vincent, W. Vincent, Share Cadin, H. B. Breitenbach, G. Taylor, Gramberz, Conley, Steinhouse, Whatt, Sipper, Mitchell and Ladner. The Schenley A. C. still has a few dates open for games at home with good 70-pound teams. Address R. H. Breitenbach, 7353 Stanton avenue, station E, Pittsburgh.

WILL GIVE UP A THOUSAND PLUNKS

PICKS FITZ TO BEAT O'BRIEN

Jack Johnson, the big California negro fighter, whom many experts think the equal of Jim Jeffries, is in Pittsburgh. He is on his way from Chicago to Philadelphia, and stopped over here to see some of his friends. John is a cleancut individual with clear skin and bright eyes. He has two fights on at Philadelphia, one with Mike Schreck and the other with Big Geret. They will take place within the next two weeks. Johnson, by the way, declared that it was not Mike Schreck who lost on a foul the other night, as he was with Mike in Chicago on the night that the latter was supposed to have met and lost to Jack Crawford at Hot Springs.

Johnson says he is open to meet any man in the world. Some time ago he lost the decision to Marvin Hart, unfairly, as he claims. He declares he will give $1,000 to any charitable institution if Hart agrees to meet him again. Further he will not want a cent if he does not show 10,000 people in the grounds, and if he wins will divide the money anyway Hart wants, even an even split. Hart has drawn the color line since he met Johnson and the California negro doubts if he can get the Kentuckian in the ring again. Jeffries has also drawn the color line, and this leaves Johnson stranded.

In Johnson's opinion their is nothing but Fitzsimmons in the fight between Bob and Jack O'Brien, even if there is a "frame-up." Johnson claims that the fight between Fitzsimmons and George Gardner was framed up for Fitz to lose, but the freckled man ran out his string and toppled over Gardner. If the coming fight between Fitzsimmons and O'Brien is fixed, the negro heavyweight is certain that Fitz will win, if the cue is for Fitz to lose, he won't, unless absolutely knocked out and O'Brien will never be able to do that.

Frank Sutton, the local colored boxer, had Johnson in town yesterday and showed him the sights of the city.

BASKETBALL LEAGUE.

The Sharpsburg Y. M. C. A. has formed a basketball league composed of the several churches in Sharpsburg and Etna. Games will be played on the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium floor every Saturday evening until March 17. The first game was played last Saturday between the M. E. church team and the team from Grace M. P. church. The boys from the Grace church won from their opponents by a score of 23 to 12. The athletic committee of the Y. M. C. A. has charge of the league and the principal official at all games will be Athletic Instructor W. F. Crane.

The schedule is as follows: November 11, U. P. vs. Lutheran; November 18, M. E. vs. Presbyterian; November 25, U. P. vs. M. P.; December 2, Lutheran vs. Presbyterian; December 9, M. E. vs. U. P.; December 16, M. P. vs. Lutheran; December 23, Presbyterian vs. U. P.; December 30, M. E. vs. Lutheran; January 6, M. P. vs. Presbyterian; January 13, M. E. vs. M. P.; January 20, U. P. vs. Lutheran; January 27, M. E. vs. Presbyterian; February 3, U. P. vs. M. P.; February 10, Lutheran vs. Presbyterian; February 17, M. E. vs. U. P.; February 24, M. P. vs. Lutheran; March 3, Presbyterian vs. U. P.; March 10, M. P. vs. Lutheran; March 17, M. P. vs. Presbyterian.

Students tickets for the cheering section were put on sale yesterday and will likely be all disposed of this evening. No student tickets will be received at the gates on Saturday. A few general admission tickets will be on sale before the game at the special price of $1. The section will only hold bleachers was begun yesterday morning and will be completed by this evening. The new seats will be given a coat of paint on Friday and will be ready for use by Saturday. The sale of seats for the game is utterly unprecedented in Pittsburgh. Most of the grandstand has been already disposed of and good seats are already selling at a premium.

SOLD 806,777 BARRELS OF BEER IN PAST YEAR

Annual Report of Pittsburgh Brewing Company Shows Increase of Net Earnings.

Gross earnings slightly smaller, but net earnings considerably better than last year, summarizes the seventh annual report of the Pittsburgh Brewing Company, submitted to its stockholders yesterday. The directors were re-elected, as follows: Leopold Vilsack, H. E. Wahnwright, F. W. Mueller, Fred Gwinner, T. S. Straub, Joseph A. O'Neill, Marcus Aaron, William Ruske, C. A. Trauenheim. Member of advistory committee, S. J. Wahnwright, Jr.

The report of President F. W. Mueller says: I take pleasure in submitting to you this the seventh annual report of the president of your company.

I congratulate you upon the fact that the business of your company continues to prosper with undiminished vigor.

In the last year there has been added to the sinking fund, established for the reimpetion of this company's bonds, the sum of $58,580, making the aggregate sum in the sinking fund at present $190,581.29.

During the same period the total sales of the company's product amounted to 806,777 barrels, an increase over the sales of the preceding year of 5,616 barrels, and in this same time the earnings were $1,734,906.98, from which the mentioned sum there was written off for depreciation, etc., $391,415.12, leaving the net earnings for the year $1,343,491.74. After payment of the interest on the outstanding bonds and the payment of dividends on the preferred and common stock, amounting to $1,104,250.99, there was added to the surplus fund the sum of $299,234.85, thereby increasing the total surplus of the company to $3,161,298.56.

The increased earnings arising in the fiscal year just ended were largely due to the judicious investments heretofore made by the company.

Detailed reports showing the financial affairs and operations of the company will be submitted by the secretary and treasurer.

Stocks and bonds in treasury: 181 bonds, 7,998 shares preferred stock, 10,755 shares common stock.

The first annual meeting of the Independent Brewing Company will be held today, and there will be considerable interest in the developments in view of the rumor for some time past that the common stock of the company is to be placed on a dividend basis. The comparison between the two concerns, which practically monopolize the beer production of this district, will also be found interesting.

STRAINED RELATIONS BETWEEN HARVARD AND OLD PENNSY

Looks as if Michigan Might Be Taking the Place of the Crimsons—Game on Saturday Will Be Played Just the Same.

BIG COLLEGE TEAMS IN HARD PRACTICE

Yale Men Take Their First Scrimmage in the Game With Columbia.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—John Drew and several members of his theatrical company were guests of Walter Camp and the other Yale football coaches today on Yale field. They were greatly interested in following the drill, although the quality of play was far from encouraging to Yale men. Not until today have the varsity players scrimmaged since the Columbia game, and the men who bore the brunt of that battle were not used today. Shevlin and Cates only ran down under punts. Morse, Flinn and Veeder caught kicks and Jones was not even on the field.

The scrubs scored two touchdowns against the varsity during the open practice and made much trouble for the big fellows during the long secret drill. They did not seem to wake up to the defense. Knox, a diminutive but heady halfback, who has come with a jump for the last fortnight, scored both touchdowns by dogleg runs. Irwin may be able to remove his scholarship difficulties by the end of the week. He rejoined the varsity at guard today and played a strong game. Coach Heffelfinger arrived today. He will try to bolster up the center trio. Al Sharpe has also come to town. He will coach the punters.

Princeton.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—The Tigers are still in secret practice and the coaches have become even more reticent than usual as to what goes on behind the gates. There is little doubt, however, that the present policy is to push the men to the limit. It is perfectly true that the team's physical condition has not been good this season, and they have not yet appeared in a game without being forced to use substitutes. The whole trouble is simply that the team has never, from the very first of the season, shown the power to work together consistently. There has been no lack of good individual playing, and when one considers the team as made up of individuals, the fact that it is a very powerful one stands out unmistakably. Granting that the men's physical condition can be brought up to the desired mark, the whole problem of the coaches now appears to be the production of unified play by the fast and furious work that is now going forward.

Cornell.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—From the lashing that Coach Glenn S. Warner gave the Cornell pupils tonight it would seem that he is determined to make a last effort to bring his team into prominence in the Princeton game on Saturday. He was not, however, satisfied with the results, as the varsity allowed the scrubs a touchdown and there is a probability that the drubbing will be repeated tomorrow night, regardless of the fact that the team will leave on the following morning for Princeton. The practice today was perhaps the hardest that has been seen on Percy field this year. For 45 minutes the varsity was kept in constant fierce battle with the scrubs, made up largely of the men who have won substitute positions and were bent upon making the varsity do its worst. All of the varsity, with the exception of the two tackles, were in the line-up. Sheldon replaced Cook at left tackle and O'Rourke was in Capt. Costello's place at right tackle.

Pittsburgh Lyceum.

The Lyceum squad is none the worse as a result of the fierce struggle with the Niagara university eleven on election day. The team will line up tonight at the Pittsburgh college grounds for practice, as the game with Monaca Saturday is expected to be one of the hardest of the season's schedule. Monaca will outweigh Lyceum by from 10 to 15 pounds to a man. Several of the Monaca players attended the Lyceum-Niagara game and said after the contest that Lyceum will have just as hard, if not a harder proposition, in the next game. As Lyceum has not met a line this season through which she could not make some first downs it is hardly likely that Monaca will prove an exception. Lyceum is not taking any chances and Coach Bird wants to see every player out for practice. A new quarterback will be tried out this evening.

State College.

STATE COLLEGE, PA., Nov. 8.—State's varsity football leader, Yeckley, has been sent home by the coaches because he is in extremely poor condition and has a badly bruised arm, received at Annapolis last Saturday. It looks as though history is repeating itself, for it is remembered that Forkum, State's captain last season, was stricken with pneumonia a week previous to the important Dickinson battle. Saturday, at Norwood, State will play Dickinson at Williamsport, and the prospects are that the boys in white and blue will once again be compelled to go upon the gridiron without their captain.

Close Run for His Life.

UPPERVILLE, VA., Nov. 8.—The fourth day's trial of the Grafton-Middleburg hounds for the $1,000 a side in the Piedmont valley to capture reynard's hush furnished good sport for 35 minutes today. The hounds, however, only succeeded in running the fox to earth within a short distance of where he was gotten up. The English hounds showed greater speed than on any

CHECKS ARE PAID; NO MONEY OWED

BIG CLAIM AGAINST THE CITY

The testimony of W. D. Hunnewell that he had never indorsed two checks for $6,500 and $2,000, and an attempt to prove that wrong entries had been made in the minute books of three fire insurance companies, were the interesting features of the trial of A. G. Marshall, the insurance promoter, in criminal court yesterday. Hunnewell testified that he never received the checks which are shown on the books of the Duquesne Mutual, North American and Lafayette companies, had never placed his indorsement on them and the companies did not owe him any money.

W. N. Whiteford, a director of the North American company, denied the correctness of a minute which showed a motion had been seconded by him that the company give its note for $6,500 for certain stocks of the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke Company and of the Consolidated Lead and Zinc Company. He testified he had seconded a motion that this stock was to be bought for $1,500, for which the company would give its note for one year without interest.

W. F. Frederick, vice president of the Mercantile Trust Company, was not permitted to testify, although he stated before it could be ruled out that he had investigated the stock of the three companies and found it of no value.

Harrison Snyder, a director of the Somerset National bank and president of the Rockwood Coal and Coke company, testified that bonds mentioned in the report to the state insurance department were not owned by the insurance companies, but were the property of the Rockwood Coal and Coke Company. William Ennis, whose name appears on the minutes of a meeting held by the Duquesne company, testified he was not present at the meeting.

Son Is Severely Lectured.

Judge Brown gave Patrick Welsh, who was tried for assaulting his aged mother and assessed with the costs, a severe lecture. The mother did not want her son punished.

The Mercantile Trust Company has filed a supplemental declaration of claim against the city of Pittsburgh in the suit of Jonathan Clark & Sons Co. for use of the trust company against the city. The trust company now claims, in addition to the amounts included in its original affidavit, $28,334 65 with interest from December 16, 1902, under the terms of the contract for Highland reservoir No. 2. It is alleged the city reserved 5 per cent of the contract price for one year as a guarantee that any repairs caused by defective workmanship would be made. Director J. Guy McCandless, then head of the department of public works, delivered his award that the trust company was entitled to $35,255 51, less $23,334 65, on February 18, 1905, and that the work was completed on December 4, 1904. It is claimed that the award did not contain the amount now claimed.

Mrs. Elizabeth Evans, contesting the will of Thomas L. Parry of Homestead, charges in her petition that the deceased was incapacitated from making a will and was unduly influenced by his widow and two daughters of his second wife. Mrs. Evans is a daughter by Parry's first wife, and it is asserted by the petition that her rights were not considered in the distribution of the estate, and that out of a large fortune she, her brother and sister, received only $2,500, while Miss Sadie Parry received about $35,000.) An attachment was issued on the petition returnable November 18.

C. Anchor sued J. Kay Brown for $5,000 and George K. Packham sued Mrs. C. W. Evans for $10,000, each plaintiff alleging slander.

In the suit of the Evansville Contracting Company of Indiana against the United States, in which the company claims about $75,000 for work it did for the government in the construction of dams and locks Nos. 3, 4 and 5 in the Ohio river, the attorneys began taking depositions before United States Commissioner William T. Lindsey.

Litigation Over a Road.

Questions of fact in the mandamus proceedings brought by some Esplen property holders against the borough council to repair and improve River avenue, the old Robinson turnpike, are being determined before Judge Young. A number of witnesses were called to show that the road is dangerous and that council has repeatedly been asked to improve the highway, councils denying that they had been negligent. The annexationists carried the borough on Tuesday by 197 to 171 and it will soon be a part of Pittsburgh.

The Pittsburgh Writing Machine Company, manufacturers of the Pittsburgh visible typewriter, brought suit in the circuit court against the L. C. Smith Bros. Typewriter Company and the Monarch Typewriter Company, claiming infringement of the Pittsburgh Writing Machine Company's patents for a visible typewriter.

Theodore Cappell, receiver of the Schilling Bros. Company, filed a bill in equity asking that the transfer of the Bloomfield pharmacy to Frank S. Schilling and W. H. Thompson be declared void, and that an accounting be taken between them and the Schilling Bros. Company is necessary. The receiver asserts the transfer was made by P. C. Schilling, president of the Schilling Bros. Company, without authority of directors or stockholders.

The city of Pittsburgh and Delinquent Tax Collector Andrew Fulton filed an answer to the suit of the Pittsburgh Opera House Company, denying that the plaintiff was not delinquent and not legally bound to pay the 5 per cent penalty on its taxes. It is denied that while an appeal was pending the defendants did not attempt to collect the tax for 1904. It is denied any officer authorized to represent the defendants gave assurance to the plaintiff that the city's claim would be abandoned or reduced.

Rauhtischek & Conant have answered the suit of John K. Ewing. It is admitted that the plaintiff was to have 5 per cent commission if he sold the Nixon restaurant and bar for at least $40,000. It is alleged the subsequent sale of the place was not through the plaintiff, but was made after all contractural relations between him and the defendants ended.

Catherine Schmidt obtained a preliminary injunction against the Pittsburgh, Etna and Butler Street Railway Company restraining it from building on the Butler pike, a county road. A hearing was fixed for Saturday.

Executions issued: Mrs. Sarah J. Grubbs vs. Ellsworth J. Sweeney, $5,000; same vs. same, $5,000; William J. Wood vs. Ellsworth J. Sweeney, $1,005; same vs. same, $1,000; A. H. Rowland, Jr., vs. Charles Burger, $250; Joseph Bubler, Jr., vs. Charles Burger, $3,166; Charles Burger, Jr., vs. Charles Burger, $500; George Blackmore, use, vs. Sarah B. Ebberts, $1,029.

DAUGHTERS LIFT THE LID.

Descendants of Revolutionary Fathers Find Embargo Against Newspapers Hurts Society.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—At the meeting today of the national board of directors of the Daughters of the American Revolution, it was reported that nearly $15,000 had been raised during the past month toward the fund for the construction of the memorial continental hall, now building here.

The board today adopted resolutions presented by Miss Desha of Kentucky, lifting the embargo against giving out news of the society, an inhibition which resulted from the squabble in the last annual convention when unpleasant features of the meeting gained publicity through the newspapers. It was shown that the society had suffered from the operation of the embargo.

NOBLE IS TRAIN WRECKER.

Sprout of German Nobility Says He Has Mad Desire to Witness a Railway Disaster.

MARENGO, IA., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Erich von Kutzleben, scion of a family of the German nobility, was placed on trial here today charged with murder by wilfully wrecking a Rock Island passenger train near here on March 21. By the defendant's side sits the Baroness Kutzleben, his mother, who came all the way from Germany to attend the trial.

Prior to the wreck Kutzleben was employed by the railroad as a roustabout and in a written confession gave as a reason for his action that he has "an uncontrollable desire to see how a railway wreck would look."

Awaiting Legation Guard.

Company I, First United States infantry, which has been stationed at the Allegheny arsenal, is hourly awaiting the arrival of Company B, Ninth infantry, known as the "Legation Guard," which has been stationed in Peking, China, for the past three years. Upon the arrival of Company B members of Company I of the First infantry will leave at once for Fort Sheridan, where it will await final orders to leave for Alaska.

Want Mr. Griscom to Remain.

YOKOHAMA, Nov. 8.—The American Asiatic association, representing the sentiment of the entire business community and the missionary body of Japan, has sent a request to President Roosevelt that Minister Griscom be retained at Tokyo as ambassador representing the American government.

THE CLUBS

Contributions to this department must bear the name and address of the writer to insure attention.

Question a Pertinent One.

Are club women losing interest? This is the question which has been asked during the past year, particularly with regard to the civic work, which was taken up so enthusiastically two or three years ago. In order to find an answer, if possible, the New Era club, at its meeting yesterday, took up civics for discussion, each of the various committees on civics reporting what it had been doing. Though the reports were a surprise as to the amount of work accomplished, it was evident that only a few women still maintain their interest, and while each committee is large the workers constitute a very small proportion of those who compose them. "Though enthusiastic reports were presented in general there seems to be less enthusiasm for civic work among the club women," said Mrs. James R. Kibler, the president of the New Era club, last evening.

The program yesterday was presented under the direction of Mrs. Levi Bird Duff. Miss Jeannette Eaton created a great deal of interest by her report of school gardens and medical inspection in the schools. She advocates the opening of school gardens, especially in the schools in the lower and more crowded parts of the city. Her report for medical inspection was rather pessimistic, she claiming that a really good physician has not the time to give to this work, while a young physician who may be secured still lacks experience, which should be a requirement.

The juvenile court work was presented by Mrs. Alice B. Montgomery, the chief probation officer. Miss Helen Grimes told what may be done in the cities by the forestry committee, and Dr. Margaret Gould spoke for the hospital committee, a committee which was appointed to assist a similar sub-committee of the permanent civic committee, and which exerts itself to find places for convalescents when they are sufficiently restored to health to leave the hospital, but are not yet able to work. A paper on "The Heroic Age" was prepared and read by Miss Helen Grimes, who also furnished the music for the afternoon. Afterward tea was served by the social committee and a social hour followed.

Waldensian Society's Good Report.

The Waldensian society of Pittsburgh is closing a very successful year, having raised over $600 for the work of the Waldensians in Italy, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Angelini. The society holds quarterly meetings, the annual meeting occurring late in December or soon after New Year's day. It will be timed to meet the visit of a representative of the work in Italy, who will come to this country and to Pittsburgh to keep up interest in the society's work. Mrs. Angelini may not be able to come herself, though she usually represents the workers since she has a command of the English language. The annual meeting will also take the form of an afternoon reception and meeting in the Twentieth Century club, when the aims of this religious work among the peasants of Italy will be presented. The officers of the local society include Dr. J. H. McClurkin, president; Miss Nannie Gillespie, recording secretary; D. A. Nevin, treasurer. The vice presidents are selected from the different churches represented in the society.

Reception at Crittenden Home.

The Florence Crittenden Home and Rescue association of Pittsburgh and Allegheny will observe its annual reception and donation day this afternoon and evening from 2 o'clock until 10, in the home, 1853 Center avenue, Herron Hill. The officers of the association include the president, the Rev. Dr. D. C. Martin, vice president, George M. Paden; treasurer, Edwin L. Porter. The board of managers is composed of members of churches of different denominations. The home was established 13 years ago, and during its existence has cared for hundreds of girls and women, giving them shelter and protection and providing them with work and in many cases restoring them to their homes. The association will gladly receive donations of money, clothing and provisions. These may be sent to the home in care of the matron, Mrs. Belle Powers. Checks should be sent to the treasurer, E. L. Porter, Frick building.

Gratified Over Success of Tea.

The board of managers of the Childrens' Aid society of Allegheny county reported at the monthly meeting on Tuesday of this week the financial result of the recent Japanese tea, $850 having been cleared. One or two committees are still to be heard from. At the meeting of the society on Tuesday reports of the recent charities convention in Washington were given by the president, Mrs. H. E. Grant and Mrs. William Bartley, who spoke particularly of the work of the Indiana Industrial School for Girls, conducted by Miss Sue Willard. Many of the girls who are taken care of by the society are placed in this institution for a few months, where they are taught obedience, together with training in cooking, sewing, sweeping and other features of the domestic arts. They are then placed in private homes. This institution receives support from each of the 27 counties embraced in Western Pennsylvania.

Progress of Soho Baths.

Mrs. George Porter, treasurer of the Soho Bath fund, has just issued her report, which shows that the benefit matinee held in the Nixon theatre on October 18 has netted the organization $6,000. The report calls attention to the fact that the city has promised $20,000 if an equal amount is raised, and that councils authorized the purchase of the Phelan property on Fifth avenue for $16,500 as a site for the bath house and has agreed to contribute the remaining $9,500 as soon as the organization has raised $20,000, and contributions are urged to make up the full quota. Attention is also called to the Settlement work, which has been started in the old Phelan homestead and which includes a children's library, women's meetings, and kitchen, garden, physical culture and sewing classes.

Miss Harding Is Honor Guest.

Miss Julia M. Harding, president of the Twentieth Century club, was the honor guest at the regular weekly meeting of the Woman's club of Sewickley, held in the Edgeworth club house yesterday afternoon, and delivered an address on "Current Events." Miss Olive Nevin sang several solos and tea was served by Mrs. Frank G. Nevin. At the regular weekly meeting of the club next Wednesday an address will be delivered by Dr. Jane Roberts of Baltimore on "Settlement Work Among the Factory Girls in New York."

Knoxville Library Club Meets.

The Knoxville Library club met Tuesday evening in the home of Miss Nellie Shaw, Beltzhoover. The club this year is studying the plays of Shakespeare, and under the direction of Mrs. R. J. Phillips on Tuesday took up the last two acts of Othello, an analysis being given by Miss Bess E. Orr, followed by a study of the human life as portrayed in Shakespeare's dramas, by Mrs. O. F. Habegger. The club is growing, six new members being added this week.

Club Notes.

The Woman's club of New Brighton met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Frederick T. Merrick, hostess. "The Growth of the Papacy" was the general subject, followed by talks on Gregory VII., Pius IX., Leo and Pius X.

"American Poetry" was the subject of the meeting of the Braddock Woman's club yesterday afternoon, with special reference to the work of James Russell Lowell and Oliver Wendell Holmes.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

BOOKS AT THE LIBRARY TELL OF THE ARTISTS

Rare Volumes on the Shelves Which Deal Particularly With Painters and Their Work.

In connection with the annual exhibition of paintings just opened in the Carnegie art galleries, it should be of interest to all lovers of art to know that the Carnegie library at Schenley park has made a specialty in its reference department of books on modern painters. To one who has looked over the art books in the collection it seems surprising that so few people, among the many visitors to the galleries, go to the library to learn something about the artists and their work. The explanation of this apparent lack of interest is doubtless that hardly anyone in the city knows of the existence of the fine books stored away on the shelves behind the scenes in the library. These are willingly brought out upon request in the reference department, and are well worth going to see.

Here are large volumes, fully illustrated, on Burne-Jones, Segantini, Herkomer, Mesdag, Mesdag, Israels and others; complete files of the leading art magazines, the Studio, Marazine of Art, Art Journal and Brush and Pencil, filled with biographical and critical articles on the very painters whose work is so familiar to us on the walls of our own art galleries. Besides the monographs on special artists there are books on contemporary art in different countries, among them Monkhouse's "British Contemporary Artists," a "History of Modern Italian Art," "Modern Art in Germany," "Modern French Masters" and a recent work in four volumes by Roosen on "Dutch Painters of the XIXth Century," containing many reproductions of paintings by Mesdag, Apol, Sina Mesdag van Houten and Wismuller, all of whom are represented in the present art galleries exhibition.

In order to call attention to the value of the library in connection with the art galleries a list has been prepared by the reference department and printed in the back of the art galleries catalogue, giving references to material in the library on 80 of the artists represented in the present exhibition.

SIR CHENTUNG LIANG CHENG IS CHINESE RUBE WADDELL

Oriental Minister's Boasts of His Baseball Prowess Renews Old Friendship With Pittsburgher Who Played Some, Too.

"Chentung Liang Cheng" is the Chinese word for Rube Waddell.

It is also the name of the Chinese minister to the United States.

Before Sir Chentung became a great diplomat he was recognized as the greatest oriental baseball pitcher in the world.

He was a good all-round player while he attended Andover academy, but when he started to Amherst college he graduated into a star pitcher.

His curves were as puzzling as his Chinese writing.

With the above observations in mind, the following conversation, which occurred between the minister and Director Arthur A. Hamerschlag at the Carnegie Technical schools, will be appreciated:

Sir Chentung—I know you very well, Mr. Hamrschlag.

Mr. Hamerschlag—I do not recollect that we have met before.

Sir Chentung—Oh, yes, we have.

Mr. Hamerschlag—I cannot remember.

Sir Chentung—Do you remember the ball games at Andover?

Mr. Hamerschlag—Very well.

Sir Chentung—Do you remember the Chinaman who pitched.

Mr. Hamerschlag—Indeed I do.

Sir Chentung—That was I.

And they shook hands again.

NEW ANIMAL AMBULANCE.

Facilities of the Humane Society Are to Be Improved.

At the regular weekly meeting of the board of managers of the Western Pennsylvania Humane society yesterday afternoon Henry B. Stewart of Allegheny; Louis Smith of Reserve township, and William J. Giesey of Glenfield, were appointed agents of the society.

The board ordered the locating of the new animal ambulance at the Oakland livery in Henry street. The ambulance telephone calls are Bell No. 16 Schenley; Pittsburgh & Allegheny, No. 16 Park.

TECH SCHOOL BOARD INDORSES METHODS

Students Are Praised for Their Progress and Loyalty to the Great Institution.

The Carnegie Technical Schools board, at a meeting yesterday afternoon formally approved Director Arthur A. Hamerschlag's method of conducting the new institution. The progress which had been made in the organization of the students for their work was a matter of particular comment, and nice things were said of the loyal spirit which the young men are showing for their school.

Preparations are now being made for the enrollment of the night classes. The examinations will be held next Monday evening and the indications are that the seating capacity of the classrooms will be taxed to accommodate the multitude of applicants that are expected to present themselves for the ordeal. The examinations will not be quite as difficult as that which the day school applicants were obliged to undergo. The night school will be held three evenings a week with sessions of two hours each evening.

The banquet which the Oakland board of trade will give tonight in the Hotel Schenley promises to be most successful. Already 300 tickets have been sold. It will be informal. A reception preceding the banquet will be held in the hotel library to meet the honor guests of the evening, Director Hamerschlag and the faculty of the Carnegie Technical school, to celebrate the opening of which institution is the prime motive of the banquet.

THE LAXATIVE OF KNOWN QUALITY

There are two classes of remedies; those of known quality and which are permanently beneficial in effect, acting gently, in harmony with nature, when nature needs assistance; and another class, composed of preparations of unknown, uncertain and inferior character, acting temporarily, but injuriously, as a result of forcing the natural functions unnecessarily. One of the most exceptional of the remedies of known quality and excellence is the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., which represents the active principles of plants, known to act most beneficially, in a pleasant syrup, in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to contribute their rich, yet delicate, fruity flavor. It is the remedy of all remedies to sweeten and refresh and cleanse the system gently and naturally, and to assist one in overcoming constipation and the many ills resulting therefrom. Its active principles and quality are known to physicians generally, and the remedy has therefore met with their approval, as well as with the favor of many millions of well informed persons who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual experience that it is a most excellent laxative remedy. We do not claim that it will cure all manner of ills, but recommend it for what it really represents, a laxative remedy of known quality and excellence, containing nothing of an objectionable or injurious character.

There are two classes of purchasers: those who are informed as to the quality of what they buy and the reasons for the excellence of articles of exceptional merit, and who do not lack courage to go elsewhere when a dealer offers an imitation of any well known article; but, unfortunately, there are some people who do not know, and who allow themselves to be imposed upon. They cannot expect its beneficial effects if they do not get the genuine remedy.

To the credit of the druggists of the United States be it said that nearly all of them value their reputation for professional integrity and the good will of their customers too highly to offer imitations of the manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., and in order to buy the genuine article and to get its beneficial effects, one has only to note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package. Price, 50c. per bottle. One size only.

CANNOT HELP THE JEWS OF RUSSIA

Letter from Secretary Root Sets Forth the Position of This Government.

JEWISH ORDERS ORGANIZE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 8.—Secretary Root today addressed a letter to Simon Wolf of this city, in reply to the latter's letter advising the state department that, as chairman of the board of delegates on civil rights of the union of American Hebrew Congregations, he was in receipt of many requests to intercede with this government in behalf of the Jews in Russia. In acknowledging Mr. Wolf's letter Secretary Root said:

"In reply to your request that, although you are cognizant of the fact that the present is not a favorable time for intervention or representations by the United States, the department will, if it can, point out a way in which it can be of service to these unfortunate people, I have to say that I quite concur in your view that at this juncture any action by this government looking to the relief of your co-religionists in Russia would be inopportune and unavailing.

"With the hoped-for establishment of a more liberal form of government and the restoration of administrative control over the remote scenes of the occurrences which are so greatly to be deplored, this government may look for a practical response to its repeated solicitations of freer treatment of American Hebrews and may be in a position to exert efficient good influence toward the more liberal treatment of all Jews in Russia, and their better protection from the consequences of deep-lying racial antagonisms. The problem is one which strongly attracts the sympathetic attention of this government."

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—To insure united action in giving financial aid made necessary by the massacres of Jews in Russia, a call to the Jewish people of America was issued here tonight by Adolph Kraus, president of the Independent Order of B'Nai Brith which has been in telegraphic correspondence with the leaders of all Jewish orders in the United States and who signed the call on behalf of the head of each organization.

This the first time on record that such a concerted movement has ever been made by the Jewish societies.

Following is the call:

Chicago Nov. 8.—To the Jews of America:

"The victims of the riots and massacres in Russia are not all numbered with the dead. The living, starving survivors who have lost their breadwinners, and the maimed, mutely appeal to a pitying world for aid. Therefore each community is hereby requested to organize at once and without further notice, for the purpose of raising funds to aid these destitute living victims.

"Funds when collected may be forwarded to Mr. Jacob H. Schiff of New York, for proper distribution."

Signed by Adolf Kraus, president.

DECORATIONS of unusual beauty marked the wedding of Miss Jessie Brown Scott and Dr. Alric Garland, which took place last evening at "Atholl," the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Scott, in Stanton avenue. The Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander performed the ceremony at 6 o'clock in the presence of the immediate relatives and most intimate friends of the bridal couple, and from 8 until 10 o'clock a large reception was held. Miss Nell Scott, a sister of the bride, was her maid of honor, the bridesmaids including Miss Idesia Kirk of this city and Miss Ethel Garland of Gloucester, Mass., a sister of the bridegroom. The men in the party were the best man, Dr. Robert Milligan; and the ushers, Dr. Harry E. Price, Frank Demmler, Robert Shiffel, William B. Pearsall, Dr. William O. S. Sherman and Samuel Dunseith. The bridal party marched down the wide oak stairs, whose bannisters were hung with clusters of yellow chrysanthemums. Standards of the same blooms marked the turn in the stairs and were also placed at the foot of the flight. The dainty green and white drawing room through which the party passed was done wholly in white chrysanthemums, a bunch of them being placed on the piano, another on the mantel, while a third piled a white wicker standard near the door. The background arranged for the ceremony in the music room was of tall palms reaching to the ceiling, wicker screens, drooping ribbons in ferns and pandanus plants, flanked at each side by clusters of white chrysanthemums. The white woodwork in both apartments was covered with smilax and in the library across the hall were immense yellow chrysanthemums occupying positions on the table and bookcases. The great onyx fireplace in the dining-room was effectively banked with greens, and the red walls of the den contrasted pleasingly with the ferns and palms used in that apartment. The bride's table, with covers for 16, was placed in a second floor room, the guests including the bridal party and Dr. Alexander, Miss Margaret Scott, Miss Marian Kirk and Miss Edith Garland.

The bridal gown was a creation of white chiffon cloth with a yoke of rose point lace and trimmings of appliqued bands of white satin. A tulle veil was worn and the only ornament was a diamond crescent, the bridegroom's gift. The bridal bouquet was of white orchids. A gown of white embroidered net was worn by the maid of honor, the gown having a pointed yoke of Venetian lace. A bouquet of yellow and white orchids was carried. The maids were gowned alike in yellow crepe de chine with Valenciennes lace yokes outlined by silver spangled embroidery. Huge bows of the crepe nestled among the folds of the bodice below the yoke line and on each side of the skirt. Mrs. Scott in white chiffon cloth and Mrs. Garland, the bridegroom's mother, in black lace, received with the couple. Dr. and Mrs. Garland left the city during the evening to spend their honeymoon in Cuba, Mexico and California. On their return they will be at home on Thursdays in February in their new Elgin avenue home, a wedding gift from Mr. and Mrs. Scott.

East End Girl Is Introduced.

Miss Marion Scully McKibbin, the first of the East End debutantes to make her formal bow, was introduced to society yesterday afternoon at a large reception given by her mother, Mrs. Chambers McKibbin of Howe street. Miss McKibbin and her mother received together from 3 until 5 o'clock, their assistants including Mrs. William Metcalf, Jr., Mrs. Robert Carson, Jr., Mrs. Frederick Van Osten, Mrs. Dandridge Robinson, Mrs. Alfred Curtis Ackenheil, Mrs. Theodore Wood Friend, Mrs. Charles Edmund Beeson, Miss Hannah Maxwell, Miss Marjorie Maxwell, Miss Grace Taylor, Mrs. F. S. Shoemaker, Mrs. James P. McNally, Miss Jean Ackenheil, Miss Dorothy Shoemaker, Miss Jean Oliver, Miss Mary Maxwell, Miss Ada Pollard, Miss Evelyn Black, Miss Marguerite Preston, Miss Marguerite Smith, Miss Mary Smith, Miss Jeannette Williams, Miss Harriet W. Batken, Miss Elizabeth Eaton, Miss Isabel Griffin, Miss Margaret Watson, Miss Marie Blackmore and Miss Josephine Eaton McConway and her visiting friend, Miss Helen Barnhart of Grand Rapids, Mich. The scores of debutante bouquets, including roses of all colors, violets, orchids, lilies of the valley and chrysanthemums, each tied with beautiful ribbons and chiffon or arranged in dainty baskets, occupied places about the walls and doorways of the drawing room, where the mantel was banked in greens. The table in the dining room was exquisitely daint; its center being occupied by an immense cluster of yellow chrysanthemums, while over the embroidered white cloth were scattered sweet-faced pansies.

Aids for Debutante Tea.

Mrs. Samuel Ayers and her daughter, Miss Helen Ayers, will have a long line of assistants at the tea they are to give this afternoon, when Mis Ayers will make her formal bow to society. The aids include Mrs. James Neale, Mrs. Albert C. McCallam, Mrs. William S. Haselton, Mrs. Wesley G. Carr, Mrs. Robert Wilcox Patterson, Mrs. Horace Dravo, Mrs. William P. De Armitt, Mrs. William D. Hamilton, Mrs. Edwin B. Scull, Mrs. William S. Foster, Mrs. William Robinson, Mrs. C. J. Miller, Miss Nellie McCallam, Miss May McCallam, Mrs. Ralph Longnecker, Mrs. William Boyd, Mrs. Wallace Delamater, Mrs. William W. Wishart, Mrs. James Rumbird, Mrs. W. S. Arthurs, Miss Anna Rumbird, Miss Emma Rumbird, Miss Anica Rumbird, Miss Pauline Dilworth, Miss Hester Singer, Miss Elizabeth Hamilton, Miss Katherine Jennings, Miss Grace Jennings, Miss Ruth Walker, Miss Helen Witherow, Miss Evelyn Black, Miss Martha Chambers, Miss Josephine E. McConway, Miss Rachel McClintock, Miss Euphemia Rakestraw, Miss Emily Lynn, Miss Georgia Neale Heard, Miss Martha Heron, Miss Harriet W. Balken, Miss Mary Flinn, Miss Frances Huselton, Miss Annabella W. Baggaley, Miss Katherine Reed, Miss Mary Rolfe, Miss Agate Brown, Miss Marion Clapp, Mrs. Charles H. Curry and Mrs. William B. Boggess.

Wischmeyer-Griffith.

St. Andrew's Evangelical Lutheran church, Shadyside, was the scene of a prettily appointed wedding last evening when Miss Lydia Wischmeyer became the wife of Dr. William Nelson Griffith. The Rev. E. H. Wischmeyer, father of the bride, performed the ceremony at 8 o'clock, the attendants including Miss Marie Rendke of Ft. Wayne, Ind., as maid of honor; Miss Louise M. Wischmeyer and Miss Helen Nelson as bridesmaids; Archibald Kirkland as best man and Frederick Ruth, Paul Brand, Walter Hein and E. G. Wischmeyer as ushers. The bride's gown was of white crepe de chine, appliqued in lace and ribbon, her bouquet was a shower of white roses, while lilies of the valley fastened the tulle veil. Miss Rendke was gowned in a pale rose meteor trimmed with chinchilla and pearls. She carried white chrysanthemums, and the bridesmaids, each in a dainty gown of white batiste, carried pink chrysanthemums. Following the ceremony a reception and supper for the immediate relatives was held at the bride's home in Wilkinsburg. Dr. and Mrs. Griffith later departing on their wedding journey. They have made no plans as to when or where they will be at home.

Tiers-Cameron.

The Rev. Dr. Laurens McLure, rector of St. Thomas' Protestant Episcopal church, Oakmont, was assisted by the Rev. Harry Cameron of California, Pa., in officiating last evening at the wedding of Miss Sarah Wallace Tiers and Dr. William Herron Cameron. The wedding took place quietly at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. La Rue Tiers, in Oakmont. Mr. Tiers gave his daughter away. She wore a dainty gown of white mull over silk with a tulle veil, and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. There were no attendants. Palms, ferns and pink and white chrysanthemums formed very tasteful decorations throughout the house, and after the wedding supper Dr. Cameron and his bride left for a southern wedding trip. They will visit friends in Anniston, Ala., will stop in Palm Beach, Fla., and, coming east again, will visit in New York city before coming to Pittsburgh to be at home in Forty-fourth street, Lawrenceville.

Madden-Yarnall.

The wedding of Miss Maud Alma Madden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Madden of Cleveland avenue, Crafton, and Jesse Yarnall of the East End was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents by the Rev. L. N. D. Weis of the First Christian church of Wilkinsburg at 7:30 o'clock last night. The bride's only attendants were her sister, Miss Minnie Madden, as maid of honor, and little Mary Gray as ower girl. J. T. Yarnall acted as his brother's best man. Following the ceremony a reception and wedding supper were given. After an eastern trip Mr. and Mrs. Yarnall will be at home in Cleveland avenue, Crafton, after December 1.

Miss Robinson's Wedding Plans.

Miss Mary Robinson has selected Wednesday, November 15, as the date for her wedding to Lieut. William Blaine of Butler. It will be a quiet wedding, taking place at 9 o'clock in the evening, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. John Robinson, in Mercer, with no attendants for the bridal couple. Lieut. Blaine will take his bride to Madison barracks, on the shores of Lake Ontario, to live. Miss Robinson is well known here, having made her debut at a tea given two seasons ago by her aunt, Mrs. Edward Hanna Small, with whom she spent the winter. Dr. and Mrs. Small and Miss Alice Wood Tindle will be among the Pittsburgh guests at the wedding.

Plans for DuBarry-Patton Wedding.

At her wedding to William John Patton next Monday evening, Miss Willa DuBarry will have but one attendant, her sister, Miss Mary DuBarry. The best man will be Clay Sprecker, and the ushers chosen are Harry Wilson and Samuel DuBarry. The Rev. William P. Shrom, pastor emeritus of the Fourth Presbyterian church, will perform the ceremony at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George D. DuBarry, in Penn avenue, East End. After their wedding trip Mr. Patton and his bride will be at home in McPherson boulevard, East End.

Dinner at Second Church.

Hospitality will be the watchword at the two dinners given by the ladies of the Second Presbyterian church in Eighth street, today and tomorrow from 11:30 to 2 p. m. This will be a good chance to see what the Rev. S. Edward Young's Presbyterian people have done to improve the beautiful temple transferred to them by Dr. J. Leonard Levi's congregation. Chicken and waffles, cooked under Maryland's expert supervision, will be the foundation of the Thursday feast, while roast beef as juicy as any that ever came steaming from an English oven will be the meat course of the Friday meal.

Theater Party for Miss Hamilton.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Horne of Sewickley Heights, expects to entertain during the latter part of this month by giving a large theater party at the Nixon. The affair, the date for which is Wednesday evening, November 29, will be given in honor of Miss Elizabeth Hamilton, one of the season's debutantes.

Vaughan-Walters.

A pretty home wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Vaughan, in Crafton, when their daughter, Miss Della Vaughan, became the bride of Charles Walters of Pittsburgh. The Rev. Joseph E. Appley, pastor of the Crafton Methodist Episcopal church, performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Elsie Vaughan, as maid of honor, and by her niece, Miss Lucille Horner, as flower girl. The groom was attended by his brother, Chester Walters, as best man. After an eastern trip Mr. and Mrs. Walters will be at home in their new residence in Crafton.

Byrne-Saupp.

Mrs. Mary A. Byrne and Louis Saupp were quietly married in the Roman Catholic church of SS. Peter and Paul yesterday morning, the Rev. Father Suehr officiating. The bride, wearing a gown of white veiling and a white felt hat with plumes, carried a pearl-bound prayer-book, and was unattended. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. W. E. Friday, in Meade street, Homewood. After December 1 Mr. and Mrs. Saupp will be at home in Hamilton avenue, East End.

Debutante and Visitor Share Honors.

Miss Mary Guffey of Fifth avenue, Shadyside, will give an informal tea next Thursday afternoon. The honors of the occasion will be shared by Miss Josephine Eaton McConway, one of the season's debutantes, and her visiting friend, Miss Helen Barnhart of Grand Rapids, Mich. Miss Barnhart has recently arrived in Pittsburgh to be at the McConway home in Lexington avenue for a couple of weeks.

Myers-Case.

JEANNETTE, PA., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—A. J. Case, assistant postmaster here, and Miss Mary A. Myers, daughter of C. T. Myers, were married at the bride's home at 7 o'clock this evening, by the Rev. W. L. McClure of the First Presbyterian church. Only immediate friends of the couple witnessed the ceremony.

Social Affairs of Week-End.

Mr. and Mrs. James McCrea of Ellsworth avenue will give a small dinner at their home this evening.

Miss Amelia Oliver of Termon avenue, Allegheny, will be hostess at a luncheon for the season's debutantes on Saturday afternoon of this week.

The Influence Of What We Eat

Young People Especially Are Susceptible to This Influence—The Secret of Health.

"The nourishment taken by body and mind, the extent to which this nourishment is assimilated, the form and proportions to which it is taken into the system, the amount of food and drink consumed, and the care given to the body and its various functions—all profoundly affect the health," says a recent editorial in "Good Housekeeping," that great authority on matters pertaining to the home. "Some individuals think they can abuse the laws of nature with impunity, but even generous endowments of physical vigor eventually succumb, while the great mass of people, especially the young, are peculiarly susceptible to the food they consume."

As "Good Housekeeping" in an editorial suggests, health depends not so much on the nourishment taken into the stomach as on the extent to which this nourishment is taken up by the system. Malta-Vita, the perfect malted wheat food, so rich in nourishment necessary to the sustenance of the human body and mind, is readily assimilated, even by the weakest stomach, because of the large percentage of Maltose, or malt sugar, which it contains. Maltose is a natural sweetening agent and forms rich, healthy blood.

Malta-Vita is especially beneficial for children and it is so good to eat—not at all like the tasteless variety of breakfast foods—that the whole family welcome its appearance on the table. Always ready to eat. Now for sale by all grocers at 10 cents.

BIG PROFITS IN ESPY LOT SALE

BUY FINE BUILDING SITES

The most encouraging deal ever made in the West Liberty district to the thousands of lot owners in that territory is the sale by Milton I. Baird of the firm of Black & Baird of 28 lots in the original Espy farm plan for $28,400, or a little over $1,000 each. This is considerably more than double what the lots cost when the Freehold Real Estate Company started the West Liberty boom with the sale of this property in the spring of 1902, the selling price of these same lots than being $400 each. Such an advance in a little over three years is ample justification of the claims that have been made frequently by advertisers that there are fortunes to be made by investing small sums in real estate beyond Mt. Washington.

The Baird lots were bought by David R. Speer, a well-known builder, who will at once start the erection of at least 20 houses on the property. To give an accurate idea of the prices obtained for lots in the different streets the following list comprising all the lots taken by Mr. Speer is appended: Nos. 170, 171, 173, 77 and 78 in Snyder avenue for $900 each; No. 176 in Snyder avenue for $1,150; Nos. 43 and 44 for $1,100; Nos. 76 and 114 for $1,050 each; in West Liberty avenue, Nos. 176 for $1,600; No. 177 for $1,250; Nos. 27 and 28 for $1,250 each; Nos. 30 and 35 for $1,050 each; No. 36 for $1,000, and No. 29 for $1,100; in Anderson avenue, Nos. 48, 49, 56 and 67 for $900 each; in Banksville avenue, Nos. 11 and 14 for $900 each; in Espy avenue, No. 96 for $900 and No. 98 for $1,050.

The lots are 40 and 50x120 feet in size and are only 12 minutes ride from the city by the Mt. Lebanon lines. They adjoin the Lebanon Heights allotment and are directly opposite the Fetterman plans. The houses which Mr. Speer will build will cost from $3,500 to $5,000 each, according to the location of the lots. There are nearly 40 houses built on the Espy farm plan and last summer a frame school house was built which is to be replaced next year by a substantial brick structure.

More Fine Houses for Nineteenth.

Three more fine residences are assured for the Nineteenth ward as a result of deals made by Baldridge, Watson & Co. To A. C. Upperman they sold for W. D. King a site 50x185 feet on the south side of Hampton avenue, near North Highland avenue, for $7,500 or $3.0 a foot. The purchaser will have plans drawn at once for a residence to cost $20,000. Through the same agency James Graham has bought from E. F. Guthrie 120x130 feet on the north side of Sheridan avenue, near Wellesley avenue, for $15,000. The foundations have already been started for two center hall brick houses on this plot to cost $11,000 each. The boom in the buying of residence sites and building of first-class houses in the Nineteenth ward is a distinct feature of the real estate activity over the city just now, for there are more than a score of houses going up within a radius of three squares which will cost from $11,000 to $35,000 each.

Francis M. Miller of the firm of Milligan & Miller, architects of Wilkinsburg, has purchased from Charles E. Lee a lot 40x100 feet at the northwest corner of Coal and Rebecca streets, Wilkinsburg, for $6,000, or $150 a front foot. The site will be improved soon with a four-story brick apartment house to cost not less than $25,000.

Andrew A. Dinan has bought an improved property, 60x82 feet, at Locust and Boyd streets, Sixth ward, for $10,000, the former owner being Harvey W. Wilson.

Through the office of Coyle Brothers, Harvey H. Smith has sold to Mary A. Moren a site 105x100 feet on the north side of Irwin avenue near Carnegie street, Twenty-second ward, for $10,000, or a little less than $100 a front foot.

Owners Must Hurry Party Walls.

A peculiar case in building affairs has just been settled in court and is interesting because of the many similar cases that are pending. When J. W. Houston & Co., wholesale grocers, started to build their new warehouse at Liberty avenue and Fourteenth street, they wished to build a party wall. The owner of the adjoining property also wanted to build a party wall, but was not ready to do it now, as he said he preferred to wait a few years and then build a heavier wall. The thirsteen firm, which, secured the lot only a short time ago, was anxious to go ahead at once and so the case went to court and has been decided in favor of the grocery firm. The site has been cleared and work on the building will now be rushed so that it may be ready for spring occupancy. Another very similar case in outer Penn avenue was settled a few weeks ago out of court by the firm that was in a hurry getting the privilege of building at once.

Charles McKnight, who is building five produce warehouses in Twenty-first street, on 45x100 feet, between Liberty avenue and Spring alley, has ordered the tenants out of the building at the corner of Penn avenue, where he will also build five warehouses. These buildings will be torn down at once. One square farther out, at the southwest corner of Penn avenue and Twenty-second street, James A. McAteer & Sons have their five-story buff brick warehouse up to the first story and expect to have it under roof by January 1. When this firm paid $420 a front foot for this corner, less than two years ago, it was thought a big figure, but they have since been offered double that amount and the corner opposite is now held at $1,000 a foot.

Two Sales in Twenty-First Ward.

Belmar place: John L. Wyland sold to H. Willis Keating an improved lot, 25x93 feet, on the south side of Race street, Twenty-first ward, for $7,200.

Belmar place: George H. Shickler sold to Nancy S. Sleeth an improved lot, 25x93 feet, on Hermitage street, Twenty-first ward, for $4,800.

Mt. Washington: John F. Sweeney sold to Annie Wilson an improved lot, 24x55 feet in Boggs avenue Thirty-second ward, for $3,500.

Singer street: The Aronson Realty Company sold to A. E. Hockeis of Allegheny two frame houses on 42x82 feet in Singer street for $3,800.

West Liberty: Henry S. Fisher sold for Charles A. Fisher to M. J. Long lot No. 60 in Fifteenth street, West Liberty, for $800.

Ingram: George C. Norris & Co. sold for Abraham Ruben to Clark G. Harper lot No. 347 in Hobson avenue, Ingram, for $500.

THEATERS NEXT WEEK.

Mrs. Leslie Carter Will Represent the Higher Drama—Plenty of Music and Merriment Promised.

Mr. David Belasco has once more shown his partiality for Pittsburgh in selecting this city for the opening of Mrs. Leslie Carter's American tour. Miss Bates' successful Mrs. Carter at the Belasco theater, New York, on November 15, when Mrs. Carter comes direct from the same theater in New York city to the Belasco theater, Pittsburgh, for a limited engagement of two weeks. Pittsburgh is, therefore, the first city outside of New York city to see Mrs. Carter in her latest and greatest success, "Adrea." For the second week of her stay in Pittsburgh, Mrs. Carter will be seen in the title role of Mr. Belasco's version of "Zaza," which is just now attracting crowded houses to the Belasco theater, New York. The sale of seats for Mrs. Carter will open at the box office this morning at 9 o'clock.

The sale of seats for the Joe Weber All-Star company will open this morning at the Nixon theater. The company includes Marie Dressler, Charles A. Bigelow, Trixie Friganza, Sam Collins, Bonnie Magin, Edward J. Connelly, Erminie Earlie, Ernest Lambart, Edythe Moyer, Sam Marion and Mr. Weber, who will present the pieces which they have so successfully played on Broadway, New York, at the Weber Music hall, "Higgledy Piggledy" and the "College Widower," both of which will be given in Pittsburgh with their entirety, including more than 100 people, and a special augmented orchestra.

Miss Jennie La Beau will be seen to considerable advantage this year in the new musical comedy, "Tom, Dick and Harry," which will be the next offering at the Alvin. Miss La Beau is the prima donna of this sterling show, and is a great aid to Bickel, Watson and Wrothe, the star-trinity. Miss La Beau was a member of the "Me, Him and I" company last season, in which Bickel, Watson and Wrothe starred. She has several capital and tuneful songs which she renders in a capable and inimitable manner. "Myron Brown—Farewell" is a timely "Rube" song that is credited with being one of this year's hits, and is a part of the many new musical numbers that have been added to "The Beauty Doctor" since it was seen here last season. The big musical comedy, now in what Manager Wright calls the "Second Edition," will come to the Empire theater next week, and it is promised that many new musical features, new dancing numbers of considerable pretense, new costumes, and new faces in addition to all those of the old and pleasing cast will be seen.

Houdini, the man who has defied the police of Europe and America to manacle him in such a way that he cannot free himself, and who has released himself from impregnable prisons everywhere, will head the bill of continuous vaudeville at the Grand next week. Hal Davis, Inez Macauley and company, the Village Choir, the Musical Johnstons, Brothers Freyde, DeWitt and Burns and Torrence are among others who will appear.

At the Lyceum theater next week Clark's "Runaway Girls" company, one of the best and strongest aggregations ever presented in burlesque, will be the attraction. Manager Clark has spared neither pains nor expense in making his attraction one of the most prominent in the burlesque field. Among the well-known performers will be found Joseph E. Howard (the highest-priced artist in burlesque), the famous author and composer; the Burg Sisters, and others.

Manager Joseph Barnes, who will present his company, "The Dainty Parce," at the Academy next week, has always had one of the leading burlesque shows on the road, and it is said that this season's attraction is the best he has ever had.

FAVORS THE NEW STATE.

President Roosevelt Is for the Admission of Oklahoma—May Be Prohibition Territory.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—President Roosevelt today informed a delegation of residents of Oklahoma that he would recommend in his forthcoming message to congress single statehood for Oklahoma and Indian territories.

The delegation consisted of Delegate Maguire, Chairman Charles H. Filson of the Republican territorial committee, C. M. Cade, Republican national committeeman, and Vernon W. Whiting. They discussed briefly the question of incorporating in the statehood measure a stipulation for prohibition of the liquor traffic, urging that the question be left to the determination of the people. The members of the delegation discussed with the President the appointment of a governor for the territory, recommending Capt. Frank Frantz, whose appointment subsequently was announced.

MUST SERVE HIS TIME.

Marine Who Regrets His Enlistment Will Have to Complete Term, Says Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The supreme court of the United States today dismissed the case of Harry F. Harris, a young man who sought to secure release from service in the marine corps. He based his petition on the ground that he was under 21 years old at the time of enlistment, and did not have the consent of his parents.

The case was decided against Harris by the court of appeals of the District of Columbia, which held that the navy regulations, which permit enlistment at the age of 18 years, govern admission into the marine corps. The case was dismissed on the motion of Harris' counsel.

Burton Holmes' "Travelogues."

In spite of the local excitement incidental to election day, the sale of course tickets for the Burton Holmes Travelogues opened yesterday with a line of would-be purchasers which remained unbroken from 7:30 in the morning until the close of the box office, with hardly a break. The cash receipts for the opening day of the sale were nearly four times as large as any previous year. The sale of tickets for the course will end next Saturday. The sale of tickets for single lectures only begins Monday morning at Mellor's.

NO MAN STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

The celebrated Dr. Abernethy of London was firmly of the opinion that disorders of the stomach were the most prolific source of human ailments in general. A recent medical writer says "every feeling, emotion and affection reports at the stomach (through the system of nerves) and the stomach is affected accordingly. It is the vital center of the body * * * * *." He continues, "so we may be said to live by (and he might well have said through) the stomach." He goes on to show that the stomach is the vital center of the body. He says "the function of digestion in its several stages is to prepare the food in forms which are suitable to be added to the structure," meaning the structure of our bodies. He continues, "every physical action from simple breathing, thinking and circulating of the blood to the most active bodily exertion wears out portions of the structure (of our bodies) and they become dead and so require to be taken away speedily. Much of the food which we take, and especially when unwholesome or in excess, adds to the waste material, and when it has undergone chemical changes it is still more mischievous." Then he goes on to the effect that the nervous system prompts every part of the circulating system. He says "it gives its message every moment to the infinate number of glands and follicles to unload themselves of waste material so that the current of blood may carry it away."

"When these two processes of nutrition and excretion are thus carried on with equal assiduity we are in health, but when this equilibrium does not exist there comes disorder and disease. The common form of such derangement is indigestion or dyspepsia. The function of nutrition is interrupted and all the operations which depend upon it go wrong. Under these conditions it has a way of appearing in other types of disorder. Many of these often mislead physicians. Other parts of the organism are likely to be involved, and we may find consumption, kidney complaint, hepatic (liver) disorders, hysteria and even mental alienation (derangement)." He says "it may be observed that deranged persons have a woe-be-gone expression, offensive breath, irregular action of the bowels, hallucinations and other like conditions of dyspepsia."

The foregoing is no doubt a rational view of the sad havoc worked in the human system by indigestion and dyspepsia, torpid liver and kindred derangements, which are generally associated with or followed by many other diseases of diverse appearance, but all depending upon the weak and disordered stomach. Cure the stomach weakness and you cure all these diseases and derangements.

For weak stomachs and the consequent indigestion or dyspepsia, and the multitude of various diseases which result therefrom, no medicine can be better suited as a curative agent than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The Golden Seal root, Stone root, Mandrake root and Black Cherry-bark are all recommended by such eminent authorities as Dr. Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College; Prof. John King, author of the "AMERICAN DISPENSATORY"; Prof. John M. Scudder, late of Cincinnati; Dr. William Paine, author of Paine's Epitomy of Medicine, Dr. Hobart A. Hare, of the University of Pa.; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Medical Dept., University of N. Y.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., Professor of Materia Medica in the Hahnemann Medical College, Chicago, and many others, as remedies for indigestion and dyspepsia, torpid liver as well as for bronchial, throat and lung affections, as will be seen from reading a little booklet recently compiled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., who will send the same on request, by postal card or letter, to any address, free. This little booklet tells of what Dr. Pierce's celebrated medicines are made, and gives the properties and uses of each and every ingredient entering into their composition. Write Doctor Pierce, as above and receive it by return post.

Queen's root, or Stillingia, is an ingredient entering into the "Golden Medical Discovery" highly recommended by several of the above mentioned authorities for the cure of chronic or lingering bronchial, throat and lung affections, public speaker's sore throat attended with hoarseness, dry, rasping cough and kindred affections. Not only is Queen's root specific in its curative action in all these affections, but in "Golden Medical Discovery" it is greatly assisted by the combination with it of Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark and Bloodroot, with which it is blended in just the right proportion. Pure, triple refined glycerine also greatly enhances the effectiveness of all these agents in the cure of chronic and lingering coughs, being a valuable demulcent, also antiseptic, and a nutritive of great value, especially useful in all wasting diseases, as in incipient consumption and other scrofulous affections. "Golden Medical Discovery" is a sovereign remedy in all catarrhal affections, whether affecting the nasal passages, the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs and the reason why will be learned by reading the little booklet noted above. Send for it now.

In chronic catarrh of the nasal passages, it is important that while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" as the most effective constitutional treatment for this terribly distressing and most obstinate affection that the nasal passages should be cleansed two or three times a day by the free use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, used according to the directions which accompany the same.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, costiveness, or constipation of the bowels, loss of appetite, coated tongue, sour stomach, windy belchings, "heartburn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. Persons subject to any of these troubles should never be without a vial of the "Pleasant Pellets" at hand. Put up in glass vials, tightly corked, therefore always fresh and reliable. One little "Pellet" is a laxative, two are cathartic. They regulate, invigorate and cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in plain English; or, Medicine Simplified, 1008 pages, over 700 illustrations, paper-bound, sent for 21 one-cent stamps, the cost of mailing only. Cloth-bound ten stamps more, 31 in all. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Tax that None Escapes

State taxes may be sworn off, but the tax levied by the railroads on everything you eat, wear or use, cannot be dodged, evaded or escaped. Such is the power of the railroad rate makers, as described in Ray Stannard Baker's first paper of "Railroads on Trial" in November McClure's.

BIG PROFITS.

BIG PROFITS.

It is a well-known fact that many fortunes have been made from raising hogs and Angora goats in America. In New Mexico we have a ranch that is fitted in every way for the purpose of raising hogs and goats, and your attention is drawn to the following facts: A small investment in this ranch will, during the next five years, make any person well-to-do, if not wealthy. New Mexican hogs sell for about $12.00 each. They are raised on alfalfa. The extreme long days of sunshine kill any disease that hogs are liable to contract. Angora goats are extremely profitable, not only on account of their long hair, which is known as "Monair," but because of their flesh, which is delicious, and the milk extremely nourishing.

STOCKS REACTED SHARPLY, CLOSING AT THE LOWEST

The Decline Based Upon Stringent Money, the Call Loan Rate Advancing to 10 Per Cent—Little Change in Pittsburgh Securities.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

With the exception of a few minutes after the opening, the New York stock market was unsettled and weak yesterday, and finally closed at the lowest prices of the day. The declines ranged from 1 to 3½ per cent, and were very evenly distributed throughout the list. Trading increased in volume as the liquidation became more pronounced, and the sales for the day foot up 1,134,900 shares.

The weakness was based almost entirely upon the stringency in the money market, although the closeness of the election for mayor of New York, and the announcement that Hearst would contest the election, together with an unfounded rumor of the assassination of Witte, the Russian premier, aggravated the situation. The rate for call loans opened at 7 per cent, eased momentarily to 6½ per cent, and rate in the day touched 10 per cent, the highest of the year. The bulk of the business was at 8 per cent. Shipments of more than $1,000,000 currency to New Orleans and $100,000 to St. Louis were only partially offset by the transfer of $350,000 from San Francisco. Since the last bank statement the loss in cash reported by the banks is more than $2,000,000, which, unless made good by a reduction in loans, will wipe out the surplus reserve reported last Saturday. The course of the market yesterday indicated that loans were being called and that stocks were being liquidated as a consequence. This liquidation, it is thought, will continue today.

As the opening interest for a time centered in the granger utility stocks. These were strong and higher, but they subsequently reacted sharply, lost all the early gains, and finally closed weak and lower. Compared with Monday's final quotations, there was a decline of 3½ per cent in Consolidated Gas, 2⅝ in Metropolitan and 2⅜ in Brooklyn Rapid Transit, the last named in the face of a favorable report of earnings for the September quarter.

Reading made good the prediction that it would "cross" Pennsylvania on this movement. The highest price of the day for Pennsylvania was 142¾, while Reading at one time sold at 143¾, the highest ever quoted. Transactions in Reading were on an enormous scale, and the fluctuations were rapid. The stock finally closed 2¾ per cent higher than Monday. Baltimore & Ohio, which holds a considerable amount of Reading as an investment, and would therefore share in anything that would justify the high price of the stock, closed ⅝ lower for the day. Reading first preferred closed ¾ lower, Pennsylvania 1¼ lower and Erie 1¼ lower.

Th standard railroad stocks held fairly steady during the early part of the day, but the extreme weakness which developed in Missouri Pacific and the Rock Island issues finally extended to the whole railroad list, which closed lower. Missouri Pacific broke from 102⅝ to 98¾, Rock Island common from 29⅝ to 27¾, and the preferred from 73 to 71¼. St. Paul closed 3¼ per cent lower and Union Pacific 2 per cent lower. With the exception of Reading common every active railroad stock on the list closed lower.

United States Steel issues held well during the morning session, but the wave of liquidation finally reached these stocks and the common closed 1 and the preferred 2¼ lower, the lower including the ex-dividend of 1¾ per cent. Tennessee Coal and Iron was strong and higher at the opening, but lost all its gain and closed at a loss of ⅝ per cent. The minor iron and steel issues closed ½ to 1½ lower. Amalgamated Copper was a weak feature and closed at a loss of 1⅜ per cent. Smelting, after rallying to 141½, broke to 138½ and closed at 139.

Mining stocks furnished the great bulk of the business in the local stock market. Out of a total of 8,808 shares for all stocks, 5,700 shares consisted of Ohio Tonopah, which advanced from 26 to 28c and closed firm at the advance. The rise was based upon a report that the mine had encountered a new vein which greatly improved its prospects. Lustre Mining was strong, advancing from 30 to 31½ and reacting to 30½ at the close. The Pittsburgh Brewing stocks closed unchanged at 27¾ for the common and at 48½ for the preferred, the favorable annual report of the company having apparently been discounted. Crucible Steel stocks were steady at 12⅝ for the common and 67 for the preferred. United States Steel common followed the decline in New York, closing at 36⅝, sales and offered, the lowest of the day. Pittsburgh Coal preferred declined to and closed at 83½, and River Coal preferred sold down to 25, but subsequently recovered to 25½. There were no transactions in Philadelphia Company, which at one time was in moderate demand at 53½ bid, but was later offered at that price. The natural gas issues were quiet but steady. Consolidated Gas bonds sold at 110¼ and Independent Brewing 6s at 107½, a slight advance in each instance.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Wall street paid more attention to the money market situation yesterday than it has at any previous time this year, and scanned the foreign outlook as well as that at home. The shipments of currency to the interior yesterday was unusually large, and at no time during the day was there any relaxation in the rates for call loans, the highest of the day and year being recorded just before the close of the market. The foreign exchange market showed no yielding tendency, although it did not advance. The money situation at London and in Paris seemed rather easier, the London money market evidently benefiting from the reflux of funds from the British interior points. The effect of the Berlin situation, however, and of the advance in the German imperial banks discount rate on Monday left open the possibility of an advance today in the Bank of England rate. Sterling exchange at Berlin underwent a further sharp decline yesterday.

It is understood that the Crucible Steel Company will utilize its purchase of the old Keystone Bridge Company property in the Eighteenth ward for the establishment of a plant for the manufacture of steel springs. It is said that when the Railway Steel Springs Company was organized it bought a considerable amount of its steel from the Crucible Company. During the past two years, however, it is said the Railway Steel Springs Company has purchased more of its steel from the United States Steel and Cambria companies. The Crucible company has the capacity for turning out the steel required for the manufacture of a large tonnage of springs, and it is said that it will now enter the field on its own account. The steel spring business is exceptionally profitable, inasmuch as Railway Steel Springs maintained its full preferred dividend during dull times, and this year began dividends on the common stock at the rate of 4 per cent per annum.

R. C. Hall was the largest buyer of Ohio Tonopah. Masten & Co. were large sellers. The revival of activity was based upon a report that the company had encountered a vein recently discovered on an adjoining property. That discovery, it is said, gives the Tonopah camp three well-defined and distinct veins of gold ore. Manager Gillies, of the Tonopah Extension and Golden Anchor companies, was in Pittsburgh on Tuesday and met some of the officers of these companies. He is a strong believer in the Tonopah properties controlled by Pittsburgh capital.

The annual report of the Pittsburgh Brewing Company, published in another part of this paper, did not stimulate any activity in the stock market. The report was interesting inasmuch as it permitted inferences to be drawn relative to the effect of the organization of the Independent Brewing Company. The gross earnings were $5,409,208, a decrease of $29,108, although the sales of beer increased 5,617 barrels. The expenses, however, decreased $219,447, which permitted an increase in net earnings of $190,339. The balance for the year, after the payment of $1,104,362 in interest and dividends, was $660,654, an increase of $190,260. The charges for taxes and depreciation were increased by $71,445 as against a decrease of $180,000 last year. The surplus increase for the year was $118,905. The total surplus now stands at $3,101,200, or but $2,860,950 31 below the $5,962,250 common stock outstanding. During the year, the sinking fund was increased by $58,580 and now stands in excess of $136,000.

Edwin C. Fairley has transferred his membership in the Pittsburgh stock exchange contingent upon the selection of Andrew J. Davis.

It was reported in local financial circles yesterday that the department at Washington is making preparation for a very thorough examination of the national banks of the city, with the view, so it was said, of throwing some additional light on the Enterprise National's affairs. Bankers are looking for a call from the comptroller of the currency any day, for the regular November report, and it is thought possible that the state banking commissioner will select the date named by the comptroller for the semi-annual statement of the state banks and trust companies. This was done last May, and the action was very generally approved by bankers.

Henry M. Long was on the floor of the stock exchange yesterday for the first time in more than three weeks.

The Exchange National bank has declared a semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent, payable fourteenth.

The regular semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent on Bessemer railroad preferred will be paid December 1 to stock of record November 15.

The relation between the rise in Reading and the weakness in the rest of the market was puzzling. An upward spurt in Reading usually preceded the free selling movements of the day elsewhere. Whether the excited advance in Reading awakened uneasiness on the part of holders of other securities for fear of disaster to the shares in that stock, or whether Reading was pushed up in an effort to sustain prices while realizing was conducted elsewhere, were differing conjectures open to the choice of observers. The desire and apparent necessity to liquidate stocks other than Reading were sufficiently obvious. This pressure was commonly attributed to the exigencies of the money situation.

A statement of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit system for the September quarter shows gross earnings of $4,841,989, an increase of $546,549; net earnings, $2,471,606, an increase of $533,129; net over fixed charges, $1,006,173, an increase of $510,751.

The well-informed and conservative Wall street correspondent of Robinson Bros. sent the following message after the close of the market: "According to last week's bank statement the surplus reserve now stands only slightly over $2,000,000. Since Friday the banks have suffered a loss of over $2,000,000 in cash, consequently unless they are able to materially reduce their loans next Saturday's bank statement must show, if not the wiping out of the surplus reserve, certainly a very serious reduction in it. Relief to the situation is not in sight. The Bank of England is in no position to part with gold. The Imperial Bank of Germany has a minimum rate of 5½ while Paris is not only hoarding its gold, but is endeavoring to attract gold. Certain reckless speculators and manipulators have ignored these conditions for some days, but today the realization which was brought to them was sufficiently sharp to induce partial liquidation."

Dealings in Japanese bonds on the New York exchange yesterday were very active, footing up $1,053,000.

Accompanying the break in Missouri Pacific were rumors of the probability of a reduction in the dividend rate. The Gould stocks have had few friends in the market for months past.

PIG IRON AGAIN MAKES ADVANCE

GENERAL NEWS OF STEEL TRADE

Sales of Bessemer and basic pig iron have been made during the present week on the basis of $17.25, valley furnace, the equivalent of $18.10, Pittsburgh. This is by far the highest price paid for iron in the past two years. It marks also the steady advance in the market which has been going forward for several months and to all appearances is still far from ended. That iron will reach a basis of about $20, Pittsburgh, before the year is over is now predicted in some quarters, although there is a strong sentiment in certain places that there should not be allowed such freedom of prices in the market.

With Bessemer and basic quoted at $17.25, furnace, the price for No. 2 foundry is practically the same, while grey forge is placed at $16.25. Billets are almost impossible to secure, a few sales having been made of Bessemer at $27.25, Pittsburgh.

There is considerable difficulty being experienced by some of the large producers of finished steel in securing a sufficient quantity of all the raw materials, ore and coke, as well as pig iron. Coke prices will undoubtedly make another advance unless there is an improvement in the railroad situation, since it is all the railroads can do now to keep the furnaces going.

A great record is being made in the transportation of ore, the railroads interested in this traffic between Lake Erie and Pittsburgh have eclipsed their own all-time records they had made for any former full year.

There are no announcements of important changes in the prices of the finished lines, but considerable interest is being manifested on the changes which may be made January 1. It is understood all prices for finished products cannot sell in 1906 on the basis they have used during the present year, and a number of advances are considered certain.

Current Quotations.

Below are given current quotations on various lines of iron, steel, etc.:

Pig Iron—Northern, Bessemer and basic, $17.00; furnace, grey forge, $15.50; No. 2 foundry, $17.00; southern No. 2 foundry, $14, Birmingham.

The Hardware Market.

Orders for hardware continue to come in in very good shape both from salesmen on the road and from the trade direct, the orders covering practically all lines and being particularly heavy on season goods, in housefurnishings goods lines and on heavy goods in sheet iron, stove pipe and goods of like kind. A very good business is also being done in builders' hardware, in tools and supplies and in general heavy lines. nails and wire moving out very freely. Ammunition, shotguns and sporting goods are going along in good shape, the trade demanding as large quantities than in years past, and the prospects seem to indicate that the business will show a considerable increase over that of former years. Window glass continues to move along at much the same rate as heretofore reported, the shipments necessarily including a good demand. Prices in all lines are firm, there being no immediate changes noted. The Bindley Hardware Company furnishes the following quotations:

Columbia pocket knives, discount 35 per cent; Albion hatchets, discount 40 and 10 per cent; Bindley canal shovels, $6.50 per dozen; Great Western files, discount 70, 10 and 10 per cent; sheet iron, base No. 28, $2.85 per 100 pounds; galvanized sheet iron, discount 70 and 10 per cent; sash weights, per ton, $27; window glass, first 2 brackets, 90 and 25 per cent. Above, 90 and 10 per cent. Albion sewing machines, discount 25 per cent; blue and white enameled ware, 60 and 10 per cent; Albion hot plates, 40 per cent; Albion lanterns, 40 per cent; hay forks, 60 per cent.

HIGH PRICES ARE ASKED FOR PROMPT SHIPMENTS

Pig Iron Is Going Up, and Many Buyers Will Find Their Contracts Will Not Meet Their Requirements.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLEVELAND, Nov. 8.—The Iron Trade Review tomorrow will say: Additional evidence of the substantial character of the prevailing prosperity in the iron and steel business is furnished every day. Although melters of pig iron have been buying freely, it is certain many will find their contracts will not meet their requirements.

Buyers desiring delivery this year, or the first three months of next year, find it very difficult to place orders, and in some cases very high prices are asked for prompt shipment. Reports from all iron centers show an advancing tendency, while many furnaces are slow to quote except in small lots to regular customers. It is confidently believed the price of pig will go to nearly $20 before the end of the year.

Although favored customers may obtain occasionally slightly lower quotations, $17.00 at valley furnaces is now the ordinary quotation for basic, Bessemer and No. 2 foundry, basic has been sold at $17.25 furnace for the first quarter of next year, although other sales are reported at somewhat lower figures. Southern pig iron is firmly established at $14.00 Birmingham. Southern and Central Ohio furnaces have advanced to the valley price of $17.00 for No. 2 foundry. In the east the buying of pig iron has been rather light, the principal transaction being 11,000 tons of basic for a New Jersey company.

There is an extremely strong demand for both iron and steel bars. Agricultural implement makers are specifying promptly. Deliveries on structural material are not now promised in less than six to eight months. The new structural mills at Clairton, Pa., and South Chicago, will be in operation in about two months, and each will have a capacity of 10,000 tons a month.

The car shortage is becoming more serious and is causing much delay in the delivery of finished products, as well as in handling the crude material.

OCTOBER BEARS PALM FOR RECORD-BREAKING

Will Go Down Into History of Iron Industry as a Month of Phenomenal Production—Advance Likely.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The Iron Age says: October will go down in the history of the iron industry for record-breaking. The monthly statistics of the Iron Age show there were produced by the anthracite and coke furnaces of the United States 2,053,127 tons of pig iron, which compares with the previous achievement of 1,963,717 tons in May. Both figures do not include the output of charcoal pig, which may be estimated at about 30,000 tons a month.

The steel companies produced 1,370,960 tons in October, as compared with 1,387,488 tons in May. Of this October product the United States Steel Corporation has 950,752 tons. The Carnegie Steel Company in October broke 78 past records of production at its furnaces and mills.

The pig iron markets throughout the country are exceedingly firm and the conviction seems to be gaining ground that further advances are inevitable. Production, however, is on an enormous rate, our statistics showing that on the first instant coke and anthracite furnaces having a capacity of 460,990 tons weekly were in operation.

Moderate sales of steel rails are reported, with some further heavy contracting in sight. Light rails have again advanced $1 per ton and spikes are higher. Plate makers are again urging the necessity for higher official prices and this may come at an early date. The demand for sheets is good, but prices show no improvement.

In the tin plate trade the leading interest has opposed an advance. The pressure for deliveries in the structural trade is enormous. In the merchant pipe trade the most interesting feature is an inquiry for 600 miles of six-inch pipe for an oil line from Kansas City to St. Louis.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices, without paying much attention to the lower European cables. Trading was very quiet during the early session and the market continued on about the initial basis until near the close, when there was a scattering demand and the market was finally steady, net unchanged to 5 points higher. Sales were reported of 53,000 bags, including November at 6.50c; December at 6.50@6.60c; January at 6.60c; February at 6.75c; March at 6.80@6.85c; May at 7.00c; July at 7.15@7.20c; September at 7.30@7.35c; October at 7.35@7.40. Spot—Rio quiet; mild quiet; Cordova, 9¼@12¼c. Sugar—Raw easy; fair refining, 2 13-16@2¾c; centrifugal, 96 test, 3 7-16c; molasses sugar, 2 9-16@2¾c; refined quiet.

MARKET IS VERY QUIET AND BUSINESS IS DULL

Apple Supply Is Scanty—Creamery Butter in Good Demand. Hay Receipts Light.

Extreme quiet prevailed in the produce market during all of yesterday. Business was very light and there were few if any changes in prices. Better trade is looked for today.

While merchants here are complaining of the short supply of apples, the report comes from Kansas of the gathering of a third crop during the last of October. The Chanute (Kas.) Tribune contains an article stating that a farmer living near there gathered two crops of apples off of one tree, and then was surprised to get a third, and the tree is still blossoming.

There is still a good demand for fine creamery butter, and it is finding a ready sale. Eggs are steady, with prices about the same.

As yet there is no change in either sugar or flour, and it is possible the western congestion will be relieved before the price of flour is raised. Receipts are weak in this line.

Cranberries and grapes are finding a very good sale, with the market firm.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts were light yesterday. Billings to arrive would indicate that there is not very much grain or hay in transit in this city and everything points to higher markets. The fact has been mentioned on several previous occasions and the same conditions exist today—present prices are not equal to lay down cost, and while that condition exists prices will rule higher.

Father of Absent Girl Is Dying.

Mayor Hays received a letter yesterday from Mrs. O'Donnell of St. Joseph's rectory, Mt. Jewett, Pa., in which she asks the mayor to aid her in finding Miss Kate Kellerman, who is supposed to be in this city or Allegheny, but to whom the post-office officials have failed to deliver mail directed to her. Mrs. O'Donnell says Miss Kellerman's father is dying at Warren, Pa., and wants to see her.

Narrow Streak of Territory Is Incentive for Starting New Work

The narrow streak of producing territory, near Wellsburg, Brook county, W. Va., has been the incentive for starting a little experimental work in that county. Sometime since the Preister Oil and Gas Company started a wildcat on the Preister heirs' farm, located two miles from the Ohio river, on Cross creek, in Cross Creek district. This test has now been drilled through the Berea grit and found that formation barren. The Wellsburg development shows more work under way and starting than at any time since the first producer was completed. The producing formation has so far proven to be a narrow streak, running northeast and southwest. The least divergence from that line has in every instance resulted in a very light pumper or a duster. At this time there are a dozen wells drilling and rigs up in that locality.

In the Big Flint district, Doddridge county, the South Penn Oil Company has completed and shot its No. 20 on the David Underwood farm. The tubing has been placed in the well, and it will be put to pumping. The most that can be hoped for is a 15-barrel producer. In the Smithfield district, Wetzel county, the Hope Natural Gas Company has completed and shot its test on the D. J. Ensminger farm. At 105 feet in the Big Injun a second pay was encountered and since shooting, the well shows for a 6 or 10-barrel pumper. In the Wolf Summit field, Harrison county, the South Penn Oil Company has shot its No. 17 on the J. L. Haymon farm and increased its production to 95 barrels a day.

On Sugar creek, in the Wick district, Tyler county, the Carter Oil Company has drilled its No. 5 on the E. B. Long farm into the Big Injun and the well produced 35 barrels the first 24 hours. In the same district some of the old wells are still very creditable producers. The Carter Oil Company's Nos. 2 and 4, H. C. Watson and No. 3, Mathias Messer, 60 and 50 barrels, respectively, and the Melrose Oil and Gas Company's No. 1, A. D. Arnett and No. 15 T. H. Ewell, 100 and 45 barrels, respectively.

Operators on the Ohio side are showing commendable energy in development work. The most activity is in the shallow sand districts in Washington, Noble and Morgan counties. In the Marietta district, in the first-named county, George L. Craig & Co. have a very good shallow sand producer at their No. 29 on the Reppert heirs' farm. When drilled into the first Cow Run sand pay the well began to flow and is estimated to be good for 40 or 50 barrels a day. In point of size this is much above the average first Cow Run sand producer. In the same district, in the eastern section, the Hammond Oil Company has completed its second test well on the H. J. Alcock farm and has a 6-barrel pumper. In the same locality, Hannan & Co. have completed a test on the H. Rader farm and will have a light pumper, not good for more than 3 barrels a day.

In the Cow Run district, in the same county, William Reader has completed a second test well on the J. D. Lehner farm and drew a blank. The Adams pool, in Harrison county, is furnishing some very good producers. In that district, E. H. Jennings & Bros. and Prendenberger have completed their No. 4 on the John Patterson farm and have a show for a 50-barrel producer in the Berea grit. There is quite a little undeveloped territory in the south extension to the old development and more good producers will be found in that locality. Operators are starting some new work to the northeast of the pool. In addition to the work in the southern end of the pool there is considerable experimental work scattered throughout the county.

ADD 200 MEN TO FREIGHT CREWS

BETTER SERVICE ON WEST PENN

Two hundred men have been promoted in the freight train service of the local railroads in the past couple of weeks, and as many new men have been employed to take the places of those advanced in the service. In addition there are to be possibly half as many more men promoted and added to care for the enormous fall traffic. The increase of the freight train crews is not an unusual occurrence in the fall of each year, but the big increase in the number of men this fall is unusual. The railroad officers say that the men must be employed in the freight train service to handle the business now as well as to care for the gradually increasing traffic of this district. Following are figures from the local divisions:

Pittsburgh division, Pennsylvania railroad: Twelve new freight train crews added in the past two weeks, necessitating the promotion of 12 flagmen to conductors and 12 brakemen to flagmen and the addition of 12 new men to this service. Forty firemen are to be examined in a few days for promotion to enginemen, and it was said last evening that probably 30 of these men will be promoted to the right side of the cab immediately after the examination.

West Penn division, Pennsylvania: Fifteen new crews added, necessitating the promotion of 15 flagmen to conductors and 15 brakemen to flagmen and the addition of 15 new men. Fifteen firemen have been promoted to enginemen, necessitating the addition of 15 men as firemen.

Monongahela and Buffalo & Allegheny Valley divisions, Pennsylvania: Enginemen, conductors and flagmen who were "demoted" to firemen, flagmen and brakemen, when the slack traffic season was on last winter and spring, have been promoted, numbering about 50 men on each division.

Pittsburgh division, Panhandle: Six men employed as brakemen, six brakemen promoted to flagmen and six flagmen promoted to conductors. Twelve firemen promoted to enginemen and as many new men employed.

Eastern division, Ft. Wayne: Fifteen firemen promoted to enginemen and as many new men added to the firemen list. Extra conductors and flagmen promoted to regular service.

Pittsburgh division, Baltimore & Ohio: A class of 30 firemen examined and promoted to enginemen, and about the same number of brakemen promoted to conductors, with about 50 new men added to the crew list.

All divisions, Pittsburgh & Lake Erie: Nineteen firemen examined and promoted to enginemen, and a number of new men added to the firemen list. About a dozen new men employed as brakemen to take the places of brakemen promoted to conductors.

All divisions, Wabash lines east of Toledo: About 25 firemen and flagmen promoted and an equal number of new men employed.

Coach Passengers May Use Cafe Cars.

Ever since the Pennsylvania system has had in service the cafe cars, which are composed of a dining compartment and a library-smoking compartment, there has been a question of the use of the smoking compartment by coach passengers. The question has been: Shall coach passengers be allowed to use the smoking compartment without paying extra? The Pullman car passengers, of course, have had use of the cars at all times. A ruling on the use of the cars on the Pennsylvania railroad trains Nos. 15 and 12 by coach passengers has just been made as follows:

"It has been decided that this (smoking) room shall be available for any passengers who may patronize the cafe car; that is to say, after the passenger has been served in the cafe car, whether he be an occupant of the parlor car or coach, if he so desires, will be permitted to occupy the smoking room. This room is also available for coach passengers who may desire to have liquid refreshments served, but under no circumstances will the Pullman conductor collect fare from any passengers occupying this compartment."

Will Take No Trains Off West Penn.

Considerable interest was manifested yesterday in the expression from patrons of the West Penn division of the Pennsylvania regarding the taking off of several of the important local passenger trains. Inquiry was made of Supt. Robert T. Morrow with the result that the inquiries were answered with the news that no trains are to be taken from the present time card, but instead one of the local trains is to be extended. Mr. Morrow was in Altoona Tuesday conferring with other operating officers, regarding the fall schedule. He said last night:

"There is absolutely no foundation for the report that we intend to take off any of the trains from our present list. We need all of these trains to care for the business and will retain every one. In addition to this, we have under consideration the extension of the noon train from Tarentum to Butler Junction, and I think this will become effective with the new time card. The West Penn patrons can rest assured that the train service will be maintained to care for their wants."

Pulling Their Thumbs on Cars.

It was announced yesterday that the Baltimore & Ohio has issued very strict orders that none of its cars are to leave the Baltimore & Ohio lines and recently a similar ruling was reported by the Pennsylvania. Officers of the two systems said yesterday that such a thing is not only impossible, but would militate against business along the lines. The orders refer particularly to what may be termed an extraordinary use of the cars, as, for instance, to the shipment of freight in a large number of cars to some far distant point. In such a case the cars of lines reaching those points, or at least adjacent to them, are to be used when such cars are available. The reciprocal value of such shipments for the distant roads is evident at once, as the cars are to be hauled directly to their own lines. The strict ruling is made so as to secure the best possible service out of all of the cars. It was stated by officers of the Pennsylvania yesterday that the car supply was gratifying and increasing gradually.

Completing P., V. & C. Ballasting.

Work on the ballasting of the four-track portion of the Monongahela division of the Pennsylvania, which even the railroad officers high and low still refer to as the "P., V. & C.," is being rushed along. The four-track line extends 13½ miles from Pittsburgh to Duquesne. A portion of the ballasting was done earlier the summer, but almost half remained unfinished at the first of this month. Supt. A. G. Mitchell said last night that this work is to be completed before the end of the month. Rock ballast is being used.

Railroad Notes.

Gen. Supt. R. E. McCarty of the Panhandle was here conferring with the general officers of the Pennsylvania lines west.

Supt. T. C. Dabney of the River and Low Grade divisions of the Pennsylvania is spending a couple of days on an inspection trip.

The new Wabash time card will be effective November 19. Prospective changes in the passenger train service from here have not been announced.

"Railroad Accidents" and "Fuel Combustion" will be the subjects discussed at the meeting of the Central Railway club in Buffalo tomorrow night.

J. B. Drake, traveling passenger agent of the Burlington here, will spend the next few days at Chicago, in conference with the road's passenger officers.

Work has been started on the electrification of the West shore, between Rochester and Syracuse, N. Y., 400 men being employed. It is expected that the road will be ready for electric train service by next March.

The Chesapeake & Ohio is in the market for 4,000 coal cars in addition to the 1,500 that are being delivered now. President George W. Stevens says that the demand for West Virginia coal produced along the company's lines is more than the road can handle.

TO EXTEND REVIVAL.

Theater Is Engaged for an Additional Sunday Service.

Because of continued enthusiasm and interest in the revival being conducted by the Christian churches of Western Pennsylvania the Nixon theater has been engaged for an additional Sunday and five Sunday services instead of four will be held.

At the noon meeting held in the old Third Presbyterian church yesterday the speaker was the Rev. Crayton S. Brooks of Colorado Springs. At noon today the Rev. E. P. Wise of Cleveland will speak.

The Peoples Savings bank, Fourth avenue and Wood street, invites the accounts of women, such accounts being held in their own right and subject only to their orders. Married women should always open accounts in their Christian names. Write for booklet.

JEROME TEACHES LESSON.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Timothy L. Woodruff declared today in favor of a law providing for the direct nominations at primaries. The Kings county Republican organization will take up this matter and will prepare a bill to bring about this reform for presentation at the next legislature.

"It has been proved to me," Mr. Woodruff said, "that what the people want is the direct system of making nominations at the primaries. It is not impracticable, for it has been tried and has worked all right. The Jerome vote, more than any one thing, demonstrates to my mind that the people want to have something to say about the nominations."
